The board of the district may impose a museum district sales tax by resolution on all retail sales made in such museum district which are subject to taxation pursuant to the provisions of sections 144.010 to 144.525, RSMo. Such museum district sales tax may be imposed for any museum purpose designated by the board of the museum district. If the resolution is adopted the board of the district may submit the question of whether to impose a sales tax authorized by this section to either the legal voters of the district and/or to the owners of real property within the district who shall have the same voting interests as with the election of members of the board of the district.

2. The sales tax authorized by this section shall become effective on the first day of the second calendar quarter following adoption of the tax by the qualified voters.

3. In each museum district in which a sales tax has been imposed in the manner provided by this section, every retailer shall add the tax imposed by the museum district pursuant to this section to the retailer's sale price, and when so added such tax shall constitute a part of the price, shall be a debt of the purchaser to the retailer until paid, and shall be recoverable at law in the same manner as the purchase price.

4. In order to permit sellers required to collect and report the sales tax authorized by this section to collect the amount required to be reported and remitted, but not to change the requirements of reporting or remitting tax or to serve as a levy of the tax, and in order to avoid fractions of pennies, the museum district may establish appropriate brackets which shall be used in district imposing a tax pursuant to this section in lieu of those brackets provided in section 144.825, RSMo.

5. All revenue received by a museum district from the tax authorized by this section which has been designated for a certain museum purpose shall be deposited in a special trust fund and shall be used solely for such designated purpose. All funds remaining in the special trust fund shall continue to be used solely for such designated museum purpose. Any funds in such special trust fund which are not needed for current expenditures may be invested by the board of directors in accordance with applicable laws relating to the investment of other museum district funds.

6. The sales tax may be imposed at a rate of one-half of one percent, three-fourths of one percent or one percent on the receipts from the sale at retail of all tangible personal property or taxable services at retail within the museum district adopting such tax, if such property and services are subject to taxation by the state of Missouri pursuant to the provisions of sections 144.010 to 144.525, RSMo. Any museum district sales tax imposed pursuant to this section shall be imposed at a rate that shall be uniform throughout the district.

7. On and after the effective date of any tax imposed pursuant to this section, the museum district shall perform all functions incident to the administration, collection, enforcement, and operation of the tax. The tax imposed pursuant to this section shall be collected and reported upon such forms and under such administrative rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the museum district.

8. All applicable provisions contained in sections 144.010 to 144.525, RSMo, governing the state sales tax, sections 32.085 and 32.087, RSMo, and section 32.057, RSMo, the uniform confidentiality provision, shall apply to the collection of the tax imposed by this section, except as modified in this section.

9. All exemptions granted to agencies of government, organizations, persons and to the sale of certain articles and items of tangible personal property and taxable services pursuant to the provisions of sections 144.010 to 144.525, RSMo, are hereby made applicable to the imposition and collection of the tax imposed by this section.

10. The same sales tax permit, exemption certificate and retail certificate required by sections 144.010 to 144.525, RSMo for the administration and collection of the state sales tax shall satisfy the requirements of this section, and no additional permit or exemption certificate or retail certificate shall be required; except that the museum district may prescribe a form of exemption certificate for an exemption from the tax imposed by this section.

11. The penalties provided in section 32.057, RSMo, and sections 144.010 to 144.525, RSMo, for violation of those sections are hereby made applicable to violations of this section.

12. For the purpose of a sales tax imposed by a resolution pursuant to this section, all retail sales except retail sales of motor vehicles shall be deemed to be consummated at the place of business of the retailer unless the tangible personal property sold is delivered by the retailer or the retailer's agent to an out-of-state destination or to a common carrier for delivery to an out-of-state destination. In the event a retailer has more than one place of business in this state which participates in the sale, the sale shall be deemed to be consummated at the place of business of the retailer where the initial order for the tangible personal property is taken, even though the order shall be forwarded elsewhere for acceptance, approval of credit, shipment or billing. A sale by a retailer's employee shall be deemed to be consummated at the place of business form which the employee works.

13. All sales taxes collected by the museum district shall be deposited by the museum district in a special fund to be expended for the purposes authorized in this section. The museum district shall keep accurate records of the amount of money which was collected pursuant to this section, and the records shall be open to the inspection by the officers and directors of each museum district and the Missouri department of revenue. Tax returns filed by businesses with the district shall otherwise be considered as confidential in the same manner as sales tax returns filed with the Missouri department of revenue.

14. No museum district imposing a sales tax pursuant to this section may repeal or amend such sales tax unless such repeal or amendment will not impair the district's ability to repay any liabilities which it has incurred, money which it has borrowed or revenue bonds, notes or other obligations which it has issued or which have been issued to finance any project or projects.

184.850. 1. A district may contract and incur obligations appropriate to accomplish its purposes.

2. A district may enter into any lease or lease-purchase agreement for or with respect to any real or personal property necessary or convenient for its purposes.

3. A district may enter into operating agreements and/or management agreements with not for profit corporations to operate the museum or carry out any other authorized purposes of functions of the district.

4. A district may borrow money for its purposes at such rates of interest as the district may determine.

5. A district may issue bonds, notes and other obligations, and may secure any of such obligations by mortgage, pledge, assignment, security agreement or deed of trust of any or all of the property and income of the district, subject to the restrictions provided in sections 184.800 to 184.880. The district shall also have the power and authority to secure financing on the issuance of bonds for financing through another political subdivision or an agency of the state.

6. A district may enter into labor agreements, establish all bid conditions, decide all contract awards, pay all contractors and generally supervise the construction of the museum project.

184.860. 1. A district may at any time authorize or issue revenue bonds for the purpose of paying all or any part of the cost of any project. Every issue of such bonds shall be payable out of the revenues of the district and may be further secured by other property of the district which may be pledged, assigned, mortgaged, or a security interest granted for such payment, without preference or priority of the first bonds issued, subject to any agreement with the holders of any other bonds pledging any specified property or revenues. Such bonds shall be authorized by resolution of the board of the district, and if issued by the district, shall bear such date or dates, and shall mature at such time or times, but not in excess of forty years, as the resolution shall specify. Such bonds shall be in such denomination, bear interest at such rate or rates, be in such form, either coupon or registered, be issued as current interest bonds, compound interest bonds, variable rate bonds, convertible bonds, or zero coupon bonds, be issued in such manner, be payable in such place or places and subject to redemption as such resolution may provide notwithstanding the provisions of section 108.170, RSMo. The bonds may be sold at either public or private sale, at such interest rates, and at such price or prices as the district shall determine.

2. Any issue of district bonds outstanding may be refunded at any time by the district by issuing its refunding bonds in such amount as the district may deem necessary. Such bonds may not exceed the amount sufficient to refund the principal of the bonds so to be refunded together with any unpaid interest thereon and any premiums, commissions, service fees, and other expenses necessary to be paid in connection with the refunding. Any such refunding may be effected whether the bonds to be refunded then shall have matured or thereafter shall mature, either by sale of the refunding bonds and the application of the proceeds thereof to the payment of the bonds being refunded or by the exchange of the refunding bonds for the bonds being refunded with the consent of the holder or holders of the bonds being refunded. Refunding bonds may be issued regardless of whether the bonds being refunded were issued in connection with the same project or a separate project and regardless of whether the bonds proposed to be refunded shall be payable on the same date or different date or shall be due serially or otherwise.

3. Bonds issued pursuant to this section shall exclusively be the responsibility of the district and shall not constitute a debt or liability of the state of Missouri or any agency or political subdivision of the state other than the district. The district shall not be obligated to pay such bonds with any funds other than those specifically pledged to repayment of the bonds. Any bonds issued by a district shall state on their face that they are not obligations of the state of Missouri or any agency or political subdivision thereof other than the district.

4. Bonds issued pursuant to this section, the interest thereon, or any proceeds from such bonds shall be exempt from taxation in the state of Missouri for all purposes except the state estate tax.

184.865. The district may contract with a federal agency, a state or its agencies and political subdivisions, a corporation, partnership or individual regarding funding, promotion, planning, designing, constructing, improving, maintaining, or operating a project or to assist in such activity; provided, however, that any contract providing for the overall management and operation of the museum for the district shall only be with a governmental entity or a not for profit corporation.

184.870. In addition to all other powers granted by sections 184.800 to 184.880 the district shall have the following general powers:

(1) To sue and be sued in its own name, and to receive service of process, which shall be served upon the district secretary;

(2) To fix compensation of its employees and contractors;

(3) To purchase any personal property necessary or convenient for its activities;

(4) To collect and disburse funds for its activities; and

(5) To exercise such other implied powers necessary or convenient for the district to accomplish its purposes which are not inconsistent with its express powers.

184.880. 1. The district may obtain such insurance as it deems appropriate, considering its legal limits of liability, to protect itself, its officers and its employees from any potential liability and may also obtain such other types of insurance as it deems necessary to protect against loss of its real or personal property of any kind. The cost of this insurance shall be charged against the project.

2. The district may also require contractors performing construction or maintenance work on the project and companies providing operational and management services to obtain liability insurance having the district, its directors and employees as additional named insureds.

3. The district shall not attempt to self-insure for its potential liabilities unless it finds that it has sufficient funds available to cover any anticipated judgments or settlements and still complete its project without interruption. The district may self-insure if it is unable to obtain liability insurance coverage at a rate which is economically feasible to the district, considering its resources.".

(2) The loan with respect to the project is adequately secured by a first deed of trust or mortgage or comparable lien, or other security satisfactory to the board.

2. Section 52. A company may amend its articles of incorporation by complying with the following requirements:

(1) The proposed amendment shall be first approved by the board of directors and shall then be submitted to a vote of the members at any annual or special meeting thereof, the notice of which shall set forth the proposed amendment. The proposed amendment, with such changes as the members shall choose to make therein, shall be deemed to be approved on the affirmative vote of not less than two-thirds of those members voting thereon at such meeting; and

(2) (a) Upon such approval by the members, articles of amendment shall be executed and acknowledged in duplicate on behalf of the company by its president or vice president and its corporate seal shall be affixed thereto and attested by its secretary. The articles of amendment shall recite in the caption that they are executed pursuant to sections 49 to 66 of this act and shall state:

a. The name of the company;

b. The address of its principal office;

c. The date of the filing of its articles of incorporation in the office of the secretary of state; and

d. The amendment to its articles of incorporation;

(b) The president or vice president executing such articles of amendment shall also make and annex to each copy thereof an affidavit stating that the provisions of sections 49 to 66 of this act were duly complied with;

(c) Such articles of amendment and affidavit shall be submitted to the secretary of state for filing.

Section 53. A company may, upon authorization of a majority of the members at any regular or special meeting, change the location of its principal office by filing a certificate of change of principal office, executed and acknowledged in duplicate by its president or vice president under its seal attested by its secretary, in the office of the secretary of state. Such company shall also, within thirty days after the filing of such certificate of change of principal office, file certified copies of its articles of incorporation and all amendments thereto, if the same are not already on file.

Section 54. 1. 2. If the secretary of state shall find that the articles presented conform to the requirements of sections 49 to 66 of this act, he shall file one copy of the articles so presented in the records of his office and upon such filing the incorporation, amendment, consolidation, merger, conversion, or dissolution provided for therein shall be in effect.

Section 55. The provisions of the securities law of Missouri shall not apply to any note, bond or other evidence of indebtedness issued by any nonprofit sewer company transacting business in this state pursuant to sections 49 to 66 of this act to the United States of America or to any agency or instrumentality thereof, or to any mortgage or deed of trust executed to secure the same. The provisions of such securities law of Missouri shall not apply to the issuance of membership certificates by any nonprofit sewer company.

Section 56. 1. No person shall become a member of a nonprofit sewer company unless such person shall agree to use water or services furnished by the company when such shall be available through its facilities. The bylaws of a company may provide that any person, including an incorporator, shall cease to be a member thereof if such person shall fail or refuse to use water or services made available by the company or if water or services shall not be made available to such person by the company within a specified time after such person shall have become a member thereof. Membership in the company shall not be transferable, except as provided in the bylaws. The bylaws may prescribe additional qualifications and limitations in respect of membership.

2. An annual meeting of the members shall be held at such time as shall be provided in the bylaws.

3. Special meetings of the members may be called by the board of directors, by any three directors, by not less than ten percent of the members or by the president.

4. Meetings of members shall be held at such place as may be provided in the bylaws. In the absence of any such provisions, all meetings shall be held in the city or town in which the principal office of the company is located.

5. Except as otherwise provided in sections 49 to 66 of this act, written or printed notice stating the time and place of each meeting of members and, in the case of a special meeting, the purpose or purposes for which the meeting is called, shall be given to each member, either personally or by mail, not less than ten nor more than twenty-five days before the date of the meeting.

6. Two percent of the members, present in person or by mail or proxy shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business at all meetings of the members, unless the bylaws prescribe the presence of a greater percentage of the members for a quorum. If less than a quorum is present at any meeting, a majority of those present in person may adjourn the meeting from time to time without further notice.

7. Each member shall be entitled to one vote on each matter submitted to a vote at a meeting. Voting shall be in person, but, if the bylaws so provide, may also be by proxy or by mail, or both. If the bylaws provide for voting by proxy or by mail, they shall also prescribe the conditions under which proxy or mail voting shall be exercised.

Section 57. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the bylaws may provide that the territory in which a company supplies water and waste water services may be divided into two or more voting districts for the purpose of properly distributing its directors over the area in which its members reside. In such case the bylaws shall prescribe the manner in which such voting districts shall function in the election of directors at annual meetings.

Section 58. 1. The business and affairs of a company shall be managed by a board of not less than five directors, each of whom shall be a member of the company. The bylaws shall prescribe the number of directors, their qualifications, other than those provided for in sections 49 to 66 of this act, the manner of holding meetings of the board of directors and of the election of successors to directors who shall resign, die, or otherwise be incapable of acting. The bylaws may also provide for the removal of directors from office and for the election of their successors. Without approval of the members, directors shall not receive any salaries for their services as directors. The bylaws may, however, provide that a fixed fee and expenses of attendance, if any, may be allowed to each director for attendance at each meeting of the board of directors.

2. The directors of a company named in any articles of incorporation, consolidation, merger or conversion, as the case may be, shall hold office until the next following annual meeting of the members or until their successors shall have been elected and qualified.

3. The bylaws shall provide that the directors shall be divided into three classes, each class to be as nearly equal in number as possible, with the term of office of the directors of the first class to expire at the next succeeding annual meeting and the term of the second class to expire at the second succeeding annual meeting, and the term of the third class to expire at the third succeeding annual meeting. At each annual meeting after such classification a number of directors equal to the number of the class whose term expires at the time of such meeting shall be elected to hold office until the third succeeding annual meeting.

4. A majority of the board of directors shall constitute a quorum.

5. The board of directors may exercise all of the powers of a company except such as are conferred upon the members by sections 49 to 66 of this act, or its articles of incorporation or bylaws. Nothing in sections 49 to 66 of this act shall be deemed to prohibit a nonprofit sewer company from contracting with any other person or entity for any services needed by the nonprofit sewer company including, but not limited to, management or operations services.

Section 59. The officers of a nonprofit sewer company shall consist of a president, vice president, secretary and treasurer, who shall be elected annually. No person shall continue to hold the offices of president or vice president after he shall have ceased to be a director. The offices of secretary and of treasurer may be held by the same person and need not be a member of the board of directors. The board of directors may also elect or appoint such other officers, agents, or employees as it shall deem necessary or advisable and shall prescribe the powers and duties thereof. Any officer may be removed from office and his successor elected in the manner prescribed in the bylaws.

Section 60. 1. Every nonprofit sewer company constructing, maintaining and operating its water and waste water lines and treatment facilities shall construct, maintain and operate such lines and facilities in conformity with the rules and regulations relating to the manner and methods of construction, maintenance and operation and as to safety of the public with other lines and facilities now or hereafter from time to time prescribed by the department of natural resources for the construction, maintenance and operation of such lines or systems. The jurisdiction, supervision, powers and duties of the department of natural resources shall extend to every such nonprofit sewer company so far as it concerns the construction, maintenance and operation of the physical equipment of such company to the extent of providing for the safety of the public and the elimination or lessening of environmental hazards and of providing for the safety of employees and the general public.

2. The public service commission shall not have jurisdiction over the construction, maintenance or operation of the water and waste water facilities, service, rates, financing, accounting or management of any nonprofit sewer company.

Section 61. Revenues of a nonprofit sewer company for any fiscal year in excess of the amount thereof necessary:

(1) To defray expenses of the company and of the operation and maintenance of its facilities during such fiscal year;

(2) To pay interest and principal obligations of the company coming due in such fiscal year;

(3) To finance, or to provide a reserve for the financing of, the construction or acquisition by the company of additional facilities to the extent determined by the board of directors;

(4) To provide a reasonable reserve for working capital;

(5) To provide a reserve for the payment of indebtedness of the company maturing more than one year after the date of the incurrence of such indebtedness in an amount not less than the total of the interest and principal payments in respect thereof required to be made during the next following fiscal year; and shall, unless otherwise determined by a vote of the members, be distributed by the company to its members as patronage refunds prorated in accordance with the patronage of the company by the respective members paid for during such fiscal year.

(6) To provide a fund for education in the effective use of services made available by the company;

Section 62. Nothing herein contained shall be construed to prohibit the payment by a company of all or any part of its indebtedness prior to the date when the same shall become due.

Section 63. 1. A nonprofit sewer company which has not commenced business may dissolve voluntarily by delivering to the secretary of state articles of dissolution, executed and acknowledged in duplicate on behalf of the company by a majority of the incorporators, which shall state:

(1) The name of the nonprofit sewer company;

(2) The address of its principal office;

(3) The date of its incorporation;

(4) That the company has not commenced business;

(5) That the amount, if any, actually paid in on account of membership fees, less any part thereof disbursed for necessary expenses, has been returned to those entitled thereto and that all easements shall have been released to the grantors;

(6) That no debt of the company remains unpaid; and

(7) That a majority of the incorporators elect that the company be dissolved.

2. Such articles of dissolution shall be submitted to the secretary of state for filing.

Section 64. A nonprofit sewer company which has commenced business may dissolve voluntarily and wind up its affairs in the following manner:

(1) The board of directors shall first recommend that the company be dissolved voluntarily and thereafter the proposition that the company be dissolved shall be submitted to the members of the company at any annual or special meeting, the notice of which shall set forth such proposition. The proposed voluntary dissolution shall be deemed to be approved upon the affirmative vote of not less than a majority of the members;

(2) Upon such approval, a certificate of election to dissolve, herein designated the "certificate", shall be executed and acknowledged in duplicate on behalf of the company by its president or vice president, and its corporate seal shall be affixed thereto and attested by its secretary. The certificate shall state:

(a) The name of the nonprofit sewer company;

(b) The address of its principal office;

(c) The names and addresses of its directors; and

(d) The total number of members of the company and the number of members who voted for and against the voluntary dissolution of the company.

The president or vice president executing the certificate shall also make and annex thereto an affidavit stating that the provisions of this subdivision and subdivision (1) of this section were duly complied with. Such certificate and affidavit shall be submitted to the secretary of state for filing;

(3) Upon the filing of the certificate and affidavit by the secretary of state, the company shall cease to carry on its business except insofar as may be necessary for the winding up thereof, but its corporate existence shall continue until articles of dissolution have been filed by the secretary of state;

(4) After the filing of the certificate and affidavit by the secretary of state the board of directors shall immediately cause notice of the winding up proceedings to be mailed to each known creditor and claimant and to be published once a week for two successive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation in the county in which the principal office of the company is located;

(5) The board of directors shall become trustees and have full power to wind up and settle the affairs of the company and shall proceed to collect the debts owing to the company, convey and dispose of its property and assets, pay, satisfy, and discharge its debts, obligations, and liabilities, and do all other things required to liquidate its business and affairs, and after paying or adequately providing for the payment of all its debts, obligations and liabilities, shall distribute the remainder of its property and assets among its members in proportion to the aggregate patronage of each such member during the seven years next preceding the date of such filing of the certificate, or, if the company shall not have been in existence for such period, during the period of its existence; and

(6) (a) When all debts, liabilities and obligations of the company have been paid and discharged or adequate provision shall have been made therefor, and all of the remaining property and assets of the company shall have been distributed to the members pursuant to the provisions of sections 49 to 66 of this act, the board of directors shall authorize the execution of articles of dissolution which shall thereupon be executed and acknowledged on behalf of the company by its president or vice president, and its corporate seal shall be affixed thereto and attested by its secretary. Such articles of dissolution shall recite in the caption that they are executed pursuant to sections 49 to 66 of this act and shall state:

a. The name of the nonprofit sewer company;

b. The address of the principal office of the company;

c. That the company has heretofore delivered to the secretary of state a certificate of election to dissolve and the date on which the certificate was filed by the secretary of state in the records of his office;

d. That all debts, obligations and liabilities of the company have been paid and discharged or that adequate provision has been made therefor;

e. That all the remaining property and assets of the company have been distributed among the members in accordance with the provisions of sections 49 to 66 of this act; and

f. That there are no actions or suits pending against the company;

(b) The president or vice president executing the articles of dissolution shall also make and annex thereto an affidavit stating that the provisions of this section were duly complied with;

(c) Such articles of dissolution and affidavit, accompanied by proof of the publication required in this section, shall be submitted to the secretary of state for filing.

Section 65. Sections 49 to 66 of this act shall be construed liberally. The enumeration of any object, purpose, power, manner, method or thing shall not be deemed to exclude like or similar objects, purposes, powers, manners, methods or things. To the extent that sections 49 to 66 of this act does not speak to an issue, the provisions applicable to mutual benefit not for profit corporations or limited liability companies, as the nonprofit sewer company may elect in its articles of incorporation, which are not inconsistent with the provisions of sections 49 to 66 of this act shall apply to nonprofit sewer companies.

Section 66. The private property of the members of a nonprofit sewer company shall be exempt from execution for the debts of the company and no member shall be liable or responsible for any debts of the company.

Section 67. 1. Any entity authorized by law to engage in the business of offering waste water disposal or treatment services may apply to the department of natural resources to be designated as the sole regional or watershed supplier of such services.

2. The application to be designated as a regional or watershed supplier shall be on a form as developed by the department and shall at a minimum provide the following information:

(1) The region or watershed for which the applicant intends to provide service defined on a meets and bounds basis;

(8) A description of the standards that the applicant will require of other entities that will wish to connect with the applicant's collection and treatment systems.

3. Once a regional or watershed provider of waste water collection and treatment is approved by the department, no other person or entity may construct or operate collection or treatment facilities within the designated region or watershed except pursuant to the approved regional or watershed plan.

4. The department of natural resources shall give preference to regional or watershed providers in all of its licensing, permitting, and administration of loan and grant funds functions.

5. In evaluating among competing applicants to be a regional or watershed provider, the department shall give preference to those providers most likely to provide a stable, long-term solution without regard to the type of entity the applicant may be. Joint applications from existing providers of waste water collection and treatment services within the region or watershed shall be given preference.

6. Pricing of services by regional or watershed providers shall be set by such provider in the same manner the provider sets all other rates and charges and shall be on a nondiscriminatory basis with each user bearing its fair share of the costs of providing service to that user. "99.845. 1. A municipality, either at the time a redevelopment project is approved or, in the event a municipality has undertaken acts establishing a redevelopment plan and redevelopment project and has designated a redevelopment area after the passage and approval of sections 99.800 to 99.865 but prior to August 13, 1982, which acts are in conformance with the procedures of sections 99.800 to 99.865, may adopt tax increment allocation financing by passing an ordinance providing that after the total equalized assessed valuation of the taxable real property in a redevelopment project exceeds the certified total initial equalized assessed valuation of the taxable real property in the redevelopment project, the ad valorem taxes, and payments in lieu of taxes, if any, arising from the levies upon taxable real property in such redevelopment project by taxing districts and tax rates determined in the manner provided in subsection 2 of section 99.855 each year after the effective date of the ordinance until redevelopment costs have been paid shall be divided as follows:

(1) That portion of taxes, penalties and interest levied upon each taxable lot, block, tract, or parcel of real property which is attributable to the initial equalized assessed value of each such taxable lot, block, tract, or parcel of real property in the area selected for the redevelopment project shall be allocated to and, when collected, shall be paid by the county collector to the respective affected taxing districts in the manner required by law in the absence of the adoption of tax increment allocation financing;

(2) Payments in lieu of taxes, and any applicable penalty and interest, attributable to the increase in the current equalized assessed valuation of each taxable lot, block, tract, or parcel of real property in the area selected for the redevelopment project over and above the initial equalized assessed value of each such unit of property in the area selected for the redevelopment project shall be allocated to and, when collected, shall be paid to the municipal treasurer who shall deposit such payment in lieu of taxes into a special fund called the "Special Allocation Fund" of the municipality for the purpose of paying redevelopment costs and obligations incurred in the payment thereof. Payments in lieu of taxes which are due and owing shall constitute a lien against the real estate of the redevelopment project from which they are derived and shall be collected in the same manner as the real property tax, including the assessment of penalties and interest where applicable. The municipality may, in the ordinance, pledge the funds in the special allocation fund for the payment of such costs and obligations and provide for the collection of payments in lieu of taxes, the lien of which may be foreclosed in the same manner as a special assessment lien as provided in section 88.861, RSMo. No part of the current equalized assessed valuation of each lot, block, tract, or parcel of property in the area selected for the redevelopment project attributable to any increase above the total initial equalized assessed value of such properties shall be used in calculating the general state school aid formula provided for in section 163.031, RSMo, until such time as all redevelopment costs have been paid as provided for in this section and section 99.850[.];

(3) For purposes of this section, "levies upon real property in such redevelopment project by taxing districts" shall not include the blind pension fund tax levied by article X, section 38(b) of the Missouri Constitution.

2. In addition to the payments in lieu of taxes described in subdivision (2) of subsection 1 of this section, for redevelopment plans and projects adopted or redevelopment projects approved by ordinance after July 12, 1990, and prior to August 31, 1991, fifty percent of the total additional revenue from taxes, penalty and interest imposed by the municipality, or other taxing districts, which are generated by economic activities within the area of the redevelopment project over the amount of such taxes generated by economic activities within the area of the redevelopment project in the calendar year prior to the adoption of the redevelopment project by ordinance, while tax increment financing remains in effect, but excluding sales and use taxes on motor vehicles, trailers, boats and outboard motors, taxes imposed on sales or charges for sleeping rooms paid by transient guests of hotels and motels, taxes levied pursuant to section 70.500, RSMo, licenses, fees or special assessments other than payments in lieu of taxes and any penalty and interest thereon, shall be allocated to, and paid by the collecting officer to the treasurer or other designated financial officer of the municipality, who shall deposit such funds in a separate segregated account within the special allocation fund. Any provision of an agreement, contract or covenant entered into prior to July 12, 1990, between a municipality and any other political subdivision which provides for an appropriation of other municipal revenues to the special allocation fund shall be and remain enforceable.

3. In addition to the payments in lieu of taxes described in subdivision (2) of subsection 1 of this section, for redevelopment plans and projects adopted or redevelopment projects approved by ordinance after August 31, 1991, fifty percent of the total additional revenue from taxes, penalty and interest which are imposed by the municipality or other taxing districts, and which are generated by economic activities within the area of the redevelopment project over the amount of such taxes generated by economic activities within the area of the redevelopment project in the calendar year prior to the adoption of the redevelopment project by ordinance, while tax increment financing remains in effect, but excluding personal property taxes, sales and use taxes on motor vehicles, trailers, boats and outboard motors, taxes imposed on sales or charges for sleeping rooms paid by transient guests of hotels and motels, taxes levied pursuant to section 70.500, RSMo, licenses, and fees or special assessments [and personal property taxes], other than payments in lieu of taxes and penalty and interest thereon, shall be allocated to, and paid by the collecting officer to the treasurer or other designated financial officer of the municipality, who shall deposit such funds in a separate segregated account within the special allocation fund.

4. Beginning January 1, 1998, for redevelopment plans and projects adopted or redevelopment projects approved by ordinance after August 31, 1991, in addition to the payments in lieu of taxes and economic activity taxes described in subsections 1, 2 and 3 of this section, up to fifty percent of new state revenues as defined in this section, reported by businesses within the redevelopment area as identified by the municipality over and above the amount of such taxes reported by businesses within the redevelopment area as identified by the municipality in the calendar year prior to the approval of the redevelopment project by ordinance, while tax increment financing remains in effect, shall be rebated to, and paid by the director of the department of revenue according to rules promulgated by the department, pursuant to section 536.024, RSMo, to the treasurer or other designated financial officer of the municipality who shall deposit such funds in a separate segregated account within the special allocation fund established pursuant to section 99.805. For all redevelopment plans or projects adopted after the effective date of this act, new revenues from state taxes shall not be rebated or deposited into the special allocation fund unless the municipality's redevelopment plan ensures that one hundred percent of payments in lieu of taxes and fifty percent of economic activity taxes generated by the project shall be used for eligible redevelopment project costs for twenty-three years following the adoption of the ordinance approving the redevelopment project. This account shall be separate from the account into which payments in lieu of taxes are deposited, and separate from the account into which economic activity taxes are deposited.

5. Subsection 4 of this section shall apply only to blighted areas located within state enterprise zones or federal empowerment zones which, at the time of the approval of the project by ordinance:

6. The rebate of fifty percent of new state revenues authorized pursuant to subsection 4 of this section shall not be rebated by the department of revenue to a municipality until all of the following conditions have been satisfied:

(1) The department of economic development and the commissioner of administration have approved an application made to the department of economic development by the municipality for the rebate of new state revenues. For new projects approved after August 28, 1997, such application must be made at least one month prior to the adoption by the municipality of an ordinance approving a redevelopment project;

(2) The affidavit required by section 99.810 shall specify that the redevelopment area would not be reasonably anticipated to be developed without the rebate of the new state revenues. Such affidavit shall be signed by the developer or developers attesting that the provisions of subdivision (1) of section 99.810 have been met; and

(3) The cost-benefit analysis required by section 99.810 includes a fiscal impact study upon the state of Missouri.

7. In addition to those areas authorized in subsection 5 of this section, the rebate authorized pursuant to subsection 4 of this section shall also be available in a federally approved levee district, where construction of a levee begins after the effective date of this act, and which are contained within a county of the first classification without a charter form of government which contains part of a city in excess of three hundred fifty thousand residents.

8. There is hereby established within the state treasury a special fund to be known as the "Missouri Tax Increment Financing Fund", to be administered by the department of revenue. The department shall annually credit to the Missouri tax increment financing fund the tax authorized under the provisions of subsection 4 of this section. The fund shall also consist of any gifts, contributions, grants, or bequests received from federal, private, or other sources. Moneys in the Missouri tax increment financing fund shall be disbursed pursuant to appropriations by the general assembly. The department shall disburse such appropriated funds in a timely manner into the separate, segregated account as authorized by subsection 4 of this section. All moneys remaining in the Missouri tax increment financing fund at the end of the fiscal year shall not lapse to the general revenue fund, as provided in section 33.080, RSMo, but shall remain in the Missouri tax increment financing fund.".

Further amend said bill, Page 32, Section 184.880, Line 7, by inserting after all of said line the following:

"321.300. 1. The boundaries of any district organized [under] pursuant to the provisions of this chapter may be changed in the manner [herein] prescribed in this section; but any change of boundaries of the district shall not impair or affect its organization or its rights in or to property, or any of its rights or privileges whatsoever; nor shall it affect or impair or discharge any contract, obligation, lien or charge for or upon which it might be liable or chargeable had any change of boundaries not been made.

2. The boundaries may be changed as follows:

(1) [Seventy-five percent of the owners of any territory or tract of land near or adjacent to a fire protection district who own not less than fifty percent of the real estate in such territory or tract of land and not located within only a part of any municipality or another fire protection district] Twenty-five percent of the number of voters who voted in the most recent gubernatorial election in the area to be annexed may file with the board a petition in writing praying that such real property be included within the district; provided that in the case of a municipality having less than twenty percent of its total population in one fire protection district, the entire remaining portion may be included in another district so that none of the city is outside of a fire protection district at the time. The petition shall describe the property to be included in the district and shall describe the property owned by the petitioners and shall be deemed to give assent of the petitioners to the inclusion in the district of the property described in the petition; and such petition shall be in substantially the form set forth in section 321.495 dealing with referendums and verified in like manner; provided, however, that [in cases wherein the territory to be annexed contains more than two hundred taxpaying electors, a petition signed by at least one hundred taxpaying electors shall be sufficient, and] in the event that there are more than twenty-five property owners or taxpaying electors signing the petition, it shall be deemed sufficient description of their property in the petition as required in this section to list the addresses of such property; or

(2) All of the owners of any territory or tract of land near or adjacent to a fire protection district who own all of the real estate in such territory or tract of land may file a petition with the board praying that such real property be included in the district. The petition shall describe the property owned by the petitioners and shall be deemed to give assent of the petitioners to the inclusion in the district of the property described in the petition;

(3) Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, in any fire protection district which is partly or wholly located in a noncharter county of the first classification with a population of less than one hundred thousand which adjoins any county of the first classification with a charter form of government with a population of nine hundred thousand or more inhabitants, if such fire protection district serves any portion of a city which is located in both such counties, the boundaries of the district may be expanded so as to include the entire city within the fire protection district, but the boundaries of the district shall not be expanded beyond the city limits of such city, as the boundaries of such city existed on January 1, 1993. Such change in the boundaries of the district shall be accomplished only if [seventy-five percent of the owners of any territory or tract of land within that part of the city which is not within the fire protection district] twenty-five percent of the number of voters who voted in the most recent gubernatorial election in the area to be annexed file with the board a petition in writing praying that such real property be included within the district. The petition shall describe the property to be included in the district and shall describe the property owned by the petitioners and shall be deemed to give assent of the petitioners to the inclusion in the district of the property described in the petition; and such petition shall be in substantially the form set forth in section 321.495 dealing with referendums and verified in like manner.

3. The secretary of the board shall cause notice of the filing of any petition filed pursuant to this section to be given and published in the county in which the property is located, which notice shall recite the filing of such petition, the number of petitioners, a general description of the boundaries of the area proposed to be included and the prayer of the petitioners; giving notice to all persons interested to appear at the office of the board at the time named in the notice and show cause in writing, if any they have, why the petition should not be granted. The board shall at the time and place mentioned, or at such time or times to which the hearing may be adjourned, proceed to hear the petition and all objections thereto presented in writing by any person showing cause why the petition should not be granted. The failure of any person interested to show cause in writing why such petition shall not be granted shall be deemed as an assent on his part to the inclusion of such lands in the district as prayed for in the petition.

4. If the board deems it for the best interest of the district, it shall grant the petition, but if the board determines that some portion of the property mentioned in the petition cannot as a practical matter be served by the district, or if it deems it for the best interest of the district that some portion of the property in the petition not be included in the district, then the board shall grant the petition in part only. If the petition is granted, the board shall make an order to that effect and file the same with the circuit clerk; and upon the order of the court having jurisdiction over the district, the property shall be included in the district. If the petition contains the signatures of all the owners of the property pursuant to the provisions of subdivision (2) of subsection 2 of this section, the property shall be included in the district upon the order of the court. If the petition contains the signatures of [seventy-five percent of the property owners] twenty-five percent of the number of voters who voted in the most recent gubernatorial election in the area to be annexed pursuant to subdivision (1) or subdivision (3) of subsection 2 of this section, the property shall be included in the district subject to the election provided in section 321.301. The circuit court having jurisdiction over the district shall proceed to make any such order including such additional property within the district as is provided in the order of the board, unless the court shall find that such order of the board was not authorized by law or that such order of the board was not supported by competent and substantial evidence.

5. Any person aggrieved by any decision of the board made pursuant to the provisions of this section may appeal that decision to the circuit court of the county in which the property is located within thirty days of the decision by the board.

6. No fire protection district, or employee thereof, in which territory is annexed pursuant to this section shall be required to comply with any prescribed firefighter training program or regimen which would not otherwise apply to the district or its employees, but for the requirements applicable to the annexed territory.".

"287.020. 1. The word "employee" as used in this chapter shall be construed to mean every person in the service of any employer, as defined in this chapter, under any contract of hire, express or implied, oral or written, or under any appointment or election, including executive officers of corporations. Any reference to any employee who has been injured shall, when the employee is dead, also include his dependents, and other persons to whom compensation may be payable. The word "employee" shall also include all minors who work for an employer, whether or not such minors are employed in violation of law, and all such minors are hereby made of full age for all purposes under, in connection with, or arising out of this chapter. [The word "employee" shall not include an individual who is the owner and operator of a motor vehicle which is leased or contracted with a driver to a for-hire common or contract motor vehicle carrier operating within a commercial zone as defined in section 390.020 or 390.041, RSMo, or operating under a certificate issued by the transportation division of the department of economic development or by the interstate commerce commission.]

2. The word "accident" as used in this chapter shall, unless a different meaning is clearly indicated by the context, be construed to mean an unexpected or unforeseen identifiable event or series of events happening suddenly and violently, with or without human fault, and producing at the time objective symptoms of an injury. An injury is compensable if it is clearly work related. An injury is clearly work related if work was a substantial factor in the cause of the resulting medical condition or disability. An injury is not compensable merely because work was a triggering or precipitating factor.

3. (1) In this chapter the term "injury" is hereby defined to be an injury which has arisen out of and in the course of employment. The injury must be incidental to and not independent of the relation of employer and employee. Ordinary, gradual deterioration or progressive degeneration of the body caused by aging shall not be compensable, except where the deterioration or degeneration follows as an incident of employment.

(2) An injury shall be deemed to arise out of and in the course of the employment only if:

(a) It is reasonably apparent, upon consideration of all the circumstances, that the employment is a substantial factor in causing the injury; and

(b) It can be seen to have followed as a natural incident of the work; and

(c) It can be fairly traced to the employment as a proximate cause; and

(d) It does not come from a hazard or risk unrelated to the employment to which workers would have been equally exposed outside of and unrelated to the employment in normal nonemployment life;

(3) The terms "injury" and "personal injuries" shall mean violence to the physical structure of the body and to the personal property which is used to make up the physical structure of the body, such as artificial dentures, artificial limbs, glass eyes, eyeglasses, and other prostheses which are placed in or on the body to replace the physical structure and such disease or infection as naturally results therefrom. These terms shall in no case except as specifically provided in this chapter be construed to include occupational disease in any form, nor shall they be construed to include any contagious or infectious disease contracted during the course of the employment, nor shall they include death due to natural causes occurring while the worker is at work.

4. "Death" when mentioned as a basis for the right to compensation means only death resulting from such violence and its resultant effects occurring within three hundred weeks after the accident; except that in cases of occupational disease, the limitation of three hundred weeks shall not be applicable.

5. Without otherwise affecting either the meaning or interpretation of the abridged clause, "personal injuries arising out of and in the course of such employment", it is hereby declared not to cover workers except while engaged in or about the premises where their duties are being performed, or where their services require their presence as a part of such service.

6. A person who is employed by the same employer for more than five and one-half consecutive work days shall for the purpose of this chapter be considered an "employee".

7. The term "total disability" as used in this chapter shall mean inability to return to any employment and not merely mean inability to return to the employment in which the employee was engaged at the time of the accident.

8. As used in this chapter and all acts amendatory thereof, the term "commission" shall hereafter be construed as meaning and referring exclusively to the labor and industrial relations commission of Missouri, and the term "director" shall hereafter be construed as meaning the director of the department of insurance of the state of Missouri or such agency of government as shall exercise the powers and duties now conferred and imposed upon the department of insurance of the state of Missouri.

9. The term "division" as used in this chapter means the division of workers' compensation of the department of labor and industrial relations of the state of Missouri.

10. For the purposes of this chapter, the term "minor" means a person who has not attained the age of eighteen years; except that, for the purpose of computing the compensation provided for in this chapter, the provisions of section 287.250 shall control.

287.030. 1. The word "employer" as used in this chapter shall be construed to mean:

(1) Every person, or sole proprietor, limited liability partners, partners or copartners comprising a partnership, association, corporation, trustee, receiver, the legal representatives of a deceased employer, and every other person, including any person or corporation operating a railroad and any public service corporation, using the service of another for pay;

(2) The state, county, municipal corporation, township, school or road, drainage, swamp and levee districts, or school boards, board of education, regents, curators, managers or control commission, board or any other political subdivision, corporation, or quasi-corporation, or cities under special charter, or under the commission form of government;

(3) Any of the above defined employers must have five or more employees to be deemed an employer for the purposes of this chapter unless election is made to become subject to the provisions of this chapter as provided in subsection 2 of section 287.090, except that construction industry employers who erect, demolish, alter or repair improvements shall be deemed an employer for the purposes of this chapter if they have one or more employees.

2. Any reference to the employer shall also include his insurer.

[287.037. Notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary, beginning January 1, 1997, those insurance companies providing coverage pursuant to chapter 287, to a limited liability company, as defined in section 347.015, RSMo, shall provide coverage for the employees of the limited liability company who are not members of the limited liability company. Members of the limited liability company, as defined in section 347.015, RSMo, shall also be provided coverage pursuant to chapter 287, but such members may individually elect to reject such coverage by providing a written notice of such rejection on a form developed by the department of insurance to the limited liability company and its insurer. Failure to provide notice to the limited liability company shall not be grounds for any member to claim that the rejection of such coverage is not legally effective. A member who elects to reject such coverage shall not thereafter be entitled to workers' compensation benefits under the policy, even if serving or working in the capacity of an employee of the limited liability company, at least until such time as said member provides the limited liability company and its insurer with a written notice which rescinds the prior rejection of such coverage. The written notice which rescinds the prior rejection of such coverage shall be on a form developed by the department of insurance. Any rescission shall be prospective in nature and shall entitle the member only to such benefits which accrue on or after the date the notice of rescission form is received by the insurance company.]

287.061. 1. Any city or county which issues an occupational or business license for a contractor in the construction industry shall require a certificate of insurance for workers' compensation coverage [if the applicant for the license is required to cover his liability under this chapter.] or an affidavit, the form of which shall be provided by the division of worker's compensation, signed by the applicant attesting that he or she is exempt.

2. Any [applicant] contractor who fails to comply with the provisions of subsection 1 of this section shall be denied such a license until [he] such person furnishes a certificate of insurance.

3. It is unlawful, pursuant to section 287.128, for any [applicant] contractor to provide fraudulent information pursuant to this section.

4. Nothing in this section shall be construed to create or constitute a liability to or a cause of action against a city or county in regard to the issuance of any license pursuant to this section.

[287.090. 1. This chapter shall not apply to:

(1) Employment of farm labor, domestic servants in a private home, including family chauffeurs, or occasional labor performed for and related to a private household;

(2) Any worker who is a member of the employer's family within the third degree of affinity or consanguinity but such shall be included in the total number of employees of such employer for purposes of subdivision (3) of subsection 1 of section 287.030;

(3) Qualified real estate agents and direct sellers as those terms are defined in section 3508 of title 26 United States Code;

(4) Employment where the person employed is an inmate confined in a state prison, penitentiary or county or municipal jail, or a patient or resident in a state mental health facility, and the labor or services of such inmate, patient, or resident are exclusively on behalf of the state, county or municipality having custody of said inmate, patient, or resident. Nothing in this subdivision is intended to exempt employment where the inmate, patient or resident was hired by a state, county or municipal government agency after direct competition with persons who are not inmates, patients or residents and the compensation for the position of employment is not contingent upon or affected by the worker's status as an inmate, patient or resident;

(5) Volunteers of a tax-exempt organization which operates under the standards of section 501(c)(3) of the federal Internal Revenue Code, where such volunteers are not paid wages, but provide services purely on a charitable and voluntary basis;

(6) Persons providing services as adjudicators, sports officials, or contest workers for interscholastic activities programs or similar amateur youth programs who are not otherwise employed by the sponsoring school, association of schools or nonprofit tax-exempt organization sponsoring the amateur youth programs.

2. Any employer in this section exempted under subsection 1 of this section may bring himself within the provisions of this chapter by filing with the division notice of his election to accept the provisions, or by the purchasing and accepting by the employer of a valid compensation insurance policy, and the election by the purchase and acceptance of the insurance policy shall include the exempted employments described in subsection 1 of this section if such intent is shown by the terms of the policy. The election shall take effect and continue from the date of filing with the division by the employer of his election to accept liability under this chapter, or from the effective date of the insurance policy. Any employer electing to become liable under this chapter may withdraw his election by filing with the division a notice that he desires to withdraw his election, which withdrawal shall take effect thirty days after the date of the filing, or at such later date as may be specified in the notice of withdrawal.

3. Any insurance company authorized to write insurance under the provisions of this chapter in this state shall file with the division a memorandum on a form prescribed by the division of any workers' compensation policy issued to any employer and of any renewal or cancellation thereof.

4. The mandatory coverage sections of this chapter shall not apply to the employment of any member of a family owning a family farm corporation as defined in section 350.010, RSMo, or to the employment of any salaried officer of a family farm corporation organized pursuant to the laws of this state, but such family members and officers of such family farm corporations may be covered under a policy of workers' compensation insurance if approved by a resolution of the board of directors. Nothing in this subsection shall be construed to apply to any other type of corporation other than a family farm corporation.

5. A corporation may be exempt from the provisions of this chapter, when there are no more than two owners of the corporation who are also the only employees of the corporation, by filing with the division notice of election to be exempt. The election shall take effect and continue from the date of filing with the division by the corporation of the notice of exemption from liability under this chapter. Any corporation making such an election may withdraw its election by filing with the division a notice to withdraw the election, which shall take effect thirty days after the date of the filing, or at such later date as may be specified in the notice of withdrawal.]

287.090. 1. This chapter shall not apply to:

(1) Employment of farm labor, domestic servants in a private home, including family chauffeurs, or occasional labor performed for and related to a private household;

(2) Employment where the person employed is an inmate confined in a state prison, penitentiary or county or municipal jail, or a patient or resident in a state mental health facility, and the labor or services of such inmate, patient, or resident are exclusively on behalf of the state, county or municipality having custody of said inmate, patient or resident. Nothing in this subdivision is intended to exempt employment where the inmate, patient or resident was hired by a state, county or municipal government agency after direct competition with persons who are not inmates, patients or residents and the compensation for the position of employment is not contingent upon or affected by the worker's status as an inmate, patient or resident;

(3) The employment of any member of a family owning a family farm corporation as defined in section 350.010, RSMo, or to the employment of any salaried officer of a family farm corporation organized pursuant to the laws of this state;

(4) Qualified real estate agents and direct sellers as those terms are defined in Section 3508 of Title 26 United States Code;

(5) An individual who is the owner or operator of a motor vehicle which is leased or contracted with a driver to a for-hire common or contract motor vehicle carrier operating within a commercial zone as defined in section 390.020 or 390.041, RSMo, or operating under a certificate issued by the division of motor carrier and railroad safety of the department of economic development or by the interstate commerce commission.

2. Any exempted employer in this section may bring himself within the provisions of this chapter by filing with the division notice of his election to accept the provisions, or by purchasing and accepting a valid compensation insurance policy, which lists such election in a manner and such form as determined by the department of insurance, and shall include the exempted employments described in subsection 1 of this section. The election shall take effect and continue from the date of filing with the division by the employer of his election to accept liability, under this chapter, or from the effective date of the insurance policy to the expiration date of the insurance policy. Any employer electing to become liable under this chapter by filing with the division notice of election may withdraw his election by filing with the division a notice that he desires to withdraw his election, which withdrawal shall take effect thirty days after the date of the filing, or at such later date as may be specified in the notice of withdrawal, or by non-renewing a valid compensation insurance policy.

287.091. 1. The following employers and classes of employees may be exempted from coverage if the employer so elects:

(1) Volunteers of a tax-exempt organization which operates under the standards of section 501(c)(3) of the federal Internal Revenue Code, where such volunteers are not paid wages, but provide services purely on a charitable and voluntary basis;

(2) Any worker who is a member of the employer's family within the third degree of affinity or consanguinity, except this provision applies only to employers who are sole proprietors;

association of schools or nonprofit tax exempt organization sponsoring the amateur youth programs;

(4) A corporation where there are no more than two owners of the corporation who are also the only employees of the corporation.

2. Any employer in subsection 1 of this section who wishes to exempt himself or his employees from the provisions of this chapter may do so by filing with the division notice of such elections on a form determined by the division, or by the purchase and acceptance of a valid compensation insurance policy which lists such exemptions in a manner and such form as determined by the department of insurance, and shall include the exempted employments described in subsection 1 of this section. The exemption shall take effect and continue from the date of filing with the division by the employer of his exemption from liability pursuant to this chapter, or from the effective date of the insurance policy to the expiration date of the insurance policy. Any employer electing to become exempted pursuant to this chapter may withdraw his exemption by filing with the division a notice that he desires to withdraw his exemption, which withdrawal shall take effect thirty days after the date of the filing, or at such later date as may be specific in the notice of withdrawal, or by nonrenewing the valid compensation insurance policy.

3. Notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary, beginning on the effective date of this section, those insurance companies providing coverage pursuant to chapter 287, to a limited liability company, as defined in section 347.015, RSMo, shall provide coverage for the employees of the limited liability company who are not members of the limited liability company. Members of the limited liability company, as defined in section 347.015, RSMo, shall also be provided coverage pursuant to chapter 287, but such members may individually elect to reject such coverage by providing a written notice of such rejection on a form developed by the department of insurance to the limited liability company and its insurer. Failure to provide notice to the limited liability company shall not be grounds for any member to claim that the rejection of such coverage is not legally effective. A member who elects to reject such coverage shall not thereafter be entitled to workers' compensation benefits under the policy, even if serving or working in the capacity of an employee of the limited liability company, at least until such time as said member provides the limited liability company and its insurer with a written notice which rescinds the prior rejection of such coverage. The written notice which rescinds the prior rejection of such coverage shall be on a form developed by the department of insurance. Any rescission shall be prospective in nature and shall entitle the member only to such benefits which accrue on or after the date the notice of rescission form is received by the insurance company.

287.220. 1. All cases of permanent disability where there has been previous disability shall be compensated as herein provided. Compensation shall be computed on the basis of the average earnings at the time of the last injury. If any employee who has a preexisting permanent partial disability whether from compensable injury or otherwise, of such seriousness as to constitute a hindrance or obstacle to employment or to obtaining reemployment if the employee becomes unemployed, and the preexisting permanent partial disability, if a body as a whole injury, equals a minimum of fifty weeks of compensation or, if a major extremity injury only, equals a minimum of fifteen percent permanent partial disability, according to the medical standards that are used in determining such compensation, receives a subsequent compensable injury resulting in additional permanent partial disability so that the degree or percentage of disability, in an amount equal to a minimum of fifty weeks compensation, if a body as a whole injury or, if a major extremity injury only, equals a minimum of fifteen percent permanent partial disability, caused by the combined disabilities is substantially greater than that which would have resulted from the last injury, considered alone and of itself, and if the employee is entitled to receive compensation on the basis of the combined disabilities, the employer at the time of the last injury shall be liable only for the degree or percentage of disability which would have resulted from the last injury had there been no preexisting disability. After the compensation liability of the employer for the last injury, considered alone, has been determined by an administrative law judge or the commission, the degree or percentage of employee's disability that is attributable to all injuries or conditions existing at the time the last injury was sustained shall then be determined by that administrative law judge or by the commission and the degree or percentage of disability which existed prior to the last injury plus the disability resulting from the last injury, if any, considered alone, shall be deducted from the combined disability, and compensation for the balance, if any, shall be paid out of a special fund known as the second injury fund, hereinafter provided for. If the previous disability or disabilities, whether from compensable injury or otherwise, and the last injury together result in total and permanent disability, the minimum standards under this subsection for a body as a whole injury or a major extremity injury shall not apply and the employer at the time of the last injury shall be liable only for the disability resulting from the last injury considered alone and of itself; except that if the compensation for which the employer at the time of the last injury is liable is less than the compensation provided in this chapter for permanent total disability, then in addition to the compensation for which the employer is liable and after the completion of payment of the compensation by the employer, the employee shall be paid the remainder of the compensation that would be due for permanent total disability under section 287.200 out of a special fund known as the "Second Injury Fund" hereby created exclusively for the purposes as in this section provided and for special weekly benefits in rehabilitation cases as provided in section 287.141. Maintenance of the second injury fund shall be as provided by section 287.710. The state treasurer shall be the custodian of the second injury fund which shall be deposited the same as are state funds and any interest accruing thereon shall be added thereto. The fund shall be subject to audit the same as state funds and accounts and shall be protected by the general bond given by the state treasurer. Upon the requisition of the director of the division of workers' compensation, warrants on the state treasurer for the payment of all amounts payable for compensation and benefits out of the second injury fund shall be issued.

2. In all cases in which a recovery against the second injury fund is sought for permanent partial disability, permanent total disability, or death, the state treasurer as custodian thereof shall be named as a party, and shall be entitled to defend against the claim. The state treasurer, with the advice and consent of the attorney general of Missouri, may enter into compromise settlements as contemplated by section 287.390, or agreed statements of fact that would affect the second injury fund. All awards for permanent partial disability, permanent total disability, or death affecting the second injury fund shall be subject to the provisions of this chapter governing review and appeal. For all claims filed against the second injury fund on or after July 1, 1994, the attorney general shall use assistant attorneys general except in circumstances where an actual or potential conflict of interest exists, to provide legal services as may be required in all claims made for recovery against the fund. Any legal expenses incurred by the attorney general's office in the handling of such claims, including, but not limited to, medical examination fees, expert witness fees, court reporter expenses, travel costs, and related legal expenses shall be paid by the fund. Effective July 1, 1993, the payment of such legal expenses shall be contingent upon annual appropriations made by the general assembly, from the fund, to the attorney general's office for this specific purpose.

3. If more than one injury in the same employment causes concurrent temporary disabilities, compensation shall be payable only for the longest and largest paying disability.

4. If more than one injury in the same employment causes concurrent and consecutive permanent partial disability, compensation payments for each subsequent disability shall not begin until the end of the compensation period of the prior disability.

5. If an employer fails to insure or self-insure as required in section 287.280, funds from the second injury fund may be withdrawn to cover the fair, reasonable, and necessary expenses to cure and relieve the effects of the injury or disability of an injured employee in the employ of an uninsured employer, or in the case of death of an employee in the employ of an uninsured employer, funds from the second injury fund may be withdrawn to cover fair, reasonable, and necessary expenses in the manner required in sections 287.240 and 287.241. In defense of claims arising under this subsection, the treasurer of the state of Missouri, as custodian of the second injury fund, shall have the same defenses to such claims as would the uninsured employer. Any funds received by the employee or the employee's dependents, through civil or other action, must go towards reimbursement of the second injury fund, for all payments made to the employee, the employee's dependents, or paid on the employee's behalf, from the second injury fund pursuant to this subsection. The office of the attorney general of the state of Missouri shall bring suit in the circuit court of the county in which the accident occurred against any employer not covered by this chapter as required in section 287.280.

6. Every three years the second injury fund shall have an actuarial study made to determine the solvency of the fund, appropriate funding level of the fund, and forecasted expenditures from the fund. The first actuarial study shall be completed prior to July 1, 1988. The expenses of such actuarial studies shall be paid out of the fund for the support of the division of workers' compensation.

7. The director of the division of workers' compensation shall maintain the financial data and records concerning the fund for the support of the division of workers' compensation and the second injury fund. The division shall also compile and report data on claims made pursuant to subsection 9 of this section. The attorney general shall provide all necessary information to the division for this purpose.

8. All claims for fees and expenses filed against the second injury fund and all records pertaining thereto shall be open to the public.

[9. Senate Amendment No. 3

AMEND House Substitute for House Committee Substitute for House Bill No. 472, Page 1, Section A, Line 3, by inserting immediately after said section the following:

The transaction of business shall be considered temporary at any time it cannot be reasonably expected to continue for a period of twenty-four consecutive months. Professional athletic teams and professional entertainers domiciled in a state other than Missouri shall be deemed a "transient employer" for the purposes of this section.

2. Employers meeting the following criteria shall not be required to file a financial assurance instrument as required by this section:

(1) The principal place of business of the employer must be in a county of another state which is contiguous to the state of Missouri; and

(2) The employer must have been under contract to perform work in Missouri for at least sixty days cumulatively out of twelve months during each of the two calendar years immediately preceding the employer's initial application for exemption from the provisions of this section; and

(3) The employer must have in his possession a tax clearance from the department of revenue and the division of employment security stating that the employer has faithfully complied with the tax laws of this state during the period set out in subdivision (2) of this subsection. Within ninety days of August 13, 1988, such employers must obtain initial tax clearances in accordance with subdivision (3) of this subsection. Any tax clearance issued under the provisions of this section by the division of employment security shall be submitted to the department of revenue. On or before January thirty-first of each year, except January thirty-first following the year during which the employer first meets these criteria, the employer shall submit application to the department of revenue and division of employment security for a renewed tax clearance. Failure to submit such renewal applications or failure to comply with applicable Missouri taxing and employment security laws during the period between annual renewal dates or removal of the employer's principal place of business from a county in another state which is contiguous to Missouri to a state other than Missouri shall immediately subject the employer to all provisions of this section. An employer meeting the requirements of this subsection shall still be subject to the provisions of subsection 5 of this section.

3. Every transient employer shall file with the director of revenue a financial assurance instrument including, but not limited to, a cash bond, a surety bond, or an irrevocable letter of credit as defined in section 400.5-103, RSMo, issued by any state or federal financial institution. Any corporate surety shall be licensed to do such business in this state and approved by the director of revenue to act as a surety. The transient employer shall be the principal obligor and the state of Missouri shall be the obligee. The financial assurance instrument shall be conditioned upon the prompt filing of true reports and the payment by such employer to the director of revenue of any and all withholding taxes which are now or which hereafter may be levied or imposed by the state of Missouri, upon the employer, together with any and all penalties and interest thereon, and generally upon the faithful compliance with the provisions of chapters 143, RSMo, 287, RSMo, and 288, RSMo.

4. Any transient employer who is already otherwise required to file a financial assurance instrument as a condition of any contract, provided said financial assurance instrument guarantees payment of all applicable state taxes and all withholding taxes levied or imposed by the state and provided that such financial assurance instrument is delivered by certified mail to the department of revenue by the applicable awarding entity at least fourteen days before the execution of the contract for the performance of work, may use the same financial assurance instrument to comply with the provisions of this section. Before such financial assurance instrument is approved by the awarding entity, the director of revenue shall be satisfied that such financial assurance instrument is sufficient to cover all taxes imposed by this state and the director shall so notify the awarding entity of the decision within the fourteen days prior to the execution of the contract. Failure to do so by the director shall waive any right to disapprove such financial assurance instrument. Before a financial assurance instrument is released by the entity awarding the contract, a tax clearance shall be obtained from the director of revenue that such transient employer has faithfully complied with all the tax laws of this state.

5. Every transient employer shall certify to the director of revenue that such employer has sufficient workers' compensation insurance either through a [self-insured plan or through a private company (carrier). Such insurance shall be approved by the division of workers' compensation of the department of labor and industrial relations of the state. A financial assurance instrument including, but not limited to, a cash bond, a surety bond, or an irrevocable letter of credit as defined in section 400.5-103, RSMo, shall be required of every transient employer who in the opinion of the division of workers' compensation does not have sufficient workers' compensation coverage. Such financial assurance instrument shall be in an amount not less than one hundred thousand dollars nor more than five hundred thousand dollars.] self-insurance program or a policy of workers' compensation insurance issued by an approved workers' compensation carrier. The self-insurance program shall be approved by the division of workers' compensation pursuant to section 287.280, RSMo. The insurance policy shall be in a contract form approved by the department of insurance.

6. In the event that liability upon the financial assurance instrument thus filed by the transient employer shall be discharged or reduced, whether by judgment rendered, payment made or otherwise, or if in the opinion of the director of revenue any surety on a bond theretofore given or financial institution shall have become unsatisfactory or unacceptable, then the director of revenue may require the employer to file a new financial assurance instrument in the same form and amount. If such new financial assurance instrument shall be furnished by such employer as above provided, the director of revenue shall upon satisfaction of any liability that has accrued, release the surety on the old bond or financial institution issuing the irrevocable letter of credit.

7. Upon issuance of such order by a court of competent jurisdiction, the person for whom the work is being performed may engage another contractor as provided by law or any provision of contract and the person shall not be deemed to be in violation of the contract with such transient employer removed by the court. Further amend page 34, section 301.573, line 26, by inserting immediately after said line the following:

"536.028. 1. The delegation of authority to any state agency to propose to the general assembly rules as provided under this section is contingent upon the agency complying with the provisions of this section and this delegation of legislative power to the agency to propose an order of rulemaking containing a rule or portion thereof that has the effect of substantive law, other than a rule relating to the agency's organization and internal management, is contingent and dependent upon the power of the general assembly to review such proposed order of rulemaking, to delay the effective date of such proposed order of rulemaking until the expiration of at least thirty legislative days of a regular session after such order is filed with the general assembly and the secretary of state, and to disapprove and annul any rule or portion thereof contained in such order of rulemaking.

2. No rule or portion of a rule that has the effect of substantive law shall become effective until the order of rulemaking, in which such rule or portion thereof is contained, has been reviewed by the general assembly in accordance with the procedures provided herein and the agency's authority to propose an order of rulemaking is dependent upon the power of the general assembly to disapprove and annul any such proposed rule or portion thereof as provided herein.*

3. In order for the general assembly to have an effective opportunity to be advised of rules proposed by any state agency under the authority of this section, an agency may propose a rule by complying with the procedures provided in section 536.021, except that the notice of proposed rulemaking shall first be filed with the general assembly by providing a copy thereof to the joint committee on administrative rules which may hold hearings upon any proposed rule or portion thereof at any time. The agency shall cooperate with the joint committee on administrative rules by providing any witnesses, documents or information within the control of the agency as may be requested.*

4. In order to propose an order of rulemaking to the general assembly, the agency shall comply with the provisions of section 536.021, except that the agency may file a proposed order of rulemaking with the secretary of state only by first filing such proposed order with the general assembly by providing a copy thereof to the secretary of the senate and the clerk of the house of representatives. The president pro tem of the senate shall direct that a copy of the proposed order of rulemaking be delivered to the joint committee on administrative rules which may hold hearings thereon. The agency shall cooperate with the committee by providing any witnesses, documents or information within the control of the agency as may be requested.*

5. Such proposed order of rulemaking shall not become effective prior to the expiration of thirty legislative days of a regular session after such order is filed with the secretary of state and the general assembly.*

6. The committee may, by majority vote of its members, recommend that the general assembly disapprove and annul any rule or portion thereof contained in an order of rulemaking after hearings thereon and, upon a finding that such rule or portion thereof should be disapproved and annulled upon the following grounds:*

(1) Such rule is substantive in nature in that it creates rights or liabilities or provides for sanctions as to any person, corporation or other legal entity; and

(2) Such rule or portion thereof is not in the public interest or is not authorized by the general assembly for one or more of the following grounds:

(a) An absence of statutory authority for the proposed rule;

(b) The proposed rule is in conflict with state law;

(c) Such proposed rule is likely to substantially endanger the public health, safety or welfare;

(d) The rule exceeds the purpose, or is more restrictive than is necessary to carry out the purpose, of the statute granting rulemaking authority;

(e) A substantial change in circumstance has occurred since enactment of the law upon which the proposed rule is based as to result in a conflict between the purpose of the law and the proposed rule, or as to create a substantial danger to public health and welfare;

(f) The proposed rule is so arbitrary and capricious as to create such substantial inequity as to be unreasonably burdensome on persons affected.

7. Any recommendation or report issued by the committee pursuant to subsection 6 of this section shall be admissible as evidence in any judicial proceeding and entitled to judicial notice without further proof.

8. The general assembly may adopt a concurrent resolution in accordance with the provisions of article IV, section 8 of the Missouri constitution to disapprove and annul any rule or portion thereof upon one or more of the grounds stated in subsection 6 of this section.

9. Any rule or portion thereof not disapproved within thirty legislative days of a regular session pursuant to subsection 8 of this section shall be deemed approved by the general assembly and the secretary of state may publish such order of rulemaking as soon as practicable upon the expiration of thirty legislative days of a regular session after the order of rulemaking was filed with the secretary of state and the general assembly.

10. Upon adoption of such concurrent resolution as provided in subsection 8 of this section, the secretary of state shall not publish the order of rulemaking until the expiration of time necessary for such resolution to be signed by the governor, or vetoed and subsequently acted upon by the general assembly pursuant to article III, section 32 of the Missouri Constitution. If such concurrent resolution is adopted and signed by the governor or reconsidered pursuant to article III, section 32, the secretary of state shall publish in the Missouri Register, as soon as practicable, the order of rulemaking along with notice of the proposed rules or portions thereof which are disapproved and annulled by the general assembly.

11. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 1.140, RSMo, the provisions of this section are nonseverable and the delegation of legislative authority to an agency to propose orders of rulemaking is essentially dependent upon the powers vested with the general assembly as provided herein. If any of the powers vested with the general assembly to review, to delay the effective date or to disapprove and annul a rule or portion of a rule contained in an order of rulemaking, are held unconstitutional or invalid, the purported grant of rulemaking authority and any rule so proposed and contained in the order of rulemaking pursuant thereto shall be invalid and void.

12. Nothing in this section shall prevent the general assembly from adopting by bill within thirty legislative days of a regular session the rules or portions thereof, or as the same may be amended, as contained in a proposed order of rulemaking. In that event, the proposed order of rulemaking shall have been superseded and any rule proposed therein shall be void and only such rules adopted by the general assembly and submitted to the governor may become effective. Rules so adopted shall be published by the secretary of state as soon as practicable. In that event, the secretary of state shall not publish the proposed order of rulemaking and such proposed order of rulemaking shall be invalid and void.

13. Upon adoption of any rule now in effect or hereafter promulgated, any such rule or portion thereof may be revoked by the general assembly either by bill, or by concurrent resolution pursuant to article IV, section 8 of the constitution on recommendation of the committee on administrative rules upon the grounds listed in subsection 6 of this section. The secretary of state shall publish in the Missouri Register, as soon as practicable, notice of the revocation."; and

First Regular Session, 89th General Assembly

SEVENTY-FIRST DAY, Tuesday, May 13, 1997

Speaker Pro Tem Kreider in the Chair.

Prayer by Father Hugh Behan.

"He encouraged them in the service of the Lord." (2 Chr. 35:2)

This morning, the House honors some employees based on their years of service, in units of five ranging from 5 to 20 years as we come to the last week of this session.

We take the opportunity at this time to give thanks, Eternal God, for the willingness to serve, the extra mile devotion to duty which keeps so many in the service of this House. We give thanks to all who offer themselves in public service to the State, local and federal governments. This building is like a busy town during the session and we pause to acknowledge the contributions of those who keep it running smoothly. We know that our sins and failures here, real or imagined, are reported and believed by the public too easily but we affirm today those who are generous, honest, hard-working and whose motives are the highest, people who are here because they believe that they make a difference no matter how unnoticed or humble. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the seventieth day was approved as corrected.

For children who have attained six years of age but have not attained nineteen years of age, the division of family services shall use an income assessment methodology which provides for eligibility when family income is equal to or less than equal to [one] two hundred percent of the federal poverty level established by the Department of Health and Human Services, or its successor agency. As necessary to provide Medicaid coverage under this subdivision, the department of social services may revise the state Medicaid plan to extend coverage under 42 U.S.C. 1396a (a)(10)(A)(i)(III) to children who have attained six years of age but have not attained nineteen years of age as permitted by paragraph (2) of subsection (n) of 42 U.S.C. 1396d using a more liberal income assessment methodology as authorized by paragraph (2) of subsection (r) of 42 U.S.C. 1396a;

(15) The following children with family income which does not exceed [two] three hundred percent of the federal poverty guideline for the applicable family size:

(a) Infants who have not attained one year of age with family income greater than [one hundred eighty-five] two hundred percent of the federal poverty guideline for the applicable family size;

(b) Children who have attained one year of age but have not attained six years of age with family income greater than [one hundred thirty-three] two hundred percent of the federal poverty guideline for the applicable family size; and

(c) Children who have attained six years of age but have not attained nineteen years of age with family income greater than [one] two hundred percent of the federal poverty guideline for the applicable family size. Coverage under this subdivision shall be subject to the receipt of notification by the director of the department of social services and the revisor of statutes of approval from the secretary of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services of applications for waivers of federal requirements necessary to promulgate regulations to implement this subdivision. The director of the department of social services shall apply for such waivers. The regulations may provide for a basic primary and preventive health care services package, not to include all medical services covered by section 208.152, and may also establish copayment, coinsurance, deductible, or premium requirements for medical assistance under this subdivision. Eligibility for medical assistance under this subdivision shall be available only to those infants and children who do not have or have not been eligible for employer-subsidized health care insurance coverage for the six months prior to application for medical assistance. Children are eligible for employer-subsidized coverage through either parent, including the noncustodial parent. The division of family services may establish a resource eligibility standard in assessing eligibility for persons under this subdivision. The division of medical services shall define the amount and scope of benefits which are available to individuals under this subdivision in accordance with the requirement of federal law and regulations. Coverage under this subdivision shall be subject to appropriation to provide services approved under the provisions of this subdivision;

(16) The division of family services shall not establish a resource eligibility standard in assessing eligibility for persons under subdivision (12), (13) or (14) of this subsection. The division of medical services shall define the amount and scope of benefits which are available to individuals eligible under each of the subdivisions (12), (13), and (14) of this subsection, in accordance with the requirements of federal law and regulations promulgated thereunder except that the scope of benefits shall include case management services;

(17) Notwithstanding any other provisions of law to the contrary, ambulatory prenatal care shall be made available to pregnant women during a period of presumptive eligibility pursuant to 42 U.S.C. section 1396r-1, as amended;

(18) A child born to a woman eligible for and receiving medical assistance under this section on the date of the child's birth shall be deemed to have applied for medical assistance and to have been found eligible for such assistance under such plan on the date of such birth and to remain eligible for such assistance for a period of time determined in accordance with applicable federal and state law and regulations so long as the child is a member of the woman's household and either the woman remains eligible for such assistance or for children born on or after January 1, 1991, the woman would remain eligible for such assistance if she were still pregnant. Upon notification of such child's birth, the division of family services shall assign a medical assistance eligibility identification number to the child so that claims may be submitted and paid under such child's identification number;

(19) Pregnant women and children eligible for medical assistance pursuant to subdivision (12), (13) or (14) of this subsection shall not as a condition of eligibility for medical assistance benefits be required to apply for aid to families with dependent children. The division of family services shall utilize an application for eligibility for such persons which eliminates information requirements other than those necessary to apply for medical assistance. The division shall provide such application forms to applicants whose preliminary income information indicates that they are ineligible for aid to families with dependent children. Applicants for medical assistance benefits under subdivision (12), (13) or (14) shall be informed of the aid to families with dependent children program and that they are entitled to apply for such benefits. Any forms utilized by the division of family services for assessing eligibility under this chapter shall be as simple as practicable;

(20) Subject to appropriations necessary to recruit and train such staff, the division of family services shall provide one or more full-time, permanent case workers to process applications for medical assistance at the site of a health care provider, if the health care provider requests the placement of such case workers and reimburses the division for the expenses including but not limited to salaries, benefits, travel, training, telephone, supplies, and equipment, of such case workers. The division may provide a health care provider with a part-time or temporary case worker at the site of a health care provider if the health care provider requests the placement of such a case worker and reimburses the division for the expenses, including but not limited to the salary, benefits, travel, training, telephone, supplies, and equipment, of such a case worker. The division may seek to employ such case workers who are otherwise qualified for such positions and who are current or former welfare recipients. The division may consider training such current or former welfare recipients as case workers for this program;

(21) Pregnant women who are eligible for, have applied for and have received medical assistance under subdivision (2), (10), (11) or (12) of this subsection shall continue to be considered eligible for all pregnancy-related and postpartum medical assistance provided under section 208.152 until the end of the sixty-day period beginning on the last day of their pregnancy;

(22) Case management services for pregnant women and young children at risk shall be a covered service. To the greatest extent possible, and in compliance with federal law and regulations, the department of health shall provide case management services to pregnant women by contract or agreement with the department of social services through local health departments organized under the provisions of chapter 192, RSMo, or chapter 205, RSMo, or a city health department operated under a city charter or a combined city-county health department or other department of health designees. To the greatest extent possible the department of social services and the department of health shall mutually coordinate all services for pregnant women and children with the crippled children's program, the prevention of mental retardation program and the prenatal care program administered by the department of health. The department of social services shall by regulation establish the methodology for reimbursement for case management services provided by the department of health. For purposes of this section, the term "case management" shall mean those activities of local public health personnel to identify prospective Medicaid-eligible high-risk mothers and enroll them in the state's Medicaid program, refer them to local physicians or local health departments who provide prenatal care under physician protocol and who participate in the Medicaid program for prenatal care and to ensure that said high-risk mothers receive support from all private and public programs for which they are eligible and shall not include involvement in any Medicaid prepaid, case-managed programs;

(23) By January 1, 1988, the department of social services and the department of health shall study all significant aspects of presumptive eligibility for pregnant women and submit a joint report on the subject, including projected costs and the time needed for implementation, to the general assembly. The department of social services, at the direction of the general assembly, may implement presumptive eligibility by regulation promulgated pursuant to chapter 207, RSMo;

(24) All recipients who would be eligible for aid to families with dependent children benefits except for the requirements of paragraph (d) of subdivision (1) of section 208.150;

(25) All persons who would be determined to be eligible for old age assistance benefits, permanent and total disability benefits, or aid to the blind benefits, under the eligibility standards in effect December 31, 1973, or those supplemental security income recipients who would be determined eligible for general relief benefits under the eligibility standards in effect December 31, 1973, except income; or less restrictive standards as established by rule of the division of family services. If federal law or regulation authorizes the division of family services to, by rule, exclude the income or resources of a parent or parents of a person under the age of eighteen and such exclusion of income or resources can be limited to such parent or parents, then notwithstanding the provisions of section 208.010:

(a) The division may by rule exclude such income or resources in determining such person's eligibility for permanent and total disability benefits; and

(b) Eligibility standards for permanent and total disability benefits shall not be limited by age;

(26) Within thirty days of the effective date of an initial appropriation authorizing medical assistance on behalf of "medically needy" individuals for whom federal reimbursement is available under 42 U.S.C. 1396a (a)(10)(c), the department of social services shall submit an amendment to the Medicaid state plan to provide medical assistance on behalf of, at a minimum, an individual described in subclause (I) or (II) of clause 42 U.S.C. 1396a (a)(10)(C)(ii).

2. Rules and regulations to implement this section shall be promulgated in accordance with section 431.064, RSMo, and chapter 536, RSMo. No rule or portion of a rule promulgated under the authority of this chapter shall become effective unless it has been promulgated pursuant to the provisions of section 536.024, RSMo.

3. After December 31, 1973, and before April 1, 1990, any family eligible for assistance pursuant to 42 U.S.C. 601 et seq., as amended, in at least three of the last six months immediately preceding the month in which such family became ineligible for such assistance because of increased income from employment shall, while a member of such family is employed, remain eligible for medical assistance for four calendar months following the month in which such family would otherwise be determined to be ineligible for such assistance because of income and resource limitation. After April 1, 1990, any family receiving aid pursuant to 42 U.S.C. 601 et seq., as amended, in at least three of the six months immediately preceding the month in which such family becomes ineligible for such aid, because of hours of employment or income from employment of the caretaker relative, shall remain eligible for medical assistance for six calendar months following the month of such ineligibility as long as such family includes a child as provided in 42 U.S.C. 1396r-6. Each family which has received such medical assistance during the entire six-month period described in this section and which meets reporting requirements and income tests established by the division and continues to include a child as provided in 42 U.S.C. 1396r-6 shall receive medical assistance without fee for an additional six months. The division of medical services may provide by rule the scope of medical assistance coverage to be granted to such families.

4. For purposes of section 1902(1), (10) of Title XIX of the federal Social Security Act, as amended, any individual who, for the month of August, 1972, was eligible for or was receiving aid or assistance pursuant to the provisions of Titles I, X, XIV, or Part A of Title IV of such act and who, for such month, was entitled to monthly insurance benefits under Title II of such act, shall be deemed to be eligible for such aid or assistance for such month thereafter prior to October, 1974, if such individual would have been eligible for such aid or assistance for such month had the increase in monthly insurance benefits under Title II of such act resulting from enactment of Public Law 92-336 amendments to the federal Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 301 et seq.), as amended, not been applicable to such individual.

5. When any individual has been determined to be eligible for medical assistance, such medical assistance will be made available to him for care and services furnished in or after the third month before the month in which he made application for such assistance if such individual was, or upon application would have been, eligible for such assistance at the time such care and services were furnished; provided, further, that such medical expenses remain unpaid."; and

Further amend said bill, Sections 4, 5 and 6, pages 5-8, by striking all of said sections; and

Further amend the title and enacting clause accordingly.

[376.1399. 1. The director may, after notice and hearing, promulgated reasonable rules to carry out the provisions of sections 376.1350 to 376.1390. The director shall have the authority to promulgate rules to accomplish the following purposes:

(1) To regulate the internal affairs of the department of insurance;

(2) To prescribe forms and procedures to be followed in proceedings before the department of insurance; and

(3) To effectuate or aid in the interpretation of any law of this state pertaining to the subject matters of sections 376.1350 to 376.1390.

2. Any rule that has the effect of creating or substantially modifying a legal right, liability, obligation or sanction shall be considered substantive. The director may only promulgate substantive rules on subject matters specifically authorized pursuant to sections 376.1350 to 376.1390 and any substantive rule or portion of a rule shall become effective only as provided pursuant to chapter 536, RSMo, including, but not limited to, section 536.028, after the effective date of this act. [536.028. 1. The delegation of authority to any state agency to propose to the general assembly rules as provided under this section is contingent upon the agency complying with the provisions of this section and this delegation of legislative power to the agency to propose an order of rulemaking containing a rule or portion thereof that has the effect of substantive law, other than a rule relating to the agency's organization and internal management, is contingent and dependent upon the power of the general assembly to review such proposed order of rulemaking, to delay the effective date of such proposed order of rulemaking until the expiration of at least thirty legislative days of a regular session after such order is filed with the general assembly and the secretary of state, and to disapprove and annul any rule or portion thereof contained in such order of rulemaking.

2. No rule or portion of a rule that has the effect of substantive law shall become effective until the order of rulemaking, in which such rule or portion thereof is contained, has been reviewed by the general assembly in accordance with the procedures provided herein and the agency's authority to propose an order of rulemaking is dependent upon the power of the general assembly to disapprove and annul any such proposed rule or portion thereof as provided herein.

3. In order for the general assembly to have an effective opportunity to be advised of rules proposed by any state agency under the authority of this section, an agency may propose a rule by complying with the procedures provided in section 536.021, except that the notice of proposed rulemaking shall first be filed with the general assembly by providing a copy thereof to the joint committee on administrative rules which may hold hearings upon any proposed rule or portion thereof at any time. The agency shall cooperate with the joint committee on administrative rules by providing any witnesses, documents or information within the control of the agency as may be requested.

4. In order to propose an order of rulemaking to the general assembly, the agency shall comply with the provisions of section 536.021, except that the agency may file a proposed order of rulemaking with the secretary of state only by first filing such proposed order with the general assembly by providing a copy thereof to the secretary of the senate and the clerk of the house of representatives. The president pro tem of the senate shall direct that a copy of the proposed order of rulemaking be delivered to the joint committee on administrative rules which may hold hearings thereon. The agency shall cooperate with the committee by providing any witnesses, documents or information within the control of the agency as may be requested.

5. Such proposed order of rulemaking shall not become effective prior to the expiration of thirty legislative days of a regular session after such order is filed with the secretary of state and the general assembly.

6. The committee may, by majority vote of its members, recommend that the general assembly disapprove and annul any rule or portion thereof contained in an order of rulemaking after hearings thereon and, upon a finding that such rule or portion thereof should be disapproved and annulled upon the following grounds:

(1) Such rule is substantive in nature in that it creates rights or liabilities or provides for sanctions as to any person, corporation or other legal entity; and

(2) Such rule or portion thereof is not in the public interest or is not authorized by the general assembly for one or more of the following grounds:

(a) An absence of statutory authority for the proposed rule;

(b) The proposed rule is in conflict with state law;

(c) Such proposed rule is likely to substantially endanger the public health, safety or welfare;

(d) The rule exceeds the purpose, or is more restrictive than is necessary to carry out the purpose, of the statute granting rulemaking authority;

(e) A substantial change in circumstance has occurred since enactment of the law upon which the proposed rule is based as to result in a conflict between the purpose of the law and the proposed rule, or as to create a substantial danger to public health and welfare;

(f) The proposed rule is so arbitrary and capricious as to create such substantial inequity as to be unreasonably burdensome on persons affected.

7. Any recommendation or report issued by the committee pursuant to subsection 6 of this section shall be admissible as evidence in any judicial proceeding and entitled to judicial notice without further proof.

8. The general assembly may adopt a concurrent resolution in accordance with the provisions of article IV, section 8 of the Missouri constitution to disapprove and annul any rule or portion thereof upon one or more of the grounds stated in subsection 6 of this section.

9. Any rule or portion thereof not disapproved within thirty legislative days of a regular session pursuant to subsection 8 of this section shall be deemed approved by the general assembly and the secretary of state may publish such order of rulemaking as soon as practicable upon the expiration of thirty legislative days of a regular session after the order of rulemaking was filed with the secretary of state and the general assembly.

10. Upon adoption of such concurrent resolution as provided in subsection 8 of this section, the secretary of state shall not publish the order of rulemaking until the expiration of time necessary for such resolution to be signed by the governor, or vetoed and subsequently acted upon by the general assembly pursuant to article III, section 32 of the Missouri Constitution. If such concurrent resolution is adopted and signed by the governor or reconsidered pursuant to article III, section 32, the secretary of state shall publish in the Missouri Register, as soon as practicable, the order of rulemaking along with notice of the proposed rules or portions thereof which are disapproved and annulled by the general assembly.

11. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 1.140, RSMo, the provisions of this section are nonseverable and the delegation of legislative authority to an agency to propose orders of rulemaking is essentially dependent upon the powers vested with the general assembly as provided herein. If any of the powers vested with the general assembly to review, to delay the effective date or to disapprove and annul a rule or portion of a rule contained in an order of rulemaking, are held unconstitutional or invalid, the purported grant of rulemaking authority and any rule so proposed and contained in the order of rulemaking pursuant thereto shall be invalid and void.

12. Nothing in this section shall prevent the general assembly from adopting by bill within thirty legislative days of a regular session the rules or portions thereof, or as the same may be amended, as contained in a proposed order of rulemaking. In that event, the proposed order of rulemaking shall have been superseded and any rule proposed therein shall be void and only such rules adopted by the general assembly and submitted to the governor may become effective. Rules so adopted shall be published by the secretary of state as soon as practicable. In that event, the secretary of state shall not publish the proposed order of rulemaking and such proposed order of rulemaking shall be invalid and void.

13. Upon adoption of any rule now in effect or hereafter promulgated, any such rule or portion thereof may be revoked by the general assembly either by bill, or by concurrent resolution pursuant to article IV, section 8 of the constitution on recommendation of the committee on administrative rules upon the grounds listed in subsection 6 of this section. The secretary of state shall publish in the Missouri Register, as soon as practicable, notice of the revocation.]

[Section 14. 1. The director may, after notice and hearing, promulgate reasonable rules to carry out the provisions of sections 1 to 11. The director shall have the authority to promulgate rules to accomplish the following purposes:

(1) To regulate the internal affairs of the department of insurance;

(2) To prescribe forms and procedures to be followed in proceedings before the department of insurance; and

(3) To effectuate or aid in the interpretation of any law of this state pertaining to the subject matters of sections 1 to 11.

2. Any rule that has the effect of creating or substantially modifying a legal right, liability, obligation or sanction shall be considered substantive. The director may only promulgate substantive rules on subject matters specifically authorized pursuant to sections 1 to 11 and any substantive rule or portion of a rule shall become effective only as provided pursuant to chapter 536, RSMo, including, but not limited to, section 536.028, after the effective date of this act. All such substantive rules and all substantive rulemaking authority granted pursuant to sections 1 to 11 shall expire on August 31, 1998. Any act by the general assembly that serves to extend or postpone the expiration of any rule or rulemaking authority shall not constitute legislative approval of the rule or authority nor be admissible in any court as evidence of legislative intent. The provisions of this section are nonseverable and if any of the powers vested with the general assembly pursuant to section 536.028 to review, to delay the effective date or to disapprove and annul a rule, or portion of a rule, are held unconstitutional or invalid, the purported grant of rulemaking authority and any rule so proposed and contained in the order of rulemaking shall be invalid and void.]".

Further, no school in any district shall receive a grant under the program unless the district makes available facilities and services for adult literacy training as specified by rule of the state board of education.

4. For any school that meets the requirements for the approval of the grants authorized by this section and specified in subsection 2 of this section for three successive school years, by August first following the third such school year, the commissioner of education shall present a plan to the superintendent of the school district in which such school is located for the waiver of rules and regulations to promote flexibility in the operations of the school and to enhance and encourage efficiency in the delivery of instructional services in the school. The provisions of other law to the contrary notwithstanding, the plan presented to the superintendent shall provide a summary waiver, with no conditions, for the pupil testing requirements pursuant to section 160.257 in the school. Further, the provisions of other law to the contrary notwithstanding, the plan shall detail a means for the waiver of requirements otherwise imposed on the school related to the authority of the state board of education to classify school districts pursuant to subdivision (9) of section 161.092, RSMo, and such other rules and regulations as determined by the commissioner of education, except such waivers shall be confined to the school and not other schools in the school district unless such other schools meet the requirements of this subsection. However, any waiver provided to any school as outlined in this subsection shall be void on June thirtieth of any school year in which the school fails to meet the requirements for the approval of the grants authorized by this section as specified in subsection 2 of this section.

5. Within the amount appropriated for the program, in addition to the grants to public schools authorized by subsections 1 to 3 of this section, the commissioner of education shall, by rule and regulation of the state board of education and with the advice of the coordinating board for higher education, establish a procedure for the reimbursement of the cost of tuition, books and fees to Missouri Western State College or Missouri Southern State College for the purpose of obtaining an associate's degree or any public community college or vocational or technical school for any student:

(3) Who has earned a minimal grade average while in high school as determined by rule of the state board of education, and other requirements for the reimbursement authorized by this subsection as determined by rule and regulation of said board.

6. The commissioner of education shall develop a procedure for evaluating the effectiveness of the program described in this section. Such evaluation shall be conducted annually with the results of the evaluation provided to the governor, speaker of the house, and president pro tempore of the senate.

7. The grants authorized in subsection 5 of this section for the purpose of reimbursement of the cost of books, tuition, and fees to Missouri Western State College and Missouri Southern State College shall not exceed the average community college tuition in the state as determined by the coordinating Board of Higher Education.

The department of health upon public notice and hearing pursuant to this section and chapter 536, RSMo, may promulgate rules and charge reasonable fees relating to the registration and control of the manufacture, distribution and dispensing of controlled substances within this state. No rule or portion of a rule promulgated under the authority of this chapter shall become effective unless it has been promulgated pursuant to the provisions of section 536.024, RSMo.

2. No person shall manufacture, compound, mix, cultivate, grow, or by any other process produce or prepare, distribute, dispense or prescribe any controlled substance and no person as a wholesaler shall supply the same, without having first obtained annually a registration issued by the department of health in accordance with rules and regulations promulgated by it.

3. Persons registered by the department of health under sections 195.005 to 195.425 to manufacture, distribute, or dispense or conduct research with controlled substances are authorized to possess, manufacture, distribute or dispense such substances, including any such activity in the conduct of research, to the extent authorized by their registration and in conformity with other provisions of sections 195.005 to 195.425.

4. The following persons shall not be required to register and may lawfully possess controlled substances under sections 195.005 to 195.425:

(3) An ultimate user or a person in possession of any controlled substance pursuant to a lawful order of a practitioner or in lawful possession of a Schedule V substance.

5. The department of health may, by regulation, waive the requirement for registration of certain manufacturers, distributors, or dispensers if it finds it consistent with the public health and safety.

6. A separate registration shall be required at each principal place of business or professional practice where the applicant manufactures, distributes, or dispenses controlled substances.

7. The department of health is authorized to inspect the establishment of a registrant or applicant in accordance with the provisions of sections 195.005 to 195.425.

195.040. 1. No registration shall be issued under section 195.030 unless and until the applicant therefor has furnished proof satisfactory to the department of health:

(2) That the applicant is equipped as to land, buildings, and paraphernalia properly to carry on the business described in his application.

2. No registration shall be granted to any person who has within five years been finally adjudicated and found guilty, or entered a plea of guilty or nolo contendere, in a criminal prosecution under the laws of any state or of the United States, for any offense related to controlled substances. No registration shall be granted to any person who is abusing controlled substances.

3. The department of health shall register an applicant to manufacture, distribute or dispense controlled substances unless it determines that the issuance of that registration would be inconsistent with the public interest. In determining the public interest, the following factors shall be considered:

(1) Maintenance of effective controls against diversion of controlled substances into other than legitimate medical, scientific, or industrial channels;

(2) Compliance with applicable state and local law;

(3) Any convictions of an applicant under any federal or state laws relating to any controlled substance;

4. Registration does not entitle a registrant to manufacture and distribute controlled substances in Schedule I or II other than those specified in the registration.

5. Practitioners shall be registered to dispense any controlled substance or to conduct research with controlled substances in Schedules II through V if they are authorized to dispense or conduct research under the laws of this state. The department of health need not require separate registration under sections 195.005 to 195.425 for practitioners engaging in research with nonnarcotic substances in Schedules II through V where the registrant is already registered under sections 195.005 to 195.425 in another capacity. Practitioners registered under federal law to conduct research with Schedule I substances may conduct research with Schedule I substances within this state upon furnishing the department of health evidence of that federal registration.

6. Compliance by manufacturers and distributors with the provisions of federal law respecting registration (excluding fees) shall entitle them to be registered under sections 195.005 to 195.425.

7. A registration to manufacture, distribute, or dispense a controlled substance may be suspended or revoked by the department of health upon a finding that the registrant:

(1) Has furnished false or fraudulent material information in any application filed under sections 195.005 to 195.425;

(2) Has been convicted of a felony under any state or federal law relating to any controlled substance;

(5) Has had his professional license to practice suspended or revoked.

8. The department of health may warn or censure a registrant; limit a registration to particular controlled substances or schedules of controlled substances; limit revocation or suspension of a registration to a particular controlled substance with respect to which grounds for revocation or suspension exist; restrict or limit a registration under such terms and conditions as the department of health considers appropriate for a period of five years; suspend or revoke a registration for a period not to exceed five years; or deny an application for registration. In any order of revocation, the department of health may provide that the registrant may not apply for a new registration for a period of time ranging from one to five years following the date of the order of revocation. All stay orders shall toll this time period. Any registration granted or placed under a limitation or restriction by the department of health shall be termed "under probation".

9. If the department of health suspends or revokes a registration, all controlled substances owned or possessed by the registrant at the time of suspension or the effective date of the revocation order may be placed under seal by such agency and held pending final disposition of the case. No disposition may be made of substances under seal until the time for taking an appeal has elapsed or until all appeals have been concluded, unless a court, upon application therefor, orders the sale of perishable substances and the deposit of the proceeds of the sale with the court. Upon a revocation order becoming final, all [narcotic and dangerous drugs] controlled substances may be forfeited to the state.

10. The department of health shall promptly notify the [Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs] Drug Enforcement Agency, United States Department of Justice, or its successor agency, of all orders suspending or revoking registration and all forfeitures of controlled substances.

11. If after first providing the registrant an opportunity for an informal conference, the department of health proposes to deny, suspend, restrict, limit or revoke a registration or refuse a renewal of registration, the department of health shall serve upon the applicant or registrant written notice of the proposed action to be taken on the application or registration. The notice shall contain a statement of the type of discipline proposed, the basis therefor, the date such action shall go into effect and a statement that the registrant shall have thirty days to request in writing a hearing before the administrative hearing commission. If no written request for a hearing is received by the department of health within thirty days of the applicant's or registrant's receipt of the notice, the proposed discipline shall take effect thirty-one days from the date the original notice was received by the applicant or registrant. If the registrant or applicant makes a written request for a hearing, the department of health shall file a complaint with the administrative hearing commission within sixty days of receipt of the written request for a hearing. The complaint shall comply with the laws and regulations for actions brought before the administrative hearing commission. The department of health may issue letters of censure or warning and may enter into agreements with a registrant or applicant which restrict or limit a registration without formal notice or hearing.

12. The department of health may suspend any registration simultaneously with the institution of proceedings under subsection 7 of this section if the department of health finds that there is imminent danger to the public health or safety which warrants this action. The suspension shall continue in effect until the conclusion of the proceedings, including review thereof, unless sooner withdrawn by the department of health, dissolved by a court of competent jurisdiction or stayed by the administrative hearing commission.

8. (1) Any violation of subsection 5 of this section shall be a class D felony.

(2) Any person subject to subsection 6 of this section who does not submit a report as required or who knowingly submits a report with false or fictitious information shall be guilty of a class D felony and subject to a fine not exceeding ten thousand dollars.

(3) Any person who is found guilty a second time of not submitting a report as required in subsection 6 of this section or who knowingly submits such a report with false or fictitious information shall be guilty of a class C felony and subject to a fine not exceeding one hundred thousand dollars.

195.410. 1. No registration shall be issued under section 195.405 unless and until the applicant for such registration has furnished proof satisfactory to the department of health that:

(1) The applicant is of good moral character or, if the applicant is an association or corporation, that the managing officers are of good moral character; and

(2) The applicant is properly equipped as to land, building, and paraphernalia to carry on the business described in his application.

2. No registration shall be granted to any person who has within five years been finally adjudicated and found guilty, or entered a plea of guilty or nolo contendere, in a criminal prosecution under the laws of any state or of the United States, for any offense related to controlled substances or chemicals listed in subsection 2 of section 195.400.

3. The department of health shall register an applicant to manufacture, distribute, sell, transfer, or otherwise furnish listed chemicals unless it determines that the issuance of that registration would be inconsistent with the public interest. In determining the public interest, the following factors shall be considered:

(1) Maintenance of effective controls against diversion of controlled substances or chemicals listed in subsection 2 of section 195.400 into other than legitimate medical, scientific, or industrial channels;

(2) Compliance with applicable state and local law;

(3) Any convictions of an applicant under any federal or state laws relating to any controlled substance or chemicals listed in subsection 2 of section 195.400;

(4) Past experience in the manufacture or distribution of controlled substances or chemicals listed in subsection 2 of section 195.400 and the existence in the applicant's establishment of effective controls against diversion;

(5) Furnishing by the applicant of false or fraudulent material information in any application filed under section 195.405; and

(6) Any other factors that the department of health determines to be relevant to and consistent with the public health and safety.

4. Registration does not entitle a registrant to manufacture and distribute chemicals listed in subsection 2 of section 195.400 other than those specified in the registrant's registration.

5. A registration to manufacture, distribute, sell, transfer, or otherwise furnish or dispense a controlled substance or chemical listed in subsection 2 of section 195.400 may be suspended or revoked by the department of health upon a finding that the registrant has:

(1) Furnished false or fraudulent material information in any application filed under section 195.405;

(2) Been convicted of a felony under any state or federal law relating to any controlled substance or chemical listed in subsection 2 of section 195.400;

(3) Had his federal authority to manufacture, distribute or dispense controlled substances or chemicals listed in subsection 2 of section 195.400 suspended or revoked; or

(4) Violated any federal controlled substances or chemicals statute or regulation, or any provision of sections 195.005 to 195.425 or regulation promulgated pursuant to sections 195.005 to 195.425.

6. The department of health may limit revocation or suspension of a registration to a particular listed chemical with respect to which grounds for revocation or suspension exist.

7. If the department of health suspends or revokes a registration, all listed chemicals owned or possessed by the registrant at the time of suspension or the effective date of the revocation order may be placed under seal by the department and held pending final disposition of the case. No disposition may be made of chemicals under seal until the time for taking an appeal has elapsed or until all appeals have been concluded, unless a court, upon application therefor, orders the sale of perishable chemicals and the deposit of the proceeds of the sale with the court. Upon a revocation order becoming final, all chemicals may be forfeited to the state.

8. The department of health shall promptly notify the Drug Enforcement Administration, United States Department of Justice or their successor agencies, of all orders suspending or revoking registration and all forfeitures of controlled substances.

9. [Before denying, suspending or revoking a registration or refusing a renewal of registration, the department of health shall serve upon the applicant or registrant an order to show cause why registration should not be denied, revoked or suspended or why the renewal should not be refused. The order to show cause shall contain a statement of the basis therefor and shall call upon the applicant or registrant to appear before the department of health at a time and place not less than thirty days after the date of service of the order, but in the case of a denial or renewal of registration the show-cause order shall be served not later than thirty days before the expiration of the registration.

10. If the department of health shall refuse any person registration under sections 195.400 to 195.425, or shall revoke or suspend registration already issued under sections 195.400 to 195.425, the person shall have the right to seek a determination on such refusal, revocation or suspension by the administrative hearing commission.

11. If a determination is sought as provided in subsection 10 of this section, the department of health shall immediately certify all proceedings in reference to the cause to the administrative hearing commission.] A registration to manufacture or distribute listed chemicals may be suspended or revoked by the department of health upon a finding that the registrant:

(1) Has furnished false or fraudulent material information in any application filed pursuant to sections 195.005 to 195.425;

(2) Has been convicted of a felony pursuant to any state or federal law relating to any controlled substance or listed chemical;

(3) Has had his federal registration to manufacture, distribute or dispense controlled substances or his federal registration to manufacture or distribute listed chemicals suspended or revoked; or

(4) Has violated any federal controlled substances or listed chemical statute or regulation, or any provision of sections 195.005 to 195.425 or regulation promulgated pursuant to sections 195.005 to 195.425.

10. The department of health may warn or censure a registrant; limit a registration to particular listed chemicals; limit revocation or suspension of a registration to a particular listed chemical with respect to which grounds for revocation or suspension exist; restrict or limit a registration under such terms and conditions as the department of health considers appropriate for a period of five years; suspend or revoke a registration for a period not to exceed five years; or deny an application for registration. In any order of revocation, the department of health may provide that the registrant may not apply for a new registration for a period of time ranging from one to five years following the date of the order of revocation. All stay orders shall toll this time period.

11. If the department of health suspends or revokes a registration, all listed chemicals owned or possessed by the registrant at the time of suspension or the effective date of the revocation order may be placed under seal by the department and held pending final disposition of the case. No disposition may be made of chemicals under seal until the time for taking an appeal has elapsed or until all appeals have been concluded, unless a court, upon application, orders the sale of perishable chemicals and the deposit of the proceeds of the sale with the court. Upon a revocation order becoming final, all chemicals may be forfeited to the state.

12. The department of health may suspend without an order to show cause, any registration simultaneously with the institution of proceedings under subsection 5 of this section if the department of health finds that there is imminent danger to the public health or safety which warrants this action. The suspension shall continue in effect until the conclusion of the proceedings, including review of such proceedings unless sooner withdrawn by the department of health, dissolved by a court of competent jurisdiction or stayed by the administrative hearing commission.

195.420. 1. It is unlawful for any person to possess chemicals listed in subsection 2 of section 195.400, or any other chemicals proven to be precursor ingredients of methamphetamine as established by expert testimony pursuant to subsection 3 of this section, with the intent to manufacture, compound, convert, produce, process, prepare, test, or otherwise alter that chemical to create a controlled substance or a controlled substance analogue in violation of sections 195.005 to 195.425.

2. A person who violates this section is guilty of a class [D] C felony.

3. The state may present expert testimony to provide a prima facie case that a chemical not listed in subsection 2 of section 195.400 is an immediate precursor ingredient for producing methamphetamine.

490.730. 1. As used in this section, the term "hazardous materials" means any substance which is capable of posing an unreasonable risk to health, safety and property. It shall include any controlled substance or controlled substance analogue as defined in section 195.010, RSMo, or any substance which by its nature is explosive, flammable, corrosive, poisonous, radioactive, a biological hazard or a material which may cause spontaneous combustion. It shall include, but not be limited to, substances listed in the Table of Hazardous Materials contained in the Code of Federal Regulations-Title 49 and the National Fire Protection Association's Fire Protection Guide on Hazardous Materials.

2. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 575.100, RSMo, and with the approval of the affected court, any law enforcement officer who seizes hazardous materials as evidence related to a criminal investigation may collect representative samples of such hazardous materials, and destroy or dispose of, or direct another person to destroy or dispose of the remaining quantity of such hazardous materials.

3. In any prosecution, representative samples of hazardous materials accompanied by photographs, video tapes, laboratory analysis reports or other means used to verify and document the identity and quantity of the material shall be deemed competent evidence of such hazardous materials and shall be admissible in any proceeding, hearing or trial as if such materials had been introduced as evidence.

4. In any prosecution for violation of chapter 195, RSMo, in which the weight or quantity of a controlled substance is an element of the offense, the weight or quantity of the controlled substance necessary to prove the element of the offense shall be held as evidence; except that, any amount of controlled substance in excess of that which is necessary to prove the offense may be destroyed at the direction of the seizing law enforcement officer. Photographs, video tapes and laboratory analysis reports shall be admissible in any proceeding, hearing or trial as if such excess amount of controlled substances had been introduced as evidence.

542.301. 1. Unless the statute authorizing seizure provides otherwise, property which comes into the custody of an officer or of a court as the result of any seizure and which has not been returned to the claimant shall be disposed of as follows:

(1) Stolen property, or property acquired in any other manner declared an offense by chapters 569 and 570, RSMo, but not including any of the property referred to in subsection 2 of this section, shall be delivered by order of court upon claim having been made and established, to the person who is entitled to possession;

(2) The claim shall be made by written motion filed with the court with which a motion to suppress has been, or may be, filed. The claim shall be barred if not made within one year from the date of the seizure;

(3) Upon the filing of such motion, the judge shall order notice to be given to all persons interested in the property, including other claimants and the person from whose possession the property was seized, of the time, place and nature of the hearing to be held on the motion. The notice shall be given in a manner reasonably calculated to reach the attention of all interested persons. Notice may be given to unknown persons and to persons whose address is unknown by publication in a newspaper of general circulation in the county. No property shall be delivered to any claimant unless all interested persons have been given a reasonable opportunity to appear and to be heard;

(4) After a hearing, the judge shall order the property delivered to the person or persons entitled to possession, if any. The judge may direct that delivery of property required as evidence in a criminal proceeding shall be postponed until the need no longer exists;

(5) A law enforcement officer having custody of seized property may, at any time that seized property has ceased to be useful as evidence, request that the prosecuting attorney of the county in which property was seized file a motion with the court of such county for the disposition of the seized property. If the prosecuting attorney does not file such motion within sixty days of the request by the law enforcement officer having custody of the seized property, then such officer may request that the attorney general file a written motion with the circuit court of the county or judicial district in which the seizure occurred. Upon filing of the motion, the court shall issue an order directing the disposition of the property. If the property is not claimed within one year from the date of the seizure or if no one establishes a right to it, and the seized property has ceased to be useful as evidence, the judge authorized to order a delivery shall[, upon motion of the officer having custody of the property, or] upon [his] the judge's own motion, order a public sale of the property. The proceeds of the sale, less necessary expenses of preservation and sale, shall be paid into the county treasury for the use of the county. If the property is not salable, the judge may order its destruction;

(6) If the property is a living animal or is perishable, the judge may, at any time, order it sold at public sale. The proceeds shall be held in lieu of the property. A written description of the property sold shall be filed with the judge making the order of sale so that the claimant may identify the property. If the proceeds are not claimed within the time limited for the claim of the property, the proceeds shall be paid into the county treasury. If the property is not salable, the judge may order its destruction.

2. [(1)] Weapons, tools, devices, and substances other than motor vehicles, aircraft[,] or watercraft, used by the owner or with the owner's consent as a means for committing felonies other than the offense of possessing burglary tools in violation of section 569.180, RSMo, and property, the possession of which is an offense under the laws of this state or which has been used by the owner, or used with [his] the owner's acquiescence or consent, as a raw material or as an instrument to manufacture or produce anything the possession of which is an offense under the laws of this state, or which any statute authorizes or directs to be seized, other than lawfully possessed weapons seized by an officer incident to an arrest, shall be forfeited to the state of Missouri.

[(2)] 3. The officer who has custody of the property shall inform the prosecuting attorney of the fact of seizure and of the nature of the property. The prosecuting attorney shall thereupon file a written motion with the court with which the motion to suppress has been, or may be, filed praying for an order directing the forfeiture of the property. If the prosecuting attorney of a county in which property is seized fails to file a motion with the court for the disposition of the seized property within sixty days of the request by a law enforcement officer, the officer having custody of the seized property may request the attorney general to file a written motion with the circuit court of the county or judicial district in which the seizure occurred. Upon filing of the motion, the court shall issue an order directing the disposition of the property. The signed motion shall be returned to the requesting agency. A motion may also be filed by any person claiming the right to possession of the property praying that the court declare the property not subject to forfeiture and order it delivered to the moving party.

[(3)] 4. Upon the filing of a motion either by the prosecuting attorney or by a claimant, the judge shall order notice to be given to all persons interested in the property, including the person out of whose possession the property was seized and any lienors, of the time, place and nature of the hearing to be held on the motion. The notice shall be given in a manner reasonably calculated to reach the attention of all interested persons. Notice may be given to unknown persons and to persons of unknown address by publication in a newspaper of general circulation in the county. Every interested person shall be given a reasonable opportunity to appear and to be heard as to the nature of [his] the person's claim to the property and upon the issue of whether or not it is subject to forfeiture.

[(4)] 5. If the evidence is clear and convincing that the property in issue is in fact of a kind subject to forfeiture under this subsection, the judge shall declare it forfeited and order its destruction or sale. The judge shall direct that the destruction or sale of property needed as evidence in a criminal proceeding shall be postponed until this need no longer exists.

[(5)] 6. If the forfeited property can be put to a lawful use, it may be ordered sold after any alterations which are necessary to adapt it to a lawful use have been made. If there is a holder of a bona fide lien against property which has been used as a means for committing an offense or which has been used as a raw material or as an instrument to manufacture or produce anything which is an offense to possess, who establishes that the use was without [his] the lienholder's acquiescence or consent, the proceeds, less necessary expenses of preservation and sale, shall be paid to [him] the lienholder to the amount of [his] the lienholder's lien. The remaining amount shall be paid into the county treasury.

[(6)] 7. If the property is perishable the judge may order it sold at a public sale or destroyed, as may be appropriate, prior to a hearing. The proceeds of a sale, less necessary expenses of preservation and sale, shall be held in lieu of the property.

[3. (1)] 8. When a warrant has been issued to search for and seize allegedly obscene matter for forfeiture to the state, after an adversary hearing, the judge, upon return of the warrant with the matter seized, shall give notice of the fact to the prosecuting attorney of the county in which the matter was seized and the dealer, exhibitor[,] or displayer and shall conduct further adversary proceedings to determine whether the matter is subject to forfeiture. If the evidence is clear and convincing that the matter is obscene as defined by law and it was being held or displayed for sale, exhibition, distribution[,] or circulation to the public, the judge shall declare it to be obscene and forfeited to the state and order its destruction or other disposition[. However]; except that, no forfeiture shall be declared without the dealer, distributor[,] or displayer being given a reasonable opportunity to appear in opposition and without the judge having thoroughly examined each item. If the material to be seized is the same as or another copy of matter that has already been determined to be obscene in a criminal proceeding against the dealer, exhibitor, displayer or [his] such person's agent, the determination of obscenity in the criminal proceeding shall constitute clear and convincing evidence that the matter to be forfeited pursuant to this subsection is obscene. Except when the dealer, exhibitor[,] or displayer consents to a longer period, or by [his] such person's actions or pleadings willfully prevents the prompt resolution of the hearing, judgment shall be rendered within ten days of the return of the warrant. If the matter is not found to be obscene or is not found to have been held or displayed for sale, exhibition[,] or distribution to the public, or a judgment is not entered within the time provided for, the matter shall be restored forthwith to the dealer, exhibitor[,] or displayer.

[(2)] 9. If an appeal is taken by the dealer, exhibitor[,] or displayer from an adverse judgment, the case should be assigned for hearing at the earliest practicable date and expedited in every way. Destruction or disposition of a matter declared forfeited shall be postponed until the judgment has become final by exhaustion of appeal, or by expiration of the time for appeal, and until the matter is no longer needed as evidence in a criminal proceeding.

[(3)] 10. A determination of obscenity, pursuant to this subsection, shall not be admissible in any criminal proceeding against any person or corporation for sale or possession of obscene matter; except that dealer, distributor or displayer from which the obscene matter was seized for forfeiture to the state.

[4. (1)] 11. When allegedly obscene matter or pornographic material for minors has been seized under a search warrant issued pursuant to subsection 2 of section 542.281 and the matter is no longer needed as evidence in a criminal proceeding the prosecuting attorney of the county in which the matter was seized may file a written motion with the circuit court of the county or judicial district in which the seizure occurred praying for an order directing the forfeiture of the matter. Upon filing of the motion, the court shall set a date for a hearing. Written notice of date, time, place[,] and nature of the hearing shall be personally served upon the owner, dealer, exhibitor, displayer[,] or [his] such person's agent. Such notice shall be served no less than five days before the hearing.

[(2)] 12. If the evidence is clear and convincing that the matter is obscene as defined by law, and that the obscene material was being held or displayed for sale, exhibition, distribution[,] or circulation to the public or that the matter is pornographic for minors and that the pornographic material was being held or displayed for sale, exhibition, distribution or circulation to minors, the judge shall declare it to be obscene or pornographic for minors and forfeited to the state and order its destruction or other disposition. A determination that the matter is obscene in a criminal proceeding as well as a determination that such obscene material was held or displayed for sale, exhibition, distribution or circulation to the public or a determination that the matter is pornographic for minors in a criminal proceeding as well as a determination that such pornographic material was held or displayed for sale, exhibition, distribution[,] or circulation to minors shall be clear and convincing evidence that such material should be forfeited to the state[. However]; except that, no forfeiture shall be declared without the dealer, distributor[,] or displayer being given a reasonable opportunity to appear in opposition and without a judge having thoroughly examined each item. A dealer, distributor[,] or displayer shall have had reasonable opportunity to appear in opposition if the matter the prosecutor seeks to destroy is the same matter that formed the basis of a criminal proceeding against the dealer, distributor[,] or displayer where the dealer, distributor or displayer has been charged and found guilty of holding or displaying for sale, exhibiting, distributing or circulating obscene material to the public or pornographic material for minors to minors. If the matter is not found to be obscene, or if obscene material is not found to have been held or displayed for sale, exhibition, distribution[,] or circulation to the public, or if the matter is not found to be pornographic for minors or if pornographic material is not found to have been held or displayed for sale, exhibition, distribution[,] or circulation to minors, the matter shall be restored forthwith to the dealer, exhibitor[,] or displayer.

[(3)] 13. If an appeal is taken by the dealer, exhibitor[,] or displayer from an adverse judgment, the case shall be assigned for hearing at the earliest practicable date and expedited in every way. Destruction or disposition of matter declared forfeited shall be postponed until the judgment has become final by exhaustion of appeal, or by expiration of the time for appeal, and until the matter is no longer needed as evidence in a criminal proceeding.

[(4)] 14. A determination of obscenity shall not be admissible in any criminal proceeding against any person or corporation for sale or possession of obscene matter.

[5.] 15. An appeal by any party shall be allowed from the judgment of the court as in other civil actions.

304.156. 1. Within five working days of receipt of the crime inquiry and inspection report under section 304.155 or the abandoned property report under section 304.157, the director of revenue shall search the records of the department of revenue, or initiate an inquiry with another state, if the evidence presented indicated the abandoned property was registered or titled in another state, to determine the name and address of the owner [and/or] and lienholder, if any. After ascertaining the name and address of the owner [and/or] and lienholder, if any, the department shall, within fifteen working days, notify the towing company [and owner or lienholder]. Any towing company which comes into possession of abandoned property pursuant to section 304.155 or 304.157 and who claims a lien for recovering, towing or storing abandoned property shall give notice to the title owner and to all persons claiming a lien thereon, as disclosed by the records of the department of revenue or of a corresponding agency in any other state. The towing company shall notify the owner [and/or] and any lienholder within ten business days of the date of mailing indicated on the notice sent by the department of revenue, by certified mail, return receipt requested. The notice shall contain the following:

(1) The name, address and telephone number of the storage facility;

(2) The date, reason and place from which the abandoned property was removed;

(3) A statement that the amount of the accrued towing, storage and administrative costs are the responsibility of the owner, and that storage and/or administrative costs will continue to accrue as a legal liability of the owner until the abandoned property is redeemed;

(4) A statement that the storage firm claims a possessory lien for all such charges;

(5) A statement that the owner or holder of a valid security interest of record may retake possession of the abandoned property at any time during business hours by proving ownership or rights to a secured interest and paying all towing and storage charges;

(6) A statement that, should the owner consider that the towing or removal was improper or not legally justified, the owner has a right to request a hearing as provided in this section to contest the propriety of such towing or removal;

(7) A statement that if the abandoned property remains unclaimed for thirty days from the date of mailing the notice, title to the abandoned property will be transferred to the person or firm in possession of the abandoned property free of all prior liens; and

(8) A statement that any charges in excess of the value of the abandoned property at the time of such transfer shall remain a liability of the owner.

2. A towing company may assess reasonable storage charges for abandoned property only for the time in which it complies with the procedural requirements of [this section] sections 304.155 to 304.158.

3. In the event that the records of the department of revenue fail to disclose the name of the owner or any lienholder of record, the department shall notify the towing company which shall attempt to locate documents or other evidence of ownership on or within the abandoned property itself. The towing company must certify that a physical search of the abandoned property disclosed that no ownership documents were found and a good faith effort has been made. For purposes of this section, good faith effort means that the following checks have been performed by the company to establish the prior state of registration and title:

(1) Check of the abandoned property for any type of license plates, license plate record, temporary permit, inspection sticker, decal or other evidence which may indicate a state of possible registration and title;

(2) Check the law enforcement report for a license plate number or registration number if the abandoned property was towed at the request of a law enforcement agency;

(3) Check the tow ticket/report of the tow truck operator to see if a license plate was on the abandoned property at the beginning of the tow, if a private tow; and

(4) If there is no address of the owner on the impound report, check the law enforcement report to see if an out-of-state address is indicated on the driver license information.

4. If no ownership information is discovered, the director of revenue shall be notified in writing and title obtained in accordance with subsection 6 of this section.

5. (1) The owner of the abandoned property removed pursuant to the provisions of section 304.155 or 304.157 or any person claiming a lien, other than the towing company, within ten days after the receipt of notification from the towing company pursuant to subsection 1 of this section may file a petition in the associate circuit court in the county where the abandoned property is stored to determine if the abandoned property was wrongfully taken or withheld from the owner. The petition shall name the towing company among the defendants. The petition may also name the agency ordering the tow or the owner, lessee or agent of the real property from which the abandoned property was removed. The director of revenue shall not be a party to such petition but a copy of the petition shall be served on the director of revenue who shall not issue title to such abandoned property pursuant to this section until the petition is finally decided.

(2) Upon filing of a petition in the associate circuit court, the owner or lienholder may have the abandoned property released upon posting with the court a cash or surety bond or other adequate security equal to the amount of the charges for towing and storage to ensure the payment of such charges in the event he does not prevail. Upon the posting of the bond and the payment of the applicable fees, the court shall issue an order notifying the towing company of the posting of the bond and directing the towing company to release the abandoned property. At the time of such release, after reasonable inspection, the owner or lienholder shall give a receipt to the towing company reciting any claims for loss or damage to the abandoned property or the contents thereof.

(3) Upon determining the respective rights of the parties, the final order of the court shall provide for immediate payment in full of recovery, towing, and storage fees by the abandoned property owner or lienholder or the owner, lessee, or agent thereof of the real property from which the abandoned property was removed.

6. A towing and/or storage lien shall be enforced as provided in subsection 7 of this section.

7. Thirty days after the notification form has been mailed to the abandoned property owner and holder of a security agreement and the property is unredeemed and no satisfactory arrangement has been made with the lienholder in possession for continued storage, and the owner or holder of a security agreement has not requested a hearing as provided in subsection [4] 5 of this section, the lienholder in possession may apply to the director of revenue for a salvage certificate of title designated with the words "salvage/abandoned property" or junking certificate based on the condition of the abandoned property as stated in the abandoned property report or crime inquiry and inspection report. The application for title shall be accompanied by:

(1) An affidavit from the lienholder in possession that he has been in possession of the abandoned property for at least thirty days and the owner of the abandoned property or holder of a security agreement has not made arrangements for payment of towing and storage charges;

(2) An affidavit that the lienholder in possession has not been notified of any application for hearing as provided in this section;

(3) A copy of the abandoned property report or crime inquiry and inspection [form] report;

(4) A copy of the thirty-day notice given by certified mail to any owner and person holding a valid security interest and a copy of the certified mail receipt indicating that the owner and lienholder of record has received notice as required in this section.

8. If notice to the owner and holder of a security agreement has been returned marked "not forwardable" or "addressee unknown", the lienholder in possession shall comply with subsection 3 of this section.

9. Any municipality or county may adopt an ordinance regulating the removal and sale of abandoned property provided such ordinance is consistent with sections 304.155 to 304.158.

10. Any municipality or county which has physical possession of the abandoned property and which sells abandoned property in accordance with a local ordinance may transfer ownership by means of a bill of sale signed by the municipal or county clerk or deputy and sealed with the official municipal or county seal. Such bill of sale shall contain the make and model of the abandoned property, the complete abandoned property identification number and the odometer reading of the abandoned property if available and shall be lawful proof of ownership for any dealer registered under the provisions of section 301.218, RSMo, or section 301.560, RSMo, or for any other person. Any dealer or other person purchasing such property from a municipality or county shall apply within thirty days of purchase for a junking certificate or salvage certificate of title designated with the words "salvage/abandoned property". Anyone convicted of a violation of this section shall be guilty of an infraction.

11. Any persons who have towed abandoned property prior to August 28, 1996, may, [within one year after August 28, 1996] until January 1, 1998, apply to the department of revenue for either a junking certificate or a salvage certificate of title designated with the words "salvage/abandoned property" to such property. The application shall be accompanied by:

(1) A notarized affidavit explaining the circumstances by which the abandoned property came into their possession, including the name of the owner or possessor of real property from which the abandoned property was removed;

(2) The date of the removal;

(3) The current location of the abandoned property;

(4) An inspection of the abandoned property as prescribed [in section 304.155] by the director; and

(5) A copy of the thirty-day notice given by certified mail to any owner and person holding a valid security interest of record and a copy of the certified mail receipt.

12. If the director is satisfied with the genuineness of the application and supporting documents submitted pursuant to this section, the director shall issue a salvage certificate of title designated with the words "salvage/abandoned property" or a junking certificate.

13. When an application is made for an original Missouri certificate of ownership on abandoned property previously issued a salvage title as provided in this section, the application shall be accompanied by a properly completed vehicle examination certificate as provided in section 301.190, RSMo, in addition to other documents and fees required by law. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 301.573, RSMo, to the contrary, if satisfied with the genuiness of the application and supporting documents, the director shall issue an original title that shall not designate the abandoned property as being prior salvage unless the examination certificate indicates the vehicle was previously in a salvaged condition or rebuilt.

14. If the proceeds obtained by the towing company from sale of the abandoned property exceed the reasonable costs of towing and storage as allowed by law and the costs of retitling such property by more than one hundred dollars, the proceeds shall be returned to the previous owner of the property by a check made payable to both the previous owner and any lienholder of record. Such check shall be made out to the owner and lienholder in the conjunctive, "and", not the disjunctive, "or".

304.157. 1. If a person abandons property, as defined in section 304.001, on any real property owned by another without the consent of the owner or person in possession of the property, at the request of the person in possession of the real property, any member of the state highway patrol, state water patrol, sheriff, or other law enforcement officer within his jurisdiction may authorize a towing company to remove such abandoned property from the property in the following circumstances:

(1) The abandoned property is left unattended for more than forty-eight hours; or

(2) In the judgment of a law enforcement officer, the abandoned property constitutes a safety hazard or unreasonably interferes with the use of the real property by the person in possession.

2. A local government agency may also provide for the towing of motor vehicles from real property under the authority of any local ordinance providing for the towing of vehicles which are derelict, junk, scrapped, disassembled or otherwise harmful to the public health under the terms of the ordinance. Any local government agency authorizing a tow under this subsection shall report the tow to the local law enforcement agency within two hours with a crime inquiry and inspection report under section 304.155.

3. Neither the law enforcement officer, local government agency nor anyone having custody of abandoned property under his direction shall be liable for any damage to such abandoned property occasioned by a removal authorized by this section other than damages occasioned by negligence or by willful or wanton acts or omissions.

[2.] 4. The owner of real property or lessee in lawful possession of the real property may authorize a towing company to remove abandoned property without authorization by a law enforcement officer only when the owner, lessee or agent of the real property is present and only under any of the following circumstances:

(1) There is displayed, in plain view at all entrances to the property, a sign not less than seventeen by twenty-two inches in size, with lettering not less than one inch in height, prohibiting public parking and indicating that unauthorized abandoned property will be removed at the owner's expense, disclosing the maximum fee for all charges related to towing and storage, and containing the telephone number of the local traffic law enforcement agency where information can be obtained;

(2) The abandoned property is left unattended on private property for over ninety-six hours and lacks an engine, transmission, wheels, tires, doors, windshield or any other major part or equipment necessary to operate safely on the highways[, the owner or lessee of the private property has notified the city police or county sheriff, as appropriate, and ninety-six hours have elapsed since that notification]; or

(3) The abandoned property is left unattended on private property[, and the owner, lessee or agent of the real property in lawful possession of real property has notified the appropriate law enforcement agency, and ten days have elapsed since that notification] for over ten days.

[The department of revenue may design and make available to police agencies throughout the state a uniform "Authorization to Tow" form. The form shall contain lines for time, date, location, descriptive information of the vehicle, reason for towing, the tow operator and company and signature of authorizing officer. The cost of the forms shall be determined by the department of revenue. The completed form shall be issued by the authorizing officer to the tow operator for that company's records as proof of authorization to tow a particular vehicle.]

6. Any towing company which tows abandoned property without authorization from a law enforcement officer pursuant to subsection 4 of this section shall deliver a copy of the abandoned property report to the local law enforcement agency having jurisdiction over the location from which the abandoned property was towed. The copy may be produced and sent by facsimile machine or other device which produces a near exact likeness of the print and signatures required, but only if the law enforcement agency receiving the report has the technological capability of receiving such copy and has registered the towing company for such purpose. The report shall be delivered within two hours if the tow was made from a signed location under subdivision (1) of subsection 4; otherwise, the report shall be delivered within twenty-four hours.

[4.] 7. The law enforcement agency receiving such abandoned property report must record the date on which the abandoned property report is filed with such agency and [within five days of such filing] shall promptly make an inquiry into the national crime information center and any statewide Missouri law enforcement computer system to determine if the abandoned property has been reported as stolen. [6. Any towing company which tows abandoned property without authorization from a law enforcement officer pursuant to subdivision (1) of subsection 2 of this section shall within one hour of the tow report the event and the circumstances to the local law enforcement agency where the abandoned property report was filed.]

[7.] 8. The law enforcement agency receiving notification that abandoned property has been towed by a towing company shall [record the date the property was towed and shall forward a copy of the abandoned property report to the director of revenue.] search the records of the department of revenue and provide the towing company with the latest owner and lienholder information on the abandoned property. If the abandoned property is not claimed within ten working days, the towing company shall send a copy of the abandoned property report signed by a law enforcement officer to the department of revenue.

[8.] 9. If any owner or lessee of real property knowingly authorizes the removal of abandoned property in violation [pursuant to subsection 2 of this section and such property is so removed and no sign is displayed prior to such removal as required pursuant to subsection 2] of this section, then the owner or lessee shall be deemed guilty of a class C misdemeanor.

304.158. 1. [The person or agency causing] Notice as to the removal of any abandoned property under section 304.155 or 304.157 shall [, if the person or agency knows the registered owner or lienholder,] be made in writing within five working days [, give notice in writing] to the registered owner and any lienholder of the fact of the removal, the grounds for the removal, and [indicate] the place to which the property has been removed by either:

4. Any owner of any private property causing the removal of abandoned property parked on that property is liable to the owner of the abandoned property for double the storage or towing charges whenever there has been a failure to comply with the requirements of this section or [to state the grounds for the removal of the property if requested by the registered owner of the abandoned property as required by subsection 2 of this section] section 304.157.

A person operating or in charge of such storage facility who refuses to accept a valid bank credit card pursuant to this subsection is liable to the registered owner of the abandoned property for four times the amount of the towing and storage charges, but not to exceed five hundred dollars.] In addition, persons operating or in charge of the storage facility shall have sufficient moneys on the premises to accommodate, and make change in, a reasonable monetary transaction.

8. A towing company shall not remove or commence the removal of abandoned property from private property without first obtaining written authorization from the property owner. "577.037. 1. Upon the trial of any person for violation of any of the provisions of section 565.024, RSMo, or section 565.060, RSMo, or section 577.010 or 577.012, or upon the trial of any criminal action or violations of county or municipal ordinances or in any license suspension or revocation proceeding pursuant to the provisions of chapter 302, RSMo, arising out of acts alleged to have been committed by any person while driving a motor vehicle while in an intoxicated condition, the amount of alcohol in the person's blood at the time of the act alleged as shown by any chemical analysis of the person's blood, breath, saliva or urine is admissible in evidence and the provisions of subdivision (5) of section 491.060, RSMo, shall not prevent the admissibility or introduction of such evidence if otherwise admissible. If there was ten-hundredths of one percent or more by weight of alcohol in the person's blood, this shall be prima facie evidence that the person was intoxicated at the time the specimen was taken.

2. Percent by weight of alcohol in the blood shall be based upon grams of alcohol per one hundred milliliters of blood or grams of alcohol per two hundred ten liters of breath.

3. The foregoing provisions of this section shall not be construed as limiting the introduction of any other competent evidence bearing upon the question whether the person was intoxicated.

4. A chemical analysis of a person's breath, blood, saliva or urine, in order to give rise to the presumption or to have the effect provided for in subsection 1 of this section, shall have been performed as provided in sections 577.020 to 577.041 and in accordance with methods and standards approved by the state department of health. Any person who submits to a chemical test shall sign a form stating that such test was conducted before such test may be admitted into evidence, unless such test is conducted pursuant to section 577.033. Such person may request that the results of the chemical test be made available to him.

5. Any charge alleging a violation of section 577.010 or 577.012 or any county or municipal ordinance prohibiting driving while intoxicated or driving under the influence of alcohol shall be dismissed with prejudice if a chemical analysis of the defendant's breath, blood, saliva, or urine performed in accordance with sections 577.020 to 577.041 and rules promulgated thereunder by the state department of health demonstrate that there was less than ten-hundredths of one percent of alcohol in the defendant's blood unless one or more of the following considerations cause the court to find a dismissal unwarranted:

(1) There is evidence that the chemical analysis is unreliable as evidence of the defendant's intoxication at the time of the alleged violation due to the lapse of time between the alleged violation and the obtaining of the specimen;

(2) There is evidence that the defendant was under the influence of a controlled substance, or drug, or a combination of either or both with or without alcohol; or

(3) There is substantial evidence of intoxication from physical observations of witnesses or admissions of the defendant."; and

There shall be individual proration factors for each categorical entitlement provided for in this subsection, and each proration factor shall be determined by annual appropriations, but no categorical proration factor shall exceed the entitlement proration factor established pursuant to subsection 1 of this section, except that the vocational education entitlement proration factor established pursuant to line 16 of subsection 6 of this section and the educational and screening program entitlements proration factor established pursuant to line 17 of subsection 6 of this section may exceed the entitlement proration factor established pursuant to subsection 1 of this section. The categorical add-on for the district shall be the sum of: seventy-five percent of the district allowable transportation costs pursuant to section 163.161 multiplied by the proration factor; the special education approved or allowed cost entitlement for the district, provided for by section 162.975, RSMo, multiplied by the proration factor; seventy-five percent of the district gifted education approved or allowable cost entitlement as determined pursuant to section 162.975, RSMo, multiplied by the proration factor; the free and reduced lunch eligible pupil count for the district, as defined in section 163.011, multiplied by twenty percent times the guaranteed tax base per eligible pupil times the minimum value for an operating levy for school purposes as provided in section 163.011 times the proration factor; the career ladder entitlement for the district, as provided for in sections 168.500 to 168.515, RSMo, multiplied by the proration factor; the vocational education entitlement for the district, as provided for in section 167.332, RSMo, multiplied by the proration factor and the district educational and screening program entitlements as provided for in sections 178.691 to 178.699, RSMo, times the proration factor.*

4. Each district's apportionment shall be the prorated categorical add-ons plus the greater of the district's prorated entitlement minus the total deductions for the district or zero.

5. (1) In the 1993-94 school year and all subsequent school years, pursuant to section 10(c) of article X of the state constitution, a school district shall adjust upward its operating levy for school purposes to the extent necessary for the district to at least maintain the current operating expenditures per pupil received by the district from all sources in the 1992-93 school year, except that its operating levy for school purposes shall not exceed the highest tax rate in effect subsequent to the 1980 tax year, or the minimum rate required by subsection 2 of section 163.021, whichever is less.

(2) Beginning with the 1993-94 school year, the revenue per eligible pupil received by a district from the following sources: line 1 minus line 10, or zero if line 1 minus line 10 is less than zero, plus line 14 of subsection 6 of this section; plus the product of the current assessed valuation of the district multiplied by the following tax rate - the greater of zero or the minimum rate required by subsection 2 of section 163.021 minus the district's equalized operating levy for school purposes for 1993, shall not be less than the revenue per eligible pupil received by a district in the 1992-93 school year from the foundation formula entitlement payment amount. The department of elementary and secondary education shall make an addition in the payment amount of line 19 of subsection 6 of this section to assure compliance with the provisions contained in this section.

(3) For any school district which meets the eligibility criteria for state aid as established in section 163.021, but which under subsections 1 to 4 of this section, receives no state aid for two successive school years, other than categorical add-ons, by August first following the second such school year, the commissioner of education shall present a plan to the superintendent of the school district for the waiver of rules and the duration of said waivers, in order to promote flexibility in the operations of the district and to enhance and encourage efficiency in the delivery of instructional services. The provisions of other law to the contrary notwithstanding, the plan presented to the superintendent shall provide a summary waiver, with no conditions, for the pupil testing requirements pursuant to section 160.257, RSMo. Further, the provisions of other law to the contrary notwithstanding, the plan shall detail a means for the waiver of requirements otherwise imposed on the school district related to the authority of the state board of education to classify school districts pursuant to section 161.092, RSMo, and such other rules as determined by the commissioner of education, except that such waivers shall not include the provisions established pursuant to sections 160.514 and 160.518, RSMo.

(4) In the 1993-94 school year and each school year thereafter for two years, those districts which are entitled to receive state aid under subsections 1 to 4 of this section, shall receive state aid in an amount per eligible pupil as provided in this subsection. For the 1993-94 school year, the amount per eligible pupil shall be twenty- five percent of the amount of state aid per eligible pupil calculated for the district for the 1993-94 school year pursuant to subsections 1 to 4 of this section plus seventy-five percent of the total amount of state aid received by the district from all sources for the 1992-93 school year for which the district is entitled and which are distributed in the 1993-94 school year pursuant to subsections 1 to 4 of this section. For the 1994-95 school year, the amount per eligible pupil shall be fifty percent of the amount of state aid per eligible pupil calculated for the district for the 1994-95 school year pursuant to subsections 1 to 4 of this section plus fifty percent of the total amount of state aid received by the district from all sources for the 1992-93 school year for which the district is entitled and which are distributed in the 1994-95 school year pursuant to subsections 1 to 4 of this section. For the 1995-96 school year, the amount of state aid per eligible pupil shall be seventy-five percent of the amount of state aid per eligible pupil calculated for the district for the 1995-96 school year pursuant to subsections 1 to 4 of this section plus twenty-five percent of the total amount of state aid received by the district from all sources for the 1992-93 school year for which the district is entitled and which are distributed in the 1995-96 school year pursuant to subsections 1 to 4 of this section. Nothing in this subdivision shall be construed to limit the authority of a school district to raise its district operating levy pursuant to subdivision (1) of this subsection.

(5) If the total of state aid apportionments to all districts pursuant to subdivision (3) of this subsection is less than the total of state aid apportionments calculated pursuant to subsections 1 to 4 of this section, then the difference shall be deposited in the outstanding schools trust fund. If the total of state aid apportionments to all districts pursuant to subdivision (1) of this subsection is greater than the total of state aid apportionments calculated pursuant to subsections 1 to 4 of this section, then funds shall be transferred from the outstanding schools trust fund to the state school moneys fund to the extent necessary to fund the district entitlements as modified by subdivision (4) of this subsection for that school year with a district entitlement proration factor no less than one and such transfer shall be given priority over all other uses for the outstanding schools trust fund as otherwise provided by law.

First Regular Session, 89th General Assembly

SEVENTY-THIRD DAY, Thursday, May 15, 1997

Speaker Pro Tem Kreider in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Cheryl L. Tatham.

O God, the words of your servant, James Weldon Johnson, seem appropriate for this morning: "O Lord, we come this morning knee-bowed and body-bent before your throne of grace. O Lord - this morning - bow our hearts beneath our knees and our knees in some lonesome valley. We come this morning like empty pitchers to a full fountain, with no merits of our own. O Lord, open up a window of heaven, and lean out far over the battlements of glory, and listen this morning..."

These people come into the House this day, with bleary eyes and weary bodies, under the pressure of deadlines and criticism. They come to this day with work yet to be done. Be with them - representatives, support staff - and all who feel the burden of responsibilities. Renew their strength for this day and those to come.

On this Missouri Peace Officers Memorial Day, let us remember and give thanks for the men and women in the field of law enforcement who have given their lives to protect ours. Let us never forget them. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Micah Cash, Nick Heiser, Rachele Jones, Trevis Day, Amanda L. Stekloff, Kelly M. Sweet, Bridgette L. Brown, Tyler E. Mains, Bobby J. Gray, Natalie M. Wood, Chase Watson, Tara Brooks, Nicole Hottovy, Nikki Pitman, Charles Ellis, Chad McReynolds, Lindsey Lowrey, Anna Hansen, Tamara Brunich and Reagan Kelly.

The Journal of the seventy-second day was approved as corrected.

Representative Green offered House Amendment No. 5.

House Amendment No. 5

AMEND House Committee Substitute for Senate Substitute for Senate Bill No. 361, Page 23, Section 452.340, Lines 1 to 94, by deleting all of said section and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"452.340. 1. In a proceeding for dissolution of marriage, legal separation or child support, the court may order either or both parents owing a duty of support to a child of the marriage to pay an amount reasonable or necessary for his support, including an award retroactive to the date of filing the petition, without regard to marital misconduct, after considering all relevant factors including:

(1) The financial needs and resources of the child;

(2) The financial resources and needs of the parents;

(3) The standard of living the child would have enjoyed had the marriage not been dissolved;

(4) The physical and emotional condition of the child, and his educational needs; and

(5) The child's physical and legal custody arrangements, including the amount of time the child spends with each parent and the reasonable expenses associated with the physical and legal or physical or legal custody arrangements.

2. The obligation of the [noncustodial] parent ordered to make support payments shall abate, in whole or in part[,]:

(1) For such periods of time in excess of thirty consecutive days that the [custodial] other parent has voluntarily relinquished physical custody of a child to the [noncustodial] parent ordered to pay child support, notwithstanding any periods of visitation or temporary physical and legal or physical or legal custody pursuant to a [decree] judgment of dissolution or legal separation or any modification thereof[.];

(2) For such periods of time twenty-eight consecutive days or longer, pursuant to a decree of dissolution or legal separation or any modification thereof, during which the parent ordered to pay child support is the primary caretaker of any child subject to such decree, notwithstanding any periods of visitation by the other parent during such periods, unless the court has already considered or provided for the visitation in establishing or determining the child support obligations.

In [an] a IV-D case, the division of child support enforcement may determine the amount of the abatement under this subsection for any child support order. In such cases, upon notification by the division, the circuit clerk shall record the amount of abatement on the child support trusteeship record established pursuant to this chapter and chapter 454, RSMo.

3. Unless the circumstances of the child manifestly dictate otherwise and the court specifically so provides, the obligation of a parent to make child support payments shall terminate when the child:

(1) Dies;

(2) Marries;

(3) Enters active duty in the military;

(4) Becomes self-supporting, provided that the custodial parent has relinquished the child from parental control by express or implied consent; or

(5) Reaches age eighteen, unless the provisions of subsection 4 or 5 of this section apply.

4. If the child is physically or mentally incapacitated from supporting himself and insolvent and unmarried, the court may extend the parental support obligation past the child's eighteenth birthday.

5. If when a child reaches age eighteen, he is enrolled in and attending a secondary school program of instruction, the parental support obligation shall continue, if the child continues to attend and satisfactorily progresses toward completion of said program, until the child completes such program or reaches age twenty-one, whichever first occurs. If the child is enrolled in an institution of vocational or higher education not later than October first following graduation from a secondary school or completion of a graduation equivalence degree and so long as the child [continues to attend] enrolls for and completes at least twelve hours of classes each term at an [such] institution of vocational or higher education and achieves grades sufficient to re-enroll at such institution, the parental support obligation shall continue until the child completes his education, or until the child reaches the age of twenty-two, whichever first occurs. To remain eligible for such continued parental support, the child shall submit to each parent a transcript provided by the institution of vocational or higher education which includes the courses the child is enrolled in and has completed for each term, the grades and credits received for each such course, and the courses which the child is enrolled in for the upcoming term and the number of credits for each such course. If the circumstances of the child manifestly dictate, the court may waive the October first deadline for enrollment required by this subsection. If the child is enrolled in such an institution, the child or obligated parent may petition the court to amend the order to direct the obligated parent to make the payments directly to the child. As used in this section, an "institution of vocational education" means any postsecondary training or schooling for which the student is assessed a fee and attends classes regularly. "Higher education" means any junior college, college, or university at which the child attends classes regularly.

6. At the parent's option, a parent may pay one-half of the college room, board, tuition, mandatory fees and book expenses of the child in lieu of child support during the months when a child attends school, if such child is enrolled as a full-time student and living away form the family residence for a majority of the school year, unless provisions for payment of college expenses are specified in the parenting plan or court order.

7. The general assembly finds and declares that it is the public policy of this state to assure children frequent, continuing and meaningful contact with both parents except for cases where the court specifically finds to the contrary. In order to effectuate this public policy, a court with jurisdiction shall enforce visitation, custody and child support orders in the same manner. A court with jurisdiction may abate, in whole or in part, any future obligation of support [or] and may transfer the physical and legal or physical or legal custody of one or more children if it finds[:

(1)] That a [custodial] parent has, without good cause, failed to provide visitation or [temporary] physical and legal or physical or legal custody to the [noncustodial] other parent pursuant to the terms of a [decree] judgment of dissolution, legal separation or modifications thereof[; and

(2) That the noncustodial parent is current in payment of all support obligations pursuant to the terms of a decree of dissolution, legal separation or modifications thereof]. The court may also award reasonable [attorney] expenses, attorney's fees [to] and court costs incurred by the prevailing party.

[7.] 8. Not later than October 13, 1989, the Missouri supreme court shall have in effect a rule establishing guidelines by which any award of child support shall be made in any judicial or administrative proceeding. Said guidelines shall contain specific, descriptive and numeric criteria which will result in a computation of the support obligation. By July 1, 1996, the guidelines shall address how the amount of child support [should] shall be calculated when an award of joint physical custody results in the child or children spending substantially equal time with both parents. Not later than July 1, 1998, the child support guidelines shall be adjusted by the supreme court and specifically list and explain the relevant factors and assumptions that were used to calculate the child support guidelines including but not limited to how much visitation or temporary physical custody the parent ordered to pay child support is assumed to have. Any rule made pursuant to this subsection shall be reviewed by the promulgating body not less than once every [four] three years to ensure that its application results in the determination of appropriate child support award amounts.

[8.] 9. Beginning October 13, 1989, there shall be a rebuttable presumption, in any judicial or administrative proceeding for the award of child support, that the amount of the award which would result from the application of the guidelines established pursuant to subsection [7] 8 of this section is the correct amount of child support to be awarded. A written finding or specific finding on the record in a judicial or administrative proceeding that the application of the guidelines would be unjust or inappropriate in a particular case, after considering all relevant factors, including the factors set out in subsection 1 of this section, is required if requested by a party and shall be sufficient to rebut the presumption in the case. The written finding or specific finding on the record shall detail the specific relevant factors that required a deviation from the application of the guidelines.

[9.] 10. Under this or any other chapter, when a court determines the amount owed by a parent for support provided to his child by another person prior to the date of filing of a petition requesting support, or when the director of the division of child support enforcement establishes the amount of state debt due under subdivision (2) of subsection 1 of section 454.465, RSMo, the court or director shall use the guidelines established under subsection [7] 8 of this section. The amount of child support resulting from the application of the guidelines shall be applied retroactively for a period prior to the establishment of a support order and the length of the period of retroactivity shall be left to the discretion of the court or director. There shall be a rebuttable presumption that the amount resulting from application of the guidelines under subsection [7] 8 of this section constitutes the amount owed by the parent for the period prior to the date of the filing of the petition for support or the period for which state debt is being established. In applying the guidelines to determine a retroactive support amount, when information as to average monthly income is available, the court or director may use the average monthly income of the noncustodial parent, as averaged over the period of retroactivity, in determining the amount of presumed child support owed for the period of retroactivity. The court or director may enter a different amount in a particular case upon finding, after consideration of all relevant factors, including the factors set out in subsection 1 of this section, that there is sufficient cause to rebut the presumed amount."; and

Further amend said bill, Page 33, Section 452.370, Lines 1 to 50, by deleting all of said section and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"452.370. 1. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 6 of section 452.325, the provisions of any decree respecting maintenance or support may be modified only upon a showing of changed circumstances so substantial and continuing as to make the terms unreasonable. In a proceeding for modification of any child support or maintenance award, the court, in determining whether or not a substantial change in circumstances has occurred, shall consider all financial resources of both parties, including the extent to which the reasonable expenses of either party are, or should be, shared by a spouse or other person with whom he or she [cohabits] resides, and the earning capacity of a party who is not employed. If the application of the child support guidelines and criteria set forth in section 452.340 and applicable supreme court [rule 88.01] rules to the financial circumstances of the parties would result in a change of child support from the existing amount by twenty percent or more, then a prima facie showing has been made of a change of circumstances so substantial and continuing as to make the present terms unreasonable, if the existing amount was based upon the presumed amount under child support guidelines.

2. When the party seeking modification has met the burden of proof set forth in subsection 1 of this section, then the child support shall be determined in conformity with criteria set forth in section 452.340 and applicable supreme court [rule 88.01] rules.

3. Unless otherwise agreed in writing or expressly provided in the decree, the obligation to pay future statutory maintenance is terminated upon the death of either party or the remarriage of the party receiving maintenance.

4. Unless otherwise agreed in writing or expressly provided in the decree, provisions for the support of a child are terminated by emancipation of the child. The custodial parent shall have the duty to notify the noncustodial parent of the child's emancipation and failing to do so the custodial parent shall be liable to the noncustodial parent for child support paid, plus interest, to the custodial parent following emancipation of a minor child.

5. [In any case wherein] If a parent has made an assignment of support rights to the division of family services on behalf of the state as a condition of eligibility for benefits [under] pursuant to the aid to families with dependent children program and either party initiates a motion to modify the support obligation by reducing it, the state of Missouri shall be named as a party to the motion. The state shall be served with a copy of the motion by sending it by certified mail to the director of the division of child support enforcement.

6. The circuit court shall have continuing personal jurisdiction over both the obligee and the obligor of a court order for child support or maintenance for the purpose of modifying such order. Both obligee and obligor shall notify, in writing, the circuit clerk of the court in which the support or maintenance order was entered of any change of mailing address. If a personal service of the motion cannot be had in this state, the motion to modify and notice of hearing shall be served outside the state as provided by supreme court rule 54.14. The order may be modified only as to support or maintenance installments which accrued subsequent to the date of personal service. For the purpose of 42 U.S.C. 666(a)(9)(C), the circuit clerk shall be considered the "appropriate agent" to receive notice of the motion to modify for the obligee or the obligor, but only in those instances in which personal service could not be had in this state.

7. If a responsive pleading raising the issues of custody or visitation is filed in response to a motion to modify child support filed at the request of the division of child support enforcement by a prosecuting attorney or circuit attorney or an attorney under contract with the division, such responsive pleading shall be severed upon request.

8. Notwithstanding any provision of this section which requires a showing of substantial and continuing change in circumstances, in a IV-D case filed pursuant to this section by the division of child support enforcement as provided in section 454.400, RSMo, the court shall modify a support order in accordance with the guidelines and criteria set forth in supreme court rule 88.01 and any regulations thereunder if the amount in the current order differs from the amount which would be awarded in accordance with such guidelines or regulations."; and

Further amend said bill, Page 55, Section 454.496, Lines 1 to 66, by deleting all of said section and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"454.496. 1. At any time after the entry of a court order for child support in a case in which support rights have been assigned to the state [of Missouri] pursuant to section 208.040, RSMo, or a case in which support enforcement services are being provided [under] pursuant to section 454.425, the obligated parent, the obligee or the division of child support enforcement may file a motion to modify the existing child support order [under] pursuant to this section, [provided that] if a review has first been completed by the director of child support enforcement pursuant to subdivision (13) of subsection 2 of section 454.400. The motion shall be in writing in a form prescribed by the director, shall set out the reasons for modification and shall state the telephone number and address of the moving party. The motion shall be served in the same manner provided for in subsection 5 of section 454.465 upon the obligated parent, the obligee and the division, as appropriate. In addition, if the support rights are held by the division of family services on behalf of the state, the moving party shall mail a true copy of the motion by certified mail to the person having custody of the dependent child at the last known address of that person. The party against whom the motion is made shall have thirty days either to resolve the matter by stipulated agreement or to serve the moving party and the director, as appropriate, by regular mail with a written response setting forth any objections to the motion and a request for hearing. When requested, the hearing shall be conducted pursuant to section 454.475 by hearing officers designated by the department of social services. In such proceedings, the hearing officers shall have the authority granted to the director pursuant to subsection 6 of section 454.465.

2. When no objections and request for hearing have been served within thirty days, the director, upon proof of service, shall enter an order granting the relief sought. Copies of the order shall be mailed to the parties within fourteen days of issuance.

3. A motion to modify made pursuant to this section shall not stay the director from enforcing and collecting upon the existing order unless so ordered by the court in which the order is docketed.

4. The only support payments which may be modified are payments accruing subsequent to the service of the motion upon all parties to the motion.

5. The party requesting modification shall have the burden of proving that a modification is appropriate [under] pursuant to the provisions of section 452.370, RSMo.

6. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 454.490 to the contrary, an administrative order modifying a court order is not effective until the administrative order is filed with and approved by the court that entered the court order. The court may approve the administrative order if no party affected by the decision has filed a petition for judicial review pursuant to sections 536.100 to 536.140, RSMo. After the thirty-day time period for filing a petition of judicial review pursuant to chapter 536, RSMo, has passed, the court shall render its decision within fifteen days. If a petition for judicial review is filed, the court shall review all pleadings and the administrative record, as defined in section 536.130, RSMo, pursuant to section 536.140, RSMo. After such review, the court shall determine if the administrative order complies with [the provisions of] section 452.340 and applicable supreme court [rule 88.01] rules. If it so determines, the court shall make a written finding on the record that the order complies with [the provisions of] section 452.340 and applicable supreme court [rule 88.01] rules and approve the order[. If upon review the court finds that the administrative order should not be approved, the court shall set the matter for trial de novo. If no action is taken by the court within forty-five days of the filing of the administrative order with the court, and no petition for judicial review has been filed pursuant to sections 536.100 to 536.140, RSMo, the court shall be deemed to have made a written finding that the administrative order complies with the provisions of supreme court rule 88.01 and to have approved the administrative order.] or, if after review pursuant to section 536.140, RSMo, the court finds that the administrative order does not comply with supreme court rule 88.01, the court may select any of the remedies set forth in subsection 5 of section 536.140, RSMo. The court shall notify the parties and the division of any setting pursuant to this section.

7. Notwithstanding the venue provisions of chapter 536, RSMo, to the contrary, for the filing of petitions for judicial review of final agency decisions and contested cases, the venue for the filing of a petition for judicial review contesting an administrative order entered [under] pursuant to this section modifying a judicial order shall be in the court which entered the judicial order. In such cases in which a petition for judicial review has been filed, the court shall consider the matters raised in the petition and determine if the administrative order complies with section 452.340 and applicable supreme court [rule 88.01] rules. If the court finds that the administrative order should not be approved, the court shall set the matter for trial de novo. The court shall notify the parties and the division of the setting of such proceeding. If the court determines that the matters raised in the petition are without merit and that the administrative order complies with the provisions of section 452.340 and applicable supreme court [rule 88.01] rules, the court shall approve the order.

8. Any administrative order or decision of the division of child support enforcement filed in the office of the circuit clerk of the court shall not be required to be signed by an attorney, as provided by supreme court rule of civil procedure 55.03(a), or required to have any further pleading other than the administrative order.".

The division of medical services shall define the amount and scope of benefits which are available to individuals eligible [under] pursuant to each of the subdivisions (12), (13), and (14) of this subsection, in accordance with the requirements of federal law and regulations promulgated thereunder except that the scope of benefits shall include case management services;

The division shall provide such application forms to applicants whose preliminary income information indicates that they are ineligible for [aid to families with dependent children] benefits through the work first program. Applicants for medical assistance benefits [under] pursuant to subdivision (12), (13) or (14) shall be informed of the [aid to families with dependent children program] work first program and that they are entitled to apply for such benefits. Any forms utilized by the division of family services for assessing eligibility [under] pursuant to this chapter shall be as simple as practicable;

(20) Subject to appropriations necessary to recruit and train such staff, the division of family services shall provide one or more full-time, permanent case workers to process applications for medical assistance at the site of a health care provider, if the health care provider requests the placement of such case workers and reimburses the division for the expenses including but not limited to salaries, benefits, travel, training, telephone, supplies, and equipment, of such case workers. The division may provide a health care provider with a part-time or temporary case worker at the site of a health care provider if the health care provider requests the placement of such a case worker and reimburses the division for the expenses, including but not limited to the salary, benefits, travel, training, telephone, supplies, and equipment, of such a case worker. (23) By January 1, 1988, the department of social services and the department of health shall study all significant aspects of presumptive eligibility for pregnant women and submit a joint report on the subject, including projected costs and the time needed for implementation, to the general assembly. All rules promulgated pursuant to the provisions of this section shall expire on August twenty-eighth of the year after the year in which the rule became effective unless the general assembly extends by statute the rule or set of rules beyond that date to a date specified by the general assembly.

4. Any rulemaking authority granted pursuant to the provisions of this act is subject to any rulemaking authority contained in chapter 536, RSMo, including any subsequent amendments to chapter 536, RSMo.

5. The provisions of this section shall terminate if legislation amending the provisions of section 536.024, RSMo, has been signed into law prior to the effective date of this act."; and

Further amend said bill, Page 1, In the Title, Line 20, by striking the words "federal mandates for child support enforcement" and inserting in lieu thereof the words "The Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act of 1996"; and Further amend the title and enacting clause accordingly.

Senate Amendment No. 2

AMEND Senate Substitute for House Committee Substitute for House Bill No. 411, by striking the following: "complying with federal mandates for child support enforcement" and inserting in lieu the following: "providing certain services to families"; and

Further amend said bill, page 40, section 451.040, line 9, by inserting immediately after said line the following:

"452.150. The father and mother living apart are entitled to an adjudication [of] by the circuit court as to their powers, rights and duties in respect to the custody and control and the services and earnings and management of the property of their unmarried minor children without any preference as between the said father and mother, and neither the father nor the mother has any right paramount to that of the other in respect to the custody and control or the services and earnings or of the management of the property of their said unmarried minor children; pending such adjudication the father or mother who actually has the custody and control of said unmarried minor children shall have the sole right to the custody and control and to the services and earnings and to the management of the property of said unmarried minor children. The mere fact that one parent has actual custody of the minor children at the time of filing shall not create a preference for the court in its adjudication of custody and child support."; and

Further amend said bill, pages 43 to 48, section 452.340, by striking all of said section and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"452.340. 1. In a proceeding for dissolution of marriage, legal separation or child support, the court may order either or both parents owing a duty of support to a child of the marriage to pay an amount reasonable or necessary for his support, including an award retroactive to the date of filing the petition, without regard to marital misconduct, after considering all relevant factors including:

(1) The financial needs and resources of the child;

(2) The financial resources and needs of the parents;

(3) The standard of living the child would have enjoyed had the marriage not been dissolved;

(4) The physical and emotional condition of the child, and his educational needs; and

(5) The child's physical and legal custody arrangements, including the amount of time the child spends with each parent and the reasonable expenses associated with the physical and legal or physical or legal custody arrangements;

(6) The federal and state tax deductions, exemptions and credits associated with the child.

2. [The obligation of the noncustodial parent to make support payments shall abate, in whole or in part, for such periods of time in excess of thirty consecutive days that the custodial parent has voluntarily relinquished physical custody of a child to the noncustodial parent, notwithstanding any periods of visitation or temporary custody pursuant to a decree of dissolution or legal separation or any modification thereof.] The child support obligation of the parent ordered to pay child support shall abate, in whole or in part as ordered by the court or administrative body, and the court or administrative body may order the other parent to pay child support, during periods of visitation or temporary physical custody ordered by the court or voluntarily relinquished by the parent granted custody which totals thirty consecutive days or more. In [an] a IV-D case, the division of child support enforcement [may] shall determine the amount of the abatement under this subsection for any child support order. In such cases, upon notification by the division, the circuit clerk shall record the amount of abatement on the child support trusteeship record established pursuant to this chapter and chapter 454, RSMo.

3. Unless the circumstances of the child manifestly dictate otherwise and the court specifically so provides, the obligation of a parent to make child support payments shall terminate when the child:

(1) Dies;

(2) Marries;

(3) Enters active duty in the military;

(4) Becomes self-supporting, provided that the custodial parent has relinquished the child from parental control by express or implied consent; or

(5) Reaches age eighteen, unless the provisions of subsection 4 or 5 of this section apply.

4. If the child is physically or mentally incapacitated from supporting himself and insolvent and unmarried, the court may extend the parental support obligation past the child's eighteenth birthday.

5. If when a child reaches age eighteen, he is enrolled in and attending a secondary school program of instruction, the parental support obligation shall continue, if the child continues to attend and satisfactorily progresses toward completion of said program, until the child completes such program or reaches age twenty-one, whichever first occurs. If the child is enrolled in an institution of vocational or higher education not later than October first following graduation from a secondary school or completion of a graduation equivalence degree and so long as the child [continues to attend] enrolls for and completes at least ten hours of classes each term at an [such] institution of vocational or higher education and achieves grades sufficient to re-enroll at such institution, the parental support obligation shall continue until the child completes his education, or until the child reaches the age of twenty-two, whichever first occurs. To remain eligible for such continued parental support, the child shall submit to each parent a transcript provided by the institution of vocational or higher education which includes the courses the child is enrolled in and has completed for each term, the grades and credits received for each such course, and the courses which the child is enrolled in for the upcoming term and the number of credits for each such course. If the circumstances of the child manifestly dictate, the court may waive the October first deadline for enrollment required by this subsection. If the child is enrolled in such an institution, the child or obligated parent may petition the court to amend the order to direct the obligated parent to make the payments directly to the child. As used in this section, an "institution of vocational education" means any postsecondary training or schooling for which the student is assessed a fee and attends classes regularly. "Higher education" means any junior college, college, or university at which the child attends classes regularly.

6. At the parent's option, a parent may pay one-half of the college room, board, tuition, mandatory fees and book expenses of the child in lieu of child support during the months when a child attends school, if such child is enrolled as a full-time student and living away from the family residence for a majority of the school year, unless provisions for payment of college expenses are specified in the parenting plan or court order.

7. The general assembly finds and declares that it is the public policy of this state to assure children frequent, continuing and meaningful contact with both parents except for cases where the court specifically finds to the contrary. In order to effectuate this public policy, a court with jurisdiction shall enforce visitation, custody and child support orders in the same manner. A court with jurisdiction may abate, in whole or in part, any future obligation of support [or] and may transfer the physical and legal or physical or legal custody of one or more children if it finds[:

(1)] that a [custodial] parent has, without good cause, failed to provide visitation or [temporary] physical and legal or physical or legal custody to the [noncustodial] other parent pursuant to the terms of a [decree] judgment of dissolution, legal separation or modifications thereof[; and

(2) That the noncustodial parent seeking relief is current in payment of all support obligations pursuant to the terms of a decree of dissolution, legal separation or modifications thereof]. The court may also award reasonable [attorney] expenses, attorney's fees and court costs incurred by [to] the prevailing party.

[7.] 8. Not later than October 13, 1989, the Missouri supreme court shall have in effect a rule establishing guidelines by which any award of child support shall be made in any judicial or administrative proceeding. Said guidelines shall contain specific, descriptive and numeric criteria which will result in a computation of the support obligation. By July 1, 1996, the guidelines shall address how the amount of child support [should] shall be calculated when an award of joint physical custody results in the child or children spending substantially equal time with both parents. Not later than July 1, 1998, the child support guidelines shall be adjusted by the supreme court and specifically list and explain the relevant factors and assumptions that were used to calculate the child support guidelines including but not limited to how much visitation or temporary physical custody the parent ordered to pay child support is assumed to have. Any rule made pursuant to this subsection shall be reviewed by the promulgating body not less than once every [four] three years to ensure that its application results in the determination of appropriate child support award amounts.

[8.] 9. Beginning October 13, 1989, there shall be a rebuttable presumption, in any judicial or administrative proceeding for the award of child support, that the amount of the award which would result from the application of the guidelines established pursuant to subsection [7] 8 of this section is the correct amount of child support to be awarded. A written finding or specific finding on the record in a judicial or administrative proceeding that the application of the guidelines would be unjust or inappropriate in a particular case, after considering all relevant factors, including the factors set out in subsection 1 of this section, is required if requested by a party and shall be sufficient to rebut the presumption in the case. The written finding or specific finding on the record shall detail the specific relevant factors that required a deviation from the application of the guidelines.

[9.] 10. Under this or any other chapter, when a court determines the amount owed by a parent for support provided to his child by another person prior to the date of filing of a petition requesting support, or when the director of the division of child support enforcement establishes the amount of state debt due under subdivision (2) of subsection 1 of section 454.465, RSMo, the court or director shall use the guidelines established under subsection [7] 8 of this section. The amount of child support resulting from the application of the guidelines shall be applied retroactively for a period prior to the establishment of a support order and the length of the period of retroactivity shall be left to the discretion of the court or director. There shall be a rebuttable presumption that the amount resulting from application of the guidelines under subsection [7] 8 of this section constitutes the amount owed by the parent for the period prior to the date of the filing of the petition for support or the period for which state debt is being established. In applying the guidelines to determine a retroactive support amount, when information as to average monthly income is available, the court or director may use the average monthly income of the noncustodial parent, as averaged over the period of retroactivity, in determining the amount of presumed child support owed for the period of retroactivity. The court or director may enter a different amount in a particular case upon finding, after consideration of all relevant factors, including the factors set out in subsection 1 of this section, that there is sufficient cause to rebut the presumed amount."; and

Further amend said bill, page 60, section 452.350, line 9, by inserting immediately after said line the following:

"452.355. 1. Unless otherwise indicated, the court from time to time after considering all relevant factors including the financial resources of both parties, the merits of the case and the actions of the parties, may order a party to pay a reasonable amount for the cost to the other party of maintaining or defending any proceeding under sections 452.300 to 452.415 and for attorney's fees, including sums for legal services rendered and costs incurred prior to the commencement of the proceeding or after entry of judgment, or the court may order a reasonable amount for the cost of maintaining or defending any proceeding under sections 452.300 to 452.415 and for attorney's fees to be paid out of the marital or separate assets which are the subject of the proceedings. The court may order that the amount be paid directly to the attorney, who may enforce the order in his name.

2. n any proceeding in which the nonpayment of child support is an issue under the provisions of a temporary or permanent court order or decree, if the court finds that the obligor has failed, without good cause, to comply with such order or decree to pay the child support, the court shall order the obligor to pay a reasonable amount for the cost of the suit to the obligee, including sums for legal services. The court may order that the amount be paid directly to the attorney, who may enforce the order in his name.

3. For purposes of this section, an "obligor" is a person owing a duty of support and an "obligee" is a person to whom a duty of support is owed.

4. For purposes of this section, "good cause" includes any substantial reason why the defendant is unable to pay the child support as ordered. Good cause does not exist if the defendant purposely maintains his inability to pay."; and

Further amend said bill, page 60, section 452.370, lines 10 to 28, by striking all of said lines; and

Further amend said bill, page 61, section 452.370, lines 1 to 26, and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"452.370. 1. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 6 of section 452.325, the provisions of any decree respecting maintenance or support may be modified only upon a showing of changed circumstances so substantial and continuing as to make the terms unreasonable. In a proceeding for modification of any child support or maintenance award, the court, in determining whether or not a substantial change in circumstances has occurred, shall consider all financial resources of both parties, including the extent to which the reasonable expenses of either party are, or should be, shared by a spouse or other person with whom he or she [cohabits] resides, and the earning capacity of a party who is not employed. If the application of the child support guidelines and criteria set forth in section 452.340 and applicable supreme court [rule 88.01] rules to the financial circumstances of the parties would result in a change of child support from the existing amount by twenty percent or more, then a prima facie showing has been made of a change of circumstances so substantial and continuing as to make the present terms unreasonable, if the existing amount was based upon the presumed amount under child support guidelines.

2. When the party seeking modification has met the burden of proof set forth in subsection 1 of this section, then the child support shall be determined in conformity with criteria set forth in section 452.340 and applicable supreme court [rule 88.01] rules.

3. Unless otherwise agreed in writing or expressly provided in the decree, the obligation to pay future statutory maintenance is terminated upon the death of either party or the remarriage of the party receiving maintenance.

4. Unless otherwise agreed in writing or expressly provided in the decree, provisions for the support of a child are terminated by emancipation of the child. The custodial parent shall have the duty to notify the noncustodial parent of the child's emancipation and failing to do so the custodial parent shall be liable to the noncustodial parent for child support paid, plus interest, to the custodial parent following emancipation of a minor child.

5. In any case wherein a parent has made an assignment of support rights to the division of family services on behalf of the state as a condition of eligibility for benefits under the aid to families with dependent children program and either party initiates a motion to modify the support obligation by reducing it, the state of Missouri shall be named as a party to the motion. The state shall be served with a copy of the motion by sending it by certified mail to the director of the division of child support enforcement."; and

Further amend said bill and section, page 63, line 2, by inserting immediately after said line the following:

"452.375. 1. As used in this section, unless the context clearly indicates otherwise:

(1) "Joint legal custody" means that the parents share the decision-making rights, responsibilities, and authority relating to the health, education and welfare of the child, and, unless allocated, apportioned, or decreed, the parents shall confer with one another in the exercise of decision-making rights, responsibilities, and authority;

(2) "Joint physical custody" means an order awarding each of the parents significant periods of time during which a child resides with or is under the care and supervision of each of the parents. Joint physical custody shall be shared by the parents in such a way as to assure the child of frequent [and], continuing and meaningful contact with both parents.

2. The court shall determine physical and legal custody in accordance with the best interests of the child. The court shall consider all relevant factors including:

(1) The wishes of the child's parents as to his physical and legal or physical or legal custody;

(2) The wishes of a child as to his physical and legal or physical or legal custodian;

(3) The interaction and interrelationship of the child with his parents, his siblings, and any other person who may significantly affect the child's best interests;

(4) The child's adjustment to his home, school, and community;

(5) The mental and physical health of all individuals involved, including any history of abuse of any individuals involved. If the court finds that a pattern of domestic violence has occurred, and, if the court also finds that awarding physical and legal or physical or legal custody to the abusive parent is in the best [interest] interests of the child, then the court shall enter written findings of fact and conclusions of law. Physical and legal or physical or legal custody and visitation rights shall be ordered in a manner that best protects the child and the parent or other family or household member who is the victim of domestic violence from any further harm;

(6) The needs of the child for a continuing relationship with both parents and the ability and willingness of parents to actively perform their functions as mother and father for the needs of the child;

(7) The intention of either parent to relocate [his] that parent's residence outside the state or more than fifty miles from the current residence of the child; and

(8) Which parent is more likely to allow the child frequent, continuing and meaningful contact with the other parent.

3. The court shall not award physical and legal or physical or legal custody of a child to a parent if such parent has been found guilty of, or pled guilty to, a felony violation of chapter 566, RSMo, when the child was the victim, or a violation of section 568.020, RSMo, when the child was the victim.

4. The general assembly finds and declares that it is the public policy of this state to assure children frequent, continuing and meaningful contact with both parents after the parents have separated or dissolved their marriage except for cases where the court specifically finds to the contrary, and that it is in the public interest to encourage parents to share decision-making rights and responsibilities of child rearing. In order to effectuate this policy, the court shall determine the physical and legal or physical or legal custody arrangement which will best assure that parents share such decision-making responsibility and authority and such frequent, continuing and meaningful contact between the child and each parent, as is indicated in the best interests of the child under all relevant circumstances.

5. Prior to awarding the appropriate physical and legal custody arrangement in the best interest of the child, the court shall consider each of the following as follows:

(1) Joint physical and joint legal custody to both parents, which shall be the preferred custodial arrangement and which shall not be denied solely for the reason that one parent opposes a joint physical and joint legal custody award. The burden of coming forward with evidence that joint physical and joint legal custody is not in the best interests of the child shall be upon the parent opposing an award of joint physical and joint legal custody. In the event the court finds that an award of joint physical and joint legal custody is not in the child's best interests, the court shall, if requested by a party, enter a written finding detailing the specific relevant factors that made an award of joint physical and joint legal custody not in the child's best interests and shall specify the custodial arrangements which the court finds are in the child's best interests;

(2) Sole physical and legal or physical or legal custody to either parent; or

(3) Third party physical and legal or physical or legal custody or visitation:

(a) When the court finds that each parent is unfit, unsuitable, or unable to be a physical and legal or physical or legal custodian, or the welfare of the child requires, and it is in the best interests of the child, then physical and legal or physical or legal custody, temporary physical and legal or physical or legal custody or visitation may be awarded to any other person or persons deemed by the court to be suitable and able to provide an adequate and stable environment for the child. Before the court awards physical and legal or physical or legal custody, temporary physical and legal or physical or legal custody or visitation to a third person under this subdivision, the court shall make that person a party to the action;

(b) Under the provisions of this subsection, any person may petition the court to intervene as a party in interest at any time as provided by supreme court rule.

6. Unless otherwise decreed, parents are obligated to exchange information with one another concerning the health, education and welfare of the child. In a decree of sole legal custody, a court may provide that parents shall confer with one another in the exercise of decision-making rights, responsibilities and authority. Upon a finding by the court that either parent has refused to exchange information with one another, which shall include but not be limited to the health, education and welfare of the child, the court shall order the parent to comply immediately and to pay to the prevailing party a sum equal to the prevailing party's cost associated with obtaining the requested information, which shall include but not be limited to attorney's fees and court costs.

7. As between the parents of a child, no preference may be given to either parent in the awarding of custody because of that parent's age, sex, or financial status, nor because of the age or sex of the child.

8. Any decree providing for joint physical and joint legal custody or joint physical or joint legal custody shall include a specific written plan setting forth the terms of such custody. Such plan may be suggested by both parents acting in concert, or one parent acting individually, or if neither of the foregoing occurs, the plan shall be provided by the court. The plan may include a provision for mediation of disputes. In all cases, the joint custody plan approved and ordered by the court shall be in the court's discretion and shall be in the best interests of the child.

9. Unless [a noncustodial] the parent without physical custody has been denied visitation rights under section 452.400, access to records and information pertaining to a minor child, including, but not limited to, medical, dental, and school records, shall not be denied to [a] such parent [because the parent is not the child's custodial parent]. If [a noncustodial] the parent without physical custody has been granted restricted or supervised visitation because the court has found that the [custodial] parent with physical custody or the child has been the victim of domestic violence, as defined in section 455.200, RSMo, by the [noncustodial] parent without physical custody, the court may order that the reports and records made available pursuant to this subsection not include the address of the [custodial] parent with physical custody or the child.

10. If any individual, professional, public or private institution or organization denies access or fails to provide or disclose any and all records and information, including, but not limited to, past and present dental, medical and school records pertaining to a minor child, to either [the custodial or noncustodial] parent upon the written request of such parent, the court shall, upon its finding that the individual, professional, public or private institution or organization denied such request without good cause, order that party to comply immediately with such request and to pay to the prevailing party all costs incurred, including, but not limited to, attorney's fees and court costs associated with obtaining the requested information.

11. An award of joint physical and joint legal custody or joint physical or joint legal custody does not preclude an award of child support pursuant to section 452.340 and applicable supreme court rules. The court shall consider the factors contained in section 452.340 and applicable supreme court rules in determining an amount reasonable or necessary for the support of the child.

12. If the court finds that domestic violence has occurred, the court shall make specific findings of fact to show that the physical and legal or physical or legal custody or visitation arrangement ordered by the court best protects the child and the parent or other family or household member who is the victim of domestic violence from any further harm.

13. A non-custodial parent, grandparent or great grandparent who was convicted of an illegal sex act under chapter 566, RSMo, or section 568.020, RSMo, against a victim under the age of eighteen (18) shall not be allowed visitation until the offender is discharged from incarceration, parole or mandatory supervised release and the offender successfully completes a treatment program approved by the court.

452.377. A person entitled to the custody of a child shall not [change] relocate the residence of the child to another state, or remove the child from this state for a period of time exceeding ninety days, or relocate the residence of the child more than fifty miles from the current residence of the child except upon order of the court or with the written consent of the [parties] persons with physical and legal or physical or legal custody or visitation rights. Where [the noncustodial] a person has been given physical and legal or physical or legal custody or visitation rights by the custody decree, such court permission may be granted only after notice to the person having [visitation] such rights and after opportunity for hearing. When addressing the issue of relocation, the court shall consider all relevant factors including but not limited to:

(1) Is the relocation in the best interest of the child in relation to each parent;

(2) Will the relocation unreasonably interfere with any person's physical and legal or physical or legal custody or visitation rights; and

(3) Is there an agreement and plan to continue a relationship with the other parent.

Violation of the provisions of this section or a court order under this section [may] shall be deemed a change of circumstance under section 452.410, allowing the court to modify the prior custody decree.

452.400. 1. A parent not granted custody of the child is entitled to reasonable visitation rights unless the court finds, after a hearing, that visitation would endanger the child's physical health or impair his emotional development. [The court shall define the noncustodial parent's visitation periods in detail at the request of either party.] The court shall enter an order specifically detailing the visitation or temporary physical custody rights of the parent without physical custody. In determining the granting of visitation rights, the court shall consider evidence of domestic violence. If the court finds that domestic violence has occurred, the court may find that granting visitation to the abusive party is in the best interests of the child. The court shall not grant visitation to the parent not granted custody if such parent has been found guilty of or pled guilty to a felony violation of chapter 566, RSMo, when the child was the victim, or a violation of section 568.020, RSMo, when the child was the victim. The court shall consider the parent's history of inflicting, or tendency to inflict, physical harm, bodily injury, assault, or the fear of physical harm, bodily injury, or assault on other persons and shall grant visitation in a manner that best protects the child and the parent or other family or household member who is the victim of domestic violence from any further harm. The court, if requested by a party, shall make specific findings of fact to show that the visitation arrangements made by the court best protects the child or the parent or other family or household member who is the victim of domestic violence from any further harm.

2. The court may modify an order granting or denying visitation rights whenever modification would serve the best interests of the child, but the court shall not restrict a parent's visitation rights unless it finds that the visitation would endanger the child's physical health or impair his emotional development. When a court restricts a parent's visitation rights or when a court orders supervised visitation because of allegations of abuse or domestic violence, a showing of proof of treatment and rehabilitation shall be made to the court before unsupervised visitation may be ordered. "Supervised visitation", as used in this section, is visitation which takes place in the presence of a responsible adult appointed by the court for the protection of the child.

3. The court shall mandate compliance with its order by both [the custodial parent] parents and the child. [In the event of noncompliance,] If a parent has been granted visitation rights or physical and legal or physical or legal custody rights or temporary physical custody rights, and such rights are denied or interfered with by the other parent, the [noncustodial] parent having visitation or physical and legal or physical or legal custody rights or temporary physical custody rights may file a motion for contempt[.] or a motion for a family access order. The motion for a family access order may be made on a simple verified pro se form which shall be supplied by the clerk of the court and which shall not require the assistance of legal counsel. The cost of filing such motion shall be the standard court cost for such a filing plus a thirty-five dollar family access fee. Upon filing the motion, the presiding judge shall immediately assign a circuit, associate circuit or family court judge or commissioner to hear the motion.

4. The assigned court, upon good cause shown, shall immediately issue an order to show cause, unless there is a pending motion alleging that a family access order is not in the best interest of the child and will endanger the child's physical health or impair the child's emotional development, and shall set a time and place for hearing on the order to show cause which shall not be more than fourteen days after the service of the motion for a family access order and order to show cause.

5. Upon a finding by the court pursuant to a motion for a family access order that its order for visitation or physical and legal or physical or legal custody or temporary physical custody has not been complied with, without good cause, the court shall [define the noncustodial parent's visitation in detail and shall exercise its discretion in providing] provide a remedy, which shall include, but not be limited to, a compensatory period of visitation or [temporary] physical custody at a time convenient for the [noncustodial] parent denied visitation or temporary physical custody or physical custody not less than the period of time denied, [together with] and if requested by a party a mandatory judgment in an amount not less than the reasonable expenses, attorneys fees and court costs actually incurred by the [noncustodial] parent as a result of the denial of visitation or physical and legal or physical or legal custody or temporary physical custody. Such order may include a provision that the sheriff or other law enforcement officer shall enforce the rights of either parent to custody or visitation, as the case may be, unless the court issues a subsequent order pursuant to chapters 210, 211 or 455, RSMo, to limit or deny either parent's access to the child.

[4.] 6. The reasonable expenses, attorney's fees and court costs of a proceeding to enforce visitation or physical and legal or physical or legal custody rights shall, if requested by a party, be assessed against the parent who [unreasonably], without good cause, denies or interferes with visitation or physical and legal or physical or legal custody or temporary physical custody. In addition, the court may utilize any and all powers relating to contempt conferred on it by law or rule of the Missouri supreme court.

7. In no case shall final disposition of a motion for a family access order filed pursuant to this section take place more than sixty days after the service of such motion. Final disposition shall not include appellate review.

8. The intentional denial or interference with visitation or physical and legal or physical or legal custody or temporary physical custody of a child from the other parent, without good cause, shall constitute a change of circumstances which may justify a modification of custody.

9. For purposes of supreme court rule 51, motions filed pursuant to this section shall not be deemed to be an independent civil action if the judge or commissioner designated to rule on the motion is the same judge or commissioner that entered the order which is the subject of a motion for a family access order or contempt.

10. A violation of the terms and conditions of a family access order shall be a class A misdemeanor, unless the person has twice previously plead guilty to or been found guilty of violating a family access order within five years of the date of the subsequent violation, in which case the subsequent violation shall be a class D felony.

452.401. 1. The family access fee of thirty-five dollars established in section 452.400 shall be charged and collected by every clerk of the court in this state. The court may waive such fee, in whole or in part, upon motion of the party and for good cause shown. Twenty-five dollars of such fee shall be forwarded monthly by each clerk of the court to the state director of revenue, and the fees so forwarded shall be deposited by the director of revenue in the state treasury into the Missouri family access fund as designated in subsection 2 of this section. Ten dollars of such fee shall remain with the court to cover court costs associated with the filing of the motion.

2. "The Missouri Family Access Fund" is hereby established in the state treasury. At least quarterly, the state treasurer shall allocate moneys in the Missouri family access fund to the state court administrator for disbursement as directed in this section. Moneys deposited into the fund shall include the designated funds received from the pro se fee established in section 452.400, and any other amounts which may be received from grants, gifts, bequests, the state or federal government, or any other source. Moneys in the fund shall be devoted to the payment of expenditures associated with the review of child support guidelines and to costs associated with the increase in new causes of actions involving custody and visitation issues.

3. Any unexpended balance in the fund at the end of the fiscal year shall be exempt from the provisions of section 33.080, RSMo, relating to the transfer of unexpended balances to the general revenue fund.

452.405. 1. Except as otherwise ordered by the court or agreed by the parties in writing at the time of the custody decree, the legal custodian may determine the child's upbringing, including his education, health care, and religious training, unless the court after hearing[,] finds, upon motion by the [noncustodial] parent without legal custody, that in the absence of a specific limitation of the legal custodian's authority the child's physical health would be endangered or his emotional development impaired.

2. The legal custodian shall not exercise legal custody in such a way as to detrimentally impact the other parent's visitation or physical and legal or physical or legal custody rights.

[2.] 3. The court may order the county welfare office or the county juvenile officer to exercise continuing supervision over the case.

452.411. If either parent of a child changes his residence to another state, such change of residence of the parent shall be deemed a change of circumstances under section 452.410, allowing the court to modify a prior physical and legal or physical or legal custody decree.

452.416. 1. Notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary, whenever a parent in emergency military service has a change in income due to such military service, such change in income shall be considered a change in circumstances so substantial and continuing as to make the terms of any order or judgment for child support or visitation unreasonable.

2. Upon receipt of a notarized letter from the commanding officer of a noncustodial parent in emergency military service which contains the date of the commencement of emergency military service and the compensation of the parent in emergency military service, the director of the division of child support enforcement shall take appropriate action to seek modification of the order or judgment of child support in accordance with the guidelines and criteria set forth in section 452.340 and applicable supreme court [rule 88.01] rules. Such notification to the director shall constitute an application for services under section 454.425, RSMo.

4. As used in this section, the term "emergency military service" means that the parent is a member of a reserve unit or national guard unit which is called into active military duty for a period of more than thirty days.

452.600. 1. The circuit courts [of the fifth, sixth, twenty-third, twenty-ninth, thirtieth, thirty-first and thirty-eighth judicial circuits], by local rule, [may] shall establish a program of educational sessions for parties to actions for dissolution of marriage or in postjudgment proceedings involving custody or support, concerning the effects of dissolution of marriage on minor children of the marriage. In lieu of establishing such a program, the circuit court may, by local rule, designate a similar program of educational sessions offered by a private or public entity.

2. By July 1, 1998, the Missouri supreme court shall have in effect guidelines for the program of educational sessions. The reasonable expenses of the educational sessions shall be paid by the parties.

452.605. In an action for dissolution of marriage involving minor children, or in a postjudgment proceeding wherein custody [or support] of minor children is to be determined by the court, [the court may on its own motion] the court shall, except for good cause, order the parties, including the minor children, to attend educational sessions concerning the effects of custody and the dissolution of marriage on children[, if the court finds that doing so would be in the best interests of the minor children]. As used in this section "good cause" includes, but is not limited to, situations where the parties have stipulated to the legal and physical custody of the child or where the safety of a party or child may be endangered by attending the educational sessions."; and

454.516. 1. The director or IV-D agency may cause a lien pursuant to subsection 2 of this section or the obligee may cause a lien pursuant to subsection 9 of this section for unpaid and delinquent child support to be placed upon motor vehicles, motor boats, outboard motors, manufactured homes and trailers that are registered in the name of a delinquent child support obligor, if the title to the property is held by a lienholder.

2. The director or IV-D agency shall notify the department of revenue with the required information necessary to impose a lien [under] pursuant to this section by filing a notice of lien, and the department of revenue shall notify the lienholder of the existence of such lien.

(1) The director of revenue or [his] the director's designee determines that the obligor has unpaid child support which exceeds one thousand dollars;

(2) The property has a value of more than three thousand dollars as determined by current industry publications that provide such estimates to dealers in the business, and the property's year of manufacture is within seven years of the date of filing of the lien except in the case of a motor vehicle that has been designated a historic vehicle;

(3) The property has no more than two existing liens for child support;

(4) The property has had no more than three prior liens for child support in the same calendar year.

4. In the event that a lien is placed and the obligors total support obligation is eliminated, the director shall notify the department of revenue that the lien shall be removed.

5. The division or IV-D agency may hold the certificate of ownership until the child support obligation is satisfied, or levy and execute on the motor vehicle, motor boat, outboard motor, manufactured home or trailer and sell same, at public sale, in order to satisfy the debt. A lienholder shall inform dealers in the business of motor vehicles, motor boats, manufactured homes and trailers, upon request, of the existence or nonexistence of a lien imposed by the division pursuant to this section.

8. A good faith purchaser for value without notice of the lien or a lender without notice of the lien takes free of the lien.

9. In cases which are not IV-D cases, [as defined in section 452.345, RSMo,] to cause a lien pursuant to the provisions of this section the obligee or [his] the obligee's attorney shall file notice of the lien with the lienholder or payor. SENATE SUBSTITUTE

FOR

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 21

WHEREAS, the lack of adequate office space for legislators and staff along with the lack of adequate facilities to conduct hearings, meetings and other legislative functions at our State Capitol has been an issue of major and growing concern for many years; and

WHEREAS, in 1995, Sverdrup Facilities Corporation and its consultants published a comprehensive State Office Space Study and Master Plan after having been requested by the State of Missouri Office of Administration to develop a strategic plan for accommodating space needs for non-institutional offices statewide through Fiscal Year 2004; and

WHEREAS, one of the primary goals of this strategic plan was to address those issues which inhibit the efficient delivery of government services to the citizens of the state; and

WHEREAS, in this State Office Space Study and Master Plan, a specific reference to the State Capitol declared "The State Capitol Building, with the exception of the Senate and House chambers, is suffering from many ill-conceived renovations and overcrowding", and "Many spaces are poorly ventilated, lighted and appointed creating an uncomfortable and unsophisticated office environment"; and

WHEREAS, one short-term measure that has been implemented to address the problem of inadequate facilities at the Capitol is the appropriation of significant sums of money for the renovation of existing offices that are much too small and crowded to begin with, and which can gain relatively little in the way of becoming more livable and functional after the expenditure of this money; and

WHEREAS, legislators and their staff deserve to work in a safe, comfortable, and adequately-spaced office environment in order to provide the most efficient and effective service possible for the people of Missouri; and legislators, staff, and private citizens are entitled to conduct state business in a safe and comfortable environment when meeting in the various hearing rooms and committee rooms within our State Capitol; and

WHEREAS, expedient measures need to be implemented to provide effective short-term solutions for the problem of overcrowding at the State Capitol; and

WHEREAS, Section 8.460, Revised Statutes of Missouri, subsection 1, states "The board of public buildings may build an office building in the City of Jefferson to house state offices which are presently located in rented quarters within the county of Cole, and they shall remove as many offices from the State Capitol building as the general assembly deems necessary to provide adequate space for its members"; and

WHEREAS, Section 8.015, Revised Statutes of Missouri, gives the Senate Administration Committee exclusive control over the Senate Chamber, the Senate Committee rooms, the offices of the members of the Senate at the State Capitol, and all other rooms and offices of the State Capitol designed for or assigned by the Board of Public Buildings to the use of the members and officers of the Senate, and states that "No use of any of said quarters other than by the Senate, its members or officers shall be made except with the written consent of the Senator or officer occupying the office rooms and upon the order of the accounts committee"; and

WHEREAS, Section 8.017, Revised Statutes of Missouri, gives the House Committee on Accounts, Operation and Finance exclusive control over the House Chamber, the House Committee rooms, the offices of the members of the House at the State Capitol, and all other rooms and offices of the State Capitol designed for or assigned by the Board of Public Buildings to the use of the members and officers of the House, and states that "No use of any of said quarters other than by the House, its members or officers shall be made except with the written consent of the Representative or officer occupying the office rooms and upon the order of the accounts committee":

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the Missouri House of Representatives of the Eighty-ninth General Assembly, the Senate concurring therein, that pursuant to the provisions of section 8.460, RSMo, the Board of Public Buildings be advised to reassign offices in the Capitol, presently occupied or under the control of the executive branch except for those offices now assigned to the Governor and his immediate staff and the Lieutenant Governor and his immediate staff, to the House Accounts, Operation and Finance Committee and Senate Administration Committee, and further assert the right to reserve any and all of these rooms and facilities for the exclusive use of legislators and legislative staff; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that an examination of space available within the Capitol be given first priority by the House Accounts, Operations and Finance Committee, the Senate Administration Committee and the Office of Administration; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Chief Clerk of the Missouri House of Representatives be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for the Commissioner of Administration, each member of the Board of Public Buildings, the House Committee on Accounts, Operation and Finance, and for the Senate Administration Committee.

In which the concurrence of the House is respectfully requested.

First Regular Session, 89th General Assembly

SEVENTY-FOURTH DAY, Friday, May 16, 1997

Representative Vogel in the Chair.

Prayer by Father Hugh Behan.

"Let us run with perserverance the race that is set before us." (Heb. 12:1).

During my boarding school days we had a saying on the rugby field, "if you cannot get the ball, get the man." Almost every year in the last week of the session, I am reminded of this saying. Later on in philosophy in logic class, they talked about the argumentum ad hominem, when you lose the argument you attack the other person, and if you are really desperate, you use the argument ad baculum, you hit your adversary with a stick.

Today, O God whose name is love, we pray for the recovery of civility for those who need it in the public comments we make about each other, and we ask for continued restraint for those who avoid the nasty comment, the unkind remark, which is usually not fair and irrelevant to the topic and distracts from the subject at hand. Help us to stay with the ball, the issue, and leave out the unwarranted suspicion about the motives of those who disagree, the personal attacks which only cause bad feelings and bitterness.

We know this is an unusual last day in that a special session starts this evening. We ask for the understanding and patience demanded from the Legislature, the staff and members of our families. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Christopher Joseph (C.J.) Schock, Charles Ellis, Rachel Sappington and Megan Brown.

The Journal of the seventy-third day was approved as corrected.

Speaker Gaw assumed the Chair.

The father and mother living apart are entitled to an adjudication [of] by the circuit court as to their powers, rights and duties in respect to the custody and control and the services and earnings and management of the property of their unmarried minor children without any preference as between the said father and mother, and neither the father nor the mother has any right paramount to that of the other in respect to the custody and control or the services and earnings or of the management of the property of their said unmarried minor children; pending such adjudication the father or mother who actually has the custody and control of said unmarried minor children shall have the sole right to the custody and control and to the services and earnings and to the management of the property of said unmarried minor children. The mere fact that one parent has actual custody of the minor children at the time of filing shall not create a preference for the court in its adjudication of custody and child support."; and*

Further amend said bill, pages 43 to 48, section 452.340, by striking all of said section and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"452.340. 1. In a proceeding for dissolution of marriage, legal separation or child support, the court may order either or both parents owing a duty of support to a child of the marriage to pay an amount reasonable or necessary for his support, including an award retroactive to the date of filing the petition, without regard to marital misconduct, after considering all relevant factors including:

(1) The financial needs and resources of the child;

(2) The financial resources and needs of the parents;

(3) The standard of living the child would have enjoyed had the marriage not been dissolved;

(4) The physical and emotional condition of the child, and his educational needs; and

(5) The child's physical and legal custody arrangements, including the amount of time the child spends with each parent and the reasonable expenses associated with the physical and legal or physical or legal custody arrangements.

2. The obligation of the noncustodial parent to make support payments shall abate, in whole or in part[,]:

(1) For such periods of time in excess of thirty consecutive days that the custodial parent has voluntarily relinquished physical custody of a child to the noncustodial parent, notwithstanding any periods of visitation or temporary custody pursuant to a decree of dissolution or legal separation or any modification thereof[.];

(2) For such periods of time twenty-eight consecutive days or longer, pursuant to a decree of dissolution or legal separation or any modification thereof, during which the noncustodial parent is the primary caretaker of any child subject to such decree, notwithstanding any periods of visitation by the custodial parent during such periods, unless the court has already considered or provided for the visitation in establishing or determining the child support obligations.

In [an] a IV-D case, the division of child support enforcement [may] shall determine the amount of the abatement under this subsection for any child support order. In such cases, upon notification by the division, the circuit clerk shall record the amount of abatement on the child support trusteeship record established pursuant to this chapter and chapter 454, RSMo.

3. Unless the circumstances of the child manifestly dictate otherwise and the court specifically so provides, the obligation of a parent to make child support payments shall terminate when the child:

(1) Dies;

(2) Marries;

(3) Enters active duty in the military;

(4) Becomes self-supporting, provided that the custodial parent has relinquished the child from parental control by express or implied consent; or

(5) Reaches age eighteen, unless the provisions of subsection 4 or 5 of this section apply.

4. If the child is physically or mentally incapacitated from supporting himself and insolvent and unmarried, the court may extend the parental support obligation past the child's eighteenth birthday.

5. If when a child reaches age eighteen, he is enrolled in and attending a secondary school program of instruction, the parental support obligation shall continue, if the child continues to attend and progresses toward completion of said program, until the child completes such program or reaches age twenty-one, whichever first occurs. If the child is enrolled in an institution of vocational or higher education not later than October first following graduation from a secondary school or completion of a graduation equivalence degree and so long as the child [continues to attend] enrolls for and completes at least ten hours of credit each term, or at least six hours of credit each term if the child is employed for a minimum of twenty hours per week, at an [such] institution of vocational or higher education and achieves grades sufficient to re-enroll at such institution, the parental support obligation shall continue until the child completes his education, or until the child reaches the age of twenty-two, whichever first occurs. To remain eligible for such continued parental support, the child at the parent's request shall submit to each parent a transcript provided by the institution of vocational or higher education which includes the courses the child is enrolled in and has completed for each term, the grades and credits received for each such course, and the courses which the child is enrolled in for the upcoming term and the number of credits for each such course. If the circumstances of the child manifestly dictate, the court may waive the October first deadline for enrollment required by this subsection. If the child is enrolled in such an institution, the child or obligated parent may petition the court to amend the order to direct the obligated parent to make the payments directly to the child. As used in this section, an "institution of vocational education" means any postsecondary training or schooling for which the student is assessed a fee and attends classes regularly. "Higher education" means any junior college, college, or university at which the child attends classes regularly.

6. The general assembly finds and declares that it is the public policy of this state to assure children frequent, continuing and meaningful contact with both parents except for cases where the court specifically finds to the contrary. A court with jurisdiction may abate, in whole or in part, any future obligation of support [or] and may transfer the physical and legal or physical or legal custody of one or more children if it finds:

(1) that a [custodial] parent has, without good cause, failed to provide visitation or [temporary] physical and legal or physical or legal custody to the [noncustodial] other parent pursuant to the terms of a [decree] judgment of dissolution, legal separation or modifications thereof; and

(2) That the noncustodial parent seeking relief is current in payment of all support obligations pursuant to the terms of a decree of dissolution, legal separation or modifications thereof. The court may also award reasonable [attorney] expenses, attorney's fees and court costs incurred by [to] the prevailing party.

7. Not later than October 13, 1989, the Missouri supreme court shall have in effect a rule establishing guidelines by which any award of child support shall be made in any judicial or administrative proceeding. Said guidelines shall contain specific, descriptive and numeric criteria which will result in a computation of the support obligation. By July 1, 1996, the guidelines shall address how the amount of child support [should] shall be calculated when an award of joint physical custody results in the child or children spending substantially equal time with both parents. Not later than July 1, 1998, the child support guidelines shall be adjusted by the supreme court to specifically list and explain the relevant factors and assumptions that were used to calculate the child support guidelines including but not limited to how much visitation or temporary physical custody the parent ordered to pay child support is assumed to have. Any rule made pursuant to this subsection shall be reviewed by the promulgating body not less than once every [four] three years to ensure that its application results in the determination of appropriate child support award amounts.

8. Beginning October 13, 1989, there shall be a rebuttable presumption, in any judicial or administrative proceeding for the award of child support, that the amount of the award which would result from the application of the guidelines established pursuant to subsection 7 of this section is the correct amount of child support to be awarded. A written finding or specific finding on the record in a judicial or administrative proceeding that the application of the guidelines would be unjust or inappropriate in a particular case, after considering all relevant factors, including the factors set out in subsection 1 of this section, is required if requested by a party and shall be sufficient to rebut the presumption in the case. The written finding or specific finding on the record shall detail the specific relevant factors that required a deviation from the application of the guidelines.

9. Under this or any other chapter, when a court determines the amount owed by a parent for support provided to his child by another person prior to the date of filing of a petition requesting support, or when the director of the division of child support enforcement establishes the amount of state debt due under subdivision (2) of subsection 1 of section 454.465, RSMo, the court or director shall use the guidelines established under subsection 7 of this section. The amount of child support resulting from the application of the guidelines shall be applied retroactively for a period prior to the establishment of a support order and the length of the period of retroactivity shall be left to the discretion of the court or director. There shall be a rebuttable presumption that the amount resulting from application of the guidelines under subsection 7 of this section constitutes the amount owed by the parent for the period prior to the date of the filing of the petition for support or the period for which state debt is being established. In applying the guidelines to determine a retroactive support amount, when information as to average monthly income is available, the court or director may use the average monthly income of the noncustodial parent, as averaged over the period of retroactivity, in determining the amount of presumed child support owed for the period of retroactivity. The court or director may enter a different amount in a particular case upon finding, after consideration of all relevant factors, including the factors set out in subsection 1 of this section, that there is sufficient cause to rebut the presumed amount."; and

"452.355. 1. Unless otherwise indicated, the court from time to time after considering all relevant factors including the financial resources of both parties, the merits of the case and the actions of the parties, may order a party to pay a reasonable amount for the cost to the other party of maintaining or defending any proceeding under sections 452.300 to 452.415 and for attorney's fees, including sums for legal services rendered and costs incurred prior to the commencement of the proceeding or after entry of judgment. The court may order that the amount be paid directly to the attorney, who may enforce the order in his name.

2. In any proceeding in which the nonpayment of child support is an issue under the provisions of a temporary or permanent court order or decree, if the court finds that the obligor has failed, without good cause, to comply with such order or decree to pay the child support, the court shall order the obligor to pay a reasonable amount for the cost of the suit to the obligee, including sums for legal services. The court may order that the amount be paid directly to the attorney, who may enforce the order in his name.

3. For purposes of this section, an "obligor" is a person owing a duty of support and an "obligee" is a person to whom a duty of support is owed.

4. For purposes of this section, "good cause" includes any substantial reason why the defendant is unable to pay the child support as ordered. Good cause does not exist if the defendant purposely maintains his inability to pay."; and

Further amend said bill, page 60, section 452.370, lines 10 to 28, by striking all of said lines; and

Further amend said bill, page 61, section 452.370, lines 1 to 26, by striking all of said lines and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"452.370. 1. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 6 of section 452.325, the provisions of any decree respecting maintenance or support may be modified only upon a showing of changed circumstances so substantial and continuing as to make the terms unreasonable. In a proceeding for modification of any child support or maintenance award, the court, in determining whether or not a substantial change in circumstances has occurred, shall consider all financial resources of both parties, including the extent to which the reasonable expenses of either party are, or should be, shared by a spouse or other person with whom he or she [cohabits] resides, and the earning capacity of a party who is not employed. If the application of the child support guidelines and criteria set forth in section 452.340 and applicable supreme court [rule 88.01] rules to the financial circumstances of the parties would result in a change of child support from the existing amount by twenty percent or more, then a prima facie showing has been made of a change of circumstances so substantial and continuing as to make the present terms unreasonable, if the existing amount was based upon the presumed amount under child support guidelines.

2. When the party seeking modification has met the burden of proof set forth in subsection 1 of this section, then the child support shall be determined in conformity with criteria set forth in section 452.340 and applicable supreme court [rule 88.01] rules.

3. Unless otherwise agreed in writing or expressly provided in the decree, the obligation to pay future statutory maintenance is terminated upon the death of either party or the remarriage of the party receiving maintenance.

4. Unless otherwise agreed in writing or expressly provided in the decree, provisions for the support of a child are terminated by emancipation of the child. The custodial parent shall have the duty to notify the noncustodial parent of the child's emancipation and failing to do so the custodial parent shall be liable to the noncustodial parent for child support paid, plus interest, to the custodial parent following emancipation of a minor child.

5. In any case wherein a parent has made an assignment of support rights to the division of family services on behalf of the state as a condition of eligibility for benefits under the aid to families with dependent children program and either party initiates a motion to modify the support obligation by reducing it, the state of Missouri shall be named as a party to the motion. The state shall be served with a copy of the motion by sending it by certified mail to the director of the division of child support enforcement."; and

Further amend said bill and section, page 63, line 2, by inserting immediately after said line the following:

"452.375. 1. As used in this section, unless the context clearly indicates otherwise:

(1) "Joint legal custody" means that the parents share the decision-making rights, responsibilities, and authority relating to the health, education and welfare of the child, and, unless allocated, apportioned, or decreed, the parents shall confer with one another in the exercise of decision-making rights, responsibilities, and authority;

(2) "Joint physical custody" means an order awarding each of the parents significant periods of time during which a child resides with or is under the care and supervision of each of the parents. Joint physical custody shall be shared by the parents in such a way as to assure the child of frequent [and], continuing and meaningful contact with both parents.

2. The court shall determine physical and legal custody in accordance with the best interests of the child. The court shall consider all relevant factors including:

(1) The wishes of the child's parents as to his physical and legal or physical or legal custody;

(2) The wishes of a child as to his physical and legal or physical or legal custodian;

(3) The interaction and interrelationship of the child with his parents, his siblings, and any other person who may significantly affect the child's best interests;

(4) The child's adjustment to his home, school, and community;

(5) The mental and physical health of all individuals involved, including any history of abuse of any individuals involved. If the court finds that a pattern of domestic violence has occurred, and, if the court also finds that awarding physical and legal or physical or legal custody to the abusive parent is in the best [interest] interests of the child, then the court shall enter written findings of fact and conclusions of law. Physical and legal or physical or legal custody and visitation rights shall be ordered in a manner that best protects the child and the parent or other family or household member who is the victim of domestic violence from any further harm;

(6) The needs of the child for a continuing relationship with both parents and the ability and willingness of parents to actively perform their functions as mother and father for the needs of the child;

(7) The intention of either parent to relocate [his] that parent's residence outside the state or more than fifty miles from the current residence of the child; and

(8) Which parent is more likely to allow the child frequent, continuing and meaningful contact with the other parent.

3. The court shall not award physical and legal or physical or legal custody of a child to a parent if such parent has been found guilty of, or pled guilty to, a felony violation of chapter 566, RSMo, when the child was the victim, or a violation of section 568.020, RSMo, when the child was the victim.

4. The general assembly finds and declares that it is the public policy of this state to assure children frequent, continuing and meaningful contact with both parents after the parents have separated or dissolved their marriage except for cases where the court specifically finds to the contrary, and that it is in the public interest to encourage parents to share decision-making rights and responsibilities of child rearing. In order to effectuate this policy, the court shall determine the physical and legal or physical or legal custody arrangement which will best assure that parents share such decision-making responsibility and authority and such frequent, continuing and meaningful contact between the child and each parent, as is indicated in the best interests of the child under all relevant circumstances.

5. Prior to awarding the appropriate physical and legal custody arrangement in the best interest of the child, the court shall consider each of the following as follows:

(1) Joint physical and joint legal custody to both parents, which shall be the preferred custodial arrangement and which shall not be denied solely for the reason that one parent opposes a joint physical and joint legal custody award;

(2) Sole physical and legal or physical or legal custody to either parent; or

(a) When the court finds that each parent is unfit, unsuitable, or unable to be a physical and legal or physical or legal custodian, or the welfare of the child requires, and it is in the best interests of the child, then physical and legal or physical or legal custody, temporary physical and legal or physical or legal custody or visitation may be awarded to any other person or persons deemed by the court to be suitable and able to provide an adequate and stable environment for the child. Before the court awards physical and legal or physical or legal custody, temporary physical and legal or physical or legal custody or visitation to a third person under this subdivision, the court shall make that person a party to the action;

(b) Under the provisions of this subsection, any person may petition the court to intervene as a party in interest at any time as provided by supreme court rule.

6. Unless otherwise decreed, parents are obligated to exchange information with one another concerning the health, education and welfare of the child. In a decree of sole legal custody, a court may provide that parents shall confer with one another in the exercise of decision-making rights, responsibilities and authority. Upon a finding by the court that either parent has refused to exchange information with one another, which shall include but not be limited to the health, education and welfare of the child, the court shall order the parent to comply immediately and to pay to the prevailing party a sum equal to the prevailing party's cost associated with obtaining the requested information, which shall include but not be limited to attorney's fees and court costs.

7. As between the parents of a child, no preference may be given to either parent in the awarding of custody because of that parent's age, sex, or financial status, nor because of the age or sex of the child.

8. Any decree providing for joint physical and joint legal custody or joint physical or joint legal custody shall include a specific written plan setting forth the terms of such custody. Such plan may be suggested by both parents acting in concert, or one parent acting individually, or if neither of the foregoing occurs, the plan shall be provided by the court. The plan may include a provision for mediation of disputes. In all cases, the joint custody plan approved and ordered by the court shall be in the court's discretion and shall be in the best interests of the child.

9. Unless [a noncustodial] the parent without physical custody has been denied visitation rights under section 452.400, access to records and information pertaining to a minor child, including, but not limited to, medical, dental, and school records, shall not be denied to [a] such parent [because the parent is not the child's custodial parent]. If [a noncustodial] the parent without physical custody has been granted restricted or supervised visitation because the court has found that the [custodial] parent with physical custody or the child has been the victim of domestic violence, as defined in section 455.200, RSMo, by the [noncustodial] parent without physical custody, the court may order that the reports and records made available pursuant to this subsection not include the address of the [custodial] parent with physical custody or the child.

10. If any individual, professional, public or private institution or organization denies access or fails to provide or disclose any and all records and information, including, but not limited to, past and present dental, medical and school records pertaining to a minor child, to either [the custodial or noncustodial] parent upon the written request of such parent, the court shall, upon its finding that the individual, professional, public or private institution or organization denied such request without good cause, order that party to comply immediately with such request and to pay to the prevailing party all costs incurred, including, but not limited to, attorney's fees and court costs associated with obtaining the requested information.

11. An award of joint physical and joint legal custody or joint physical or joint legal custody does not preclude an award of child support pursuant to section 452.340 and applicable supreme court rules. The court shall consider the factors contained in section 452.340 and applicable supreme court rules in determining an amount reasonable or necessary for the support of the child.

12. If the court finds that domestic violence has occurred, the court shall make specific findings of fact to show that the physical and legal or physical or legal custody or visitation arrangement ordered by the court best protects the child and the parent or other family or household member who is the victim of domestic violence from any further harm.

452.377. A person entitled to the custody of a child shall not [change] relocate the residence of the child to another state, or remove the child from this state for a period of time exceeding ninety days, or relocate the residence of the child more than fifty miles from the current residence of the child except upon order of the court or with the written consent of the [parties] persons with physical and legal or physical or legal custody or visitation rights. Where [the noncustodial] a person has been given physical and legal or physical or legal custody or visitation rights by the custody decree, such court permission may be granted only after notice to the person having [visitation] such rights and after opportunity for hearing. When addressing the issue of relocation, the court shall consider all relevant factors including but not limited to:

(1) Is the relocation in the best interest of the child in relation to each parent;

(2) Will the relocation unreasonably interfere with any person's physical and legal or physical or legal custody or visitation rights; and

(3) Is there an agreement and plan to continue a relationship with the other parent.

Violation of the provisions of this section or a court order under this section may shall be deemed a change of circumstance under section 452.410, allowing the court to modify the prior custody decree.

452.400. 1. A parent not granted custody of the child is entitled to reasonable visitation rights unless the court finds, after a hearing, that visitation would endanger the child's physical health or impair his emotional development. [The court shall define the noncustodial parent's visitation periods in detail at the request of either party.] The court shall enter an order specifically detailing the visitation or temporary physical custody rights of the parent without physical custody. In determining the granting of visitation rights, the court shall consider evidence of domestic violence. If the court finds that domestic violence has occurred, the court may find that granting visitation to the abusive party is in the best interests of the child. The court shall not grant visitation to the parent not granted custody if such parent has been found guilty of or pled guilty to a felony violation of chapter 566, RSMo, when the child was the victim, or a violation of section 568.020, RSMo, when the child was the victim. The court shall consider the parent's history of inflicting, or tendency to inflict, physical harm, bodily injury, assault, or the fear of physical harm, bodily injury, or assault on other persons and shall grant visitation in a manner that best protects the child and the parent or other family or household member who is the victim of domestic violence from any further harm. The court, if requested by a party, shall make specific findings of fact to show that the visitation arrangements made by the court best protects the child or the parent or other family or household member who is the victim of domestic violence from any further harm.

2. The court may modify an order granting or denying visitation rights whenever modification would serve the best interests of the child, but the court shall not restrict a parent's visitation rights unless it finds that the visitation would endanger the child's physical health or impair his emotional development. When a court restricts a parent's visitation rights or when a court orders supervised visitation because of allegations of abuse or domestic violence, a showing of proof of treatment and rehabilitation shall be made to the court before unsupervised visitation may be ordered. "Supervised visitation", as used in this section, is visitation which takes place in the presence of a responsible adult appointed by the court for the protection of the child.

3. The court shall mandate compliance with its order by both [the custodial parent] parents and the child. [ In the event of noncompliance,] If a parent has been granted visitation rights or physical and legal or physical or legal custody rights or temporary physical custody rights, and such rights are denied or interfered with by the other parent, the [noncustodial] parent having visitation or physical and legal or physical or legal custody rights or temporary physical custody rights may file a motion for contempt.

4. Upon a finding by the court that its order for visitation or physical and legal or physical or legal custody or temporary physical austody has not been complied with, without good cause, the court shall [define the noncustodial parent's visitation in detail and shall exercise its discretion in providing] provide a remedy, which shall include, but not be limited to, a compensatory period of visitation or [temporary] physical custody at a time convenient for the [noncustodial] parent denied visitation or temporary physical custody or physical custody not less than the period of time denied, [together with] and if requested by a party a mandatory judgment in an amount not less than the reasonable expenses, attorneys fees and court costs actually incurred by the [noncustodial] parent as a result of the denial of visitation or physical and legal or physical or legal custody or temporary physical custody.

[4.] 5. The reasonable expenses, attorney's fees and court costs of a proceeding to enforce visitation or physical and legal or physical or legal custody rights shall, if requested by a party, be assessed against the parent who [unreasonably], without good cause, denies or interferes with visitation or physical and legal or physical or legal custody or temporary physical custody. In addition, the court may utilize any and all powers relating to contempt conferred on it by law or rule of the Missouri supreme court.

6. The circuit court of the twenty-third judicial circuit shall establish a pilot project for the purpose of enforcing a parent's right to custody or visitation. If a parent has been granted visitation or custody rights, and such rights are denied or interfered with by the other parent, the parent having such rights may file a motion for a family access order. The motion for a family access order may be made on a simple verified pro se form which shall be supplied by the clerk of the court and which shall not require the assistance of legal counsel. The cost of filing such motion shall be the standard court cost for such a filing plus a ten dollar family access fee. The court shall implement procedures to enforce the custody and visitation rights in a timely manner.

7. The intentional denial or interference with visitation or physical and legal or physical or legal custody or temporary physical custody of a child from the other parent, without good cause, shall constitute a change of circumstances which may justify a modification of custody.

452.405. 1. Except as otherwise ordered by the court or agreed by the parties in writing at the time of the custody decree, the legal custodian may determine the child's upbringing, including his education, health care, and religious training, unless the court after hearing[,] finds, upon motion by the [noncustodial] parent without legal custody, that in the absence of a specific limitation of the legal custodian's authority the child's physical health would be endangered or his emotional development impaired.

2. The court may order the county welfare office or the county juvenile officer to exercise continuing supervision over the case.

452.411. If either parent of a child changes his residence to another state, such change of residence of the parent shall be deemed a change of circumstances under section 452.410, allowing the court to modify a prior physical and legal or physical or legal custody decree.

452.416. 1. Notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary, whenever a parent in emergency military service has a change in income due to such military service, such change in income shall be considered a change in circumstances so substantial and continuing as to make the terms of any order or judgment for child support or visitation unreasonable.

2. Upon receipt of a notarized letter from the commanding officer of a noncustodial parent in emergency military service which contains the date of the commencement of emergency military service and the compensation of the parent in emergency military service, the director of the division of child support enforcement shall take appropriate action to seek modification of the order or judgment of child support in accordance with the guidelines and criteria set forth in section 452.340 and applicable supreme court [rule 88.01] rules. Such notification to the director shall constitute an application for services under section 454.425,

RSMo.

3. Upon return from emergency military service the parent shall notify the director of the division of child support enforcement who shall take appropriate action to seek modification of the order or judgment of child support in accordance with the guidelines and criteria set forth in section 452.340 and applicable supreme court [rule 88.01] rules. Such notification to the director shall constitute an application for services under section 454.425, RSMo.

4. As used in this section, the term "emergency military service" means that the parent is a member of a reserve unit or national guard unit which is called into active military duty for a period of more than thirty days.

452.600. 1. The circuit courts [of the fifth, sixth, twenty-third, twenty-ninth, thirtieth, thirty-first and thirty-eighth judicial circuits], by local rule, may establish a program of educational sessions for parties to actions for dissolution of marriage or in postjudgment proceedings involving custody or support, concerning the effects of dissolution of marriage on minor children of the marriage. In lieu of establishing such a program, the circuit court may, by local rule, designate a similar program of educational sessions offered by a private or public entity.

2. By July 1, 1998, the Missouri supreme court shall have in effect guidelines for the program of educational sessions. The reasonable expenses of the educational sessions shall be paid by the parties.

452.605. In an action for dissolution of marriage involving minor children, or in a postjudgment proceeding wherein custody [or support] of minor children is to be determined by the court, [the court may on its own motion] the court shall, except for good cause, order the parties, including the minor children, to attend educational sessions concerning the effects of custody and the dissolution of marriage on children[, if the court finds that doing so would be in the best interests of the minor children]. As used in this section "good cause" includes, but is not limited to, situations where the parties have stipulated to the legal and physical custody of the child or where the safety of a party or child may be endangered by attending the educational sessions."; and

4. The department of social services is authorized to propose rules and regulations necessary to implement the programs referenced in this section only as provided pursuant to chapter 536, RSMo and section 660.017, RSMo.

Section 12. The income levels and resource limits which qualify a family for benefits shall be determined by the department, shall be no more restrictive than those in place on July 16, 1996, for the aid to families with dependent children program, and shall be uniformly applied throughout the state.

Section 13. 1. The department shall require, as a condition of eligibility for benefits through the work first program, that each applicant for or recipient of benefits shall assign to the department any rights to support from any other person that such applicant or recipient may have on his or her own behalf or on behalf of any other family member for whom the applicant or recipient is applying for or is receiving benefits. Such assignment of rights to support shall take effect upon a determination by the department that the applicant is eligible for assistance through the work first program. The assignment shall be effective for current and accrued support obligations and shall authorize the division of child support enforcement of the department of social services to bring an administrative or judicial action to establish or enforce a current support obligation, to collect support arrearage that have accrued under an existing order for support, or to seek reimbursement of a support obligation pursuant to The Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act of 1996, as amended.

2. The department shall not require as a condition of eligibility for benefits through the work first program that any member of a family must assign to the department any rights to support which accrue after the date the family leaves the program.

3. The department of social services shall implement the provisions necessary to collect current and accrued support obligations unless the department determines that such implementation is contrary to the best interest of a child on whose behalf benefits are claimed or of the caretaker of such a child. Such provisions shall include establishing the paternity of a child for whom support is claimed or obtaining any other payments or property that are due to such applicant or child. The divisions of family services and child support enforcement shall impose such sanctions as are consistent with The Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act of 1996, as amended, and are otherwise provided for by state law and through rules and regulations promulgated by the department of social services.

4. If the division of child support enforcement determines that an individual who is receiving benefits through the work first program fails or refuses to cooperate in establishing paternity or in establishing, modifying, or enforcing a support order with respect to a child and for whom benefits are sought or received and if the individual does not demonstrate to the satisfaction of the department good cause for such failure or refusal to cooperate or enforce a support order, the department shall impose sanctions. The department shall promulgate such regulations as are necessary to implement this statute, including setting forth time frames for ineligibility and establishing such exemptions as are deemed appropriate. The department shall promulgate rules concerning the implementation of this section.

5. Child care support is defined as the legal obligation of an individual to provide an amount required to be paid under a judgment decree or order, whether temporary or final, issued by a court of competent jurisdiction or an administrative agency specifically for the child care expenses of a child. Any rights to receive child care support under a state program funded under Part A of the Social Security Act or under the state plan approved under Part A of the Social Security Act are assigned to the state as a pre-condition of receiving child care assistance. Assignment of child care support does not constitute an assignment of the child support amount awarded for the basic child needs of food, clothing and shelter but only for the assignment of the specific award for child care costs.

6. The department of social services is authorized to propose rules and regulations necessary to implement the programs and sanctions referenced in this section only as provided pursuant to chapter 536, RSMo and section 660.017, RSMo.

Section 14. 1. Work first program benefits shall be granted on behalf of a needy child and may be granted to a caretaker relative or legal guardian caring for a needy dependent child if the child:

(1) Has been deprived of parental support or care by reason of the unemployment, death, continued absence from the home, or physical or mental incapacity of a parent;

(2) Is living with a caretaker relative or legal guardian;

(3) Is under the age of eighteen; and

(4) Is not eligible for work first program benefits under section 20 of this act because the child is not living with a parent or stepparent.

2. The amount of the monthly public assistance benefit payable hereunder shall be determined by the standards set forth in section 208.150, RSMo.

Section 15. Federal Title IV-E eligibility may be granted to a dependent child:

(1) Who would meet the requirements of aid to families with dependent children in effect as of June 1, 1995, except for his removal from the home of a relative as a result of a judicial determination to the effect that continuation therein would be contrary to the welfare of such child;

(2) For whose placement and care the division of family services is responsible;

(3) Who has been placed in a foster family home, or in either a for profit or nonprofit private child-care facility as a result of such determination; and

(4) Who:

(a) In and for the month in which court proceedings leading to such determination were initiated would have qualified for aid to families with dependent children under the requirements in effect on June 1, 1995, if application had been made therefor; or

(b) In the case of a child who had been living with a specified relative within six months prior to the month in which such proceedings were initiated, would have qualified for such aid in and for such month, if in such month he had been living with, and removed from the home of, such a relative and application had been made therefor.

Section 16. 1. The department is not prohibited by federal law from testing applicants or recipients of public assistance for the use of controlled substances or from sanctioning those who test positive for the use of such substances. Recipients of work first program benefits and food stamp recipients, who are required to participate in a work activity in order to retain their eligibility for such programs and who are denied employment due to failing an employer-required controlled substance screening, shall have sixty days to become employed with the screening employer or obtain other employment.

2. (1) Denial of employment after failing a controlled substance screening and failure to become employed within sixty days of the screening shall result in a sanction of the work first program benefits and food stamp benefits for the individual for a minimum of thirty days but not more than sixty days unless the department locates payment resources for drug rehabilitation.

(2) A second or subsequent denial of employment for failing a second or subsequent controlled substance screening shall result in a sanction of the work first program benefits and food stamp benefits for the individual for a minimum of six months unless the department locates payment resources for drug rehabilitation.

3. All records obtained in an employer-required controlled substance screening, shall remain confidential between the applicant, the employer and the department.

4. An individual who has been convicted under federal or state law after August 22, 1996, of any felony offense which has as an element of the offense the possession, use, or distribution of a controlled substance as defined in Section 102(6) of the Controlled Substances Act, 21 USC 802(6), shall be sanctioned for a time period from receipt of benefits through any state program funded or carried out under Part A of Title IV of the Social Security Act or the Food Stamp Act of 1977.

5. Any person receiving public assistance benefits pursuant to chapter 208, RSMo, is deemed to have consented to a drug test to detect the use of controlled substances. Such test may be requested by the director of the department of social services. Any public assistance recipient who is found to have tested positive for the use of a controlled substance, which was not prescribed for such recipient by a licensed physician or dentist, may, after an administrative hearing conducted pursuant to the provisions of chapter 536, RSMo, be sanctioned as determined by the department director or his designee, for some or all public assistance benefits for a period up to one year from the date of the administrative hearing.

6. The director shall promulgate rules to effectuate the provisions of this section.

Section 17. 1. A dependent child eighteen years of age shall, in order to retain eligibility for benefits through the work first program, be enrolled as a full-time student in a public or private secondary school, or an equivalent level of vocational or technical school.

2. Any sanction imposed by the department for a recipient's failure to comply with requirements of subsection 1 of this section shall continue until the minor child is attending school. Good cause exceptions to this requirement may be made by the department if there is substantial evidence that the action of the parent or caretaker presents a probability of serious harm to the parent or caretaker.

3. Prior to imposing a sanction, the department shall make a reasonable effort to resolve disputes when a recipient of benefits through the work first program fails to meet the program requirements. Reasonable efforts shall include a written notice to the recipient of an intent to sanction. The notice shall include actions the recipient may take to avoid sanctions, an offer to discuss barriers to participation and, if appropriate, alternative program provisions that may be incorporated in an individual responsibility plan.

Section 18. The department shall deny benefits through the work first program to or on behalf of:

(1) Any member of a family that includes an adult who has received benefits for sixty months or more, whether or not consecutive, through this program or any other state program that has been created and funded through the provisions of The Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act of 1996, as amended, after the date such state program has commenced unless:

(a) In any month during which benefits were provided to that individual he or she:

a. Was a minor child; and b. Was not the head of household or married to the head of household;

(b) Benefits were provided to the individual during a month in which he or she lived on an Indian reservation or in an Alaskan Native village as defined in The Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act of 1996, as amended; or

(c) The department elects to extend the period of eligibility for benefits for the individual and his or her family members;

(2) An individual who has been convicted in federal or state court of having made a fraudulent statement or representation with respect to his or her place of residence in order to receive benefits simultaneously from two or more states under programs that have been created and funded through The Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act of 1996, as amended, Title XIX, the Food Stamp Act of 1977, the Supplemental Security Income Program under Title XVI, or any program under Title IV-D of the Social Security Act. The period of ineligibility shall begin on the date the individual was convicted of the offense and shall continue for ten years;

(3) An individual who:

(a) Is fleeing to avoid prosecution for custody or confinement after he or she has been convicted under any federal or state law of a crime which is a felony or, in the state of New Jersey, is a high misdemeanor; or

(b) Is violating a condition of probation or parole imposed under any federal or state law;

(4) An individual or on behalf of a minor child who has been or is expected by a parent or other caretaker relative to be absent from the home for such period of time as is designated by the department in Missouri's state plan filed pursuant to The Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act of 1996, as amended;

(5) The parent or other relative caretaker of a minor child who fails to notify the department of the absence of a minor child from the home by the end of the fifth day after it becomes apparent to the parent or relative caretaker that the child will be absent from the home for the period of time established by the department of social services and referred to in subdivision (4) of this section;

(6) An individual who is a recipient of assistance through other specific state programs designated to provide supplemental aid;

(7) Any other individual who is precluded from receiving benefits in accordance with the provisions of The Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Act of 1996, as amended.

Section 19. Work first program benefits shall not be granted or continued:

(1) Unless the benefits granted are used to meet the needs of the child and the needy eligible relative caring for a dependent child;

(2) To any person who refuses to accept vocational rehabilitation services or training or medical or other legal healing treatment necessary to improve or restore his capacity to support himself and his dependents, and it is certified by competent medical authority designated by the division of family services that such physical or mental incapacity can be removed, corrected or substantially improved; provided, however, the division of family services may in its discretion waive this requirement, taking into consideration the age of the individual, nature and extent of training and treatment, or whether he endangers the health of others in his refusal, whether the training or treatment is such that a reasonably prudent person would accept it, and all other facts and circumstances in the individual case;

(3) To a household that receives in any month an amount of income which together with all other income for that month, not excluded or disregarded by the division, exceeds the standard of need established by the department of social services. For the purposes of this subdivision, where consistent with federal law or regulation, "income" as established by the department of social services in conformance with The Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act of 1996, as amended, shall not include the proceeds of any life insurance policy, or prearranged funeral or burial contract, provided that such proceeds are actually used to pay for the funeral or burial expenses of the deceased family member, earnings of a student in school eighteen years of age or younger, child support assurance or earned income tax credit.

Section 20. 1. Except as otherwise provided in this section, benefits through work first program shall not be provided to an unmarried individual who has not attained the age of eighteen years if the individual:

(1) Has a minor child at least twelve weeks of age in his or her care and the individual has not successfully completed a high school education or a course of study resulting in a certificate of general equivalence unless the individual participates in:

(a) Educational activities directed toward the attainment of a high school diploma or a certificate of general equivalence; or

(b) An alternative educational or training program that has been approved by the department; or

(2) Is a single custodial parent of a child not residing in a home in which his or her parent(s), guardian(s), or adult relative(s) is also residing. Exceptions to this requirement shall be allowed in circumstances in which:

(a) The single custodial parent does not have a parent, legal guardian or other appropriate adult relative who is living or whose whereabouts are known;

(b) The single custodial parent does not have a parent, legal guardian, or other appropriate adult relative, who would otherwise meet applicable criteria to act as their legal guardian, who allows the single custodial parent to live in their home;

(c) The department determines that the single custodial parent or the minor child is being or has been subjected to serious physical or emotional harm, sexual abuse, or exploitation in the residence of the single custodial parent's own parent or legal guardian;

(d) The department determines that substantial evidence exists of an act or failure to act that presents an imminent or serious harm to the single custodial parent or the minor child if the single custodial parent and the minor child lived in the same residence with the individual's parent or legal guardian; or

(e) The department otherwise determines that it is in the best interest of the minor child to waive these requirements with respect to the single custodial parent or the minor child.

2. In circumstances in which the department determines that an individual does not have an appropriate living arrangement in accordance with subsection 1 of this section, the division shall assist the individual in obtaining a second chance home, maternity home, or other appropriate adult-supervised supportive living arrangement. Thereafter, the division shall require the individual and any child who is in the care of the individual to reside in such home or other living arrangement as a condition of the individual's continued eligibility for benefits through the work first program.

Section 21. 1. Work activities for the work first program shall be those activities which are set forth in The Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act of 1996, as amended, or those activities which are permitted under a federally approved waiver granted to the department of social services. The department shall promulgate such regulations as are necessary to implement and enforce work activities requirements, including waiver exemptions that are inconsistent with the requirements of The Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act of 1996, as amended, or a federally approved waiver.

2. An individual who is a single parent head of household of one or more children of any age who is himself or herself not yet twenty years of age is deemed to be engaged in work for a month if the individual:

(1) Maintains satisfactory attendance, during the month, in a secondary school or a course of study leading to a certificate of general equivalence; or

(2) Participates in education directly related to employment.

3. The department shall establish a system of sanctions that shall be imposed regarding an individual's continued qualification for benefits through the work first program in circumstances in which the individual fails or refuses to cooperate in participating in work activities as set forth in this section. Such system of sanctions shall set forth the types of benefits for which a sanctioned individual will be disqualified and the period of time that such sanctioned individual will remain disqualified from receiving such benefits. The state shall reduce the amount of assistance otherwise payable to the family pro rata with respect to any period during a month in which the individual so refuses to engage in work requirements in accordance with The Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act of 1996, as amended, subject to good cause and other exceptions as the state might establish. Imposition of such sanctions shall be subject to good cause and such other exceptions as are established by the department. However, sanctions may not be imposed for benefits provided through Medicaid as set forth in section 208.151, RSMo. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 208.180, RSMo, the department may establish that an individual who has been sanctioned for any period of time for failure to cooperate with work activities requirements shall be able to receive benefits through the work first program only after he or she is in compliance with work activities requirements.

4. The department may exempt an individual from the work participation requirements of the work first program for good cause, including, but not limited to, the following conditions which may render an individual temporarily or permanently incapable of participating in work activities:

(1) Advanced age of the individual;

(2) Physical or mental incapacity of the individual;

(3) Being a person whose presence in the household on a substantially continuous basis is required because of the advanced age, physical or mental incapacity of another member of the household.

5. Individuals exempted by the department of social services from participating in a work activity may elect to participate in work activities. Such an election shall not preclude the individual from subsequently being exempted from participation in work activities by the department.

Section 22. 1. The department of social services through the families work program may establish the "Child Support Assurance Program". The child support assurance program shall provide benefits to children who meet specific eligibility requirements and shall be subject to appropriations. The child support assurance program shall be funded from the funds available in the Missouri families work program fund and Missouri general revenue maintenance of effort fund.

2. The department will aggressively collect child support and intensify its efforts consistently with the new child support requirements of The Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act of 1996, as amended.

3. The state shall provide monthly child support assurance money payment benefits to needy children in all appropriate circumstances and it will also intensify its efforts to ensure that families obtain self-sufficiency.

4. In order to participate in the child support assurance program:

(1) The custodial parent shall be employed and have an earned, gross income that does not exceed one hundred percent of the federal poverty limit by household size;

(2) The department ascertains that the noncustodial parent has a legal order to pay child support;

5. The department shall design the necessary administrative procedures for the timely review of custodial parent earnings;

6. When a custodial parent is receiving a cash grant from the department to support the family, and the custodial parent begins and receives earnings from an employer, if the household has a legal order to establish child support, child support assurance shall be initiated for the children. When the household's earning exceeds the standard of need for cash assistance, they will transition to the below poverty level child support assurance.

7. If the funds at the disposal or which may be obtained by the department of social services for the payment of child support assurance program benefits shall at any time become insufficient to pay the full amount thereof, the amount of any payment to or on behalf of each of such persons shall be reduced pro rata in proportion to such deficiency in the total amount available or to become available for such purpose.

Section 23. 1. Except as otherwise provided in this section, an adult receiving benefits through the work first program may fill a vacant employment position in order to engage in work activities. An adult receiving benefits through the work first program, who fills a vacant employment position in order to engage in work activities must be guaranteed a wage equivalent to that of the state minimum wage.

2. A supplemental wage assistance employment position made available pursuant to this section may not be created as the result of the following:

(1) When any other individual is on layoff from the same or any substantially equivalent job; or

(2) If the employer has terminated the employment of any regular employee or otherwise caused an involuntary reduction of its workforce in order to fill the vacancy so created with an adult described in section 1 of this section.

3. The Missouri state department of labor and industrial relations shall establish and maintain a grievance procedure in order to resolve only alleged violations of this section. All rulemaking authority granted pursuant to this section is subject to any rulemaking authority contained in chapter 536, RSMo.

4. Nothing in this section shall preempt or supersede any provision of state law that provides greater protection for employees from job displacement.

Section 24. 1. There is hereby established in each office of the department of social services which takes applications for work first assistance or joint office when co-located with another agency, a direct placement program. The department shall identify which case worker or case managers will participate in the program. The case workers and cases managers together with the office director or designee, shall identify employers or job vacancies which recipients may be referred to for interviews and possible employment.

2. Each self sufficiency pact shall identify a time when the recipient will be referred to the direct placement program. Any recipient referred to the direct placement program who refuses to go or does not attend an interview established by a case worker or manager, or who refuses to accept a job offered by an employer, without good cause, shall be sanctioned according to the provisions of subsection 3 of section 21.

Section 25. 1. The department shall establish "individual development accounts" whereby individuals receiving work first benefits may accumulate assets for specific purposes as defined in The Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act of 1996, as amended. Any assets accumulated in an individual development account shall not be counted in determining eligibility or benefits for the purpose of work first program or any other cash assistance program operated pursuant to this section.

3. The department of social services is authorized to propose rules and regulations necessary to implement this section only as provided pursuant to chapter 536, RSMo and section 660.017, RSMo.

Section 26. 1. The department in conjunction with community colleges and vocational schools shall develop pilot programs utilizing a coordinated approach to enable people receiving public assistance to obtain an education that leads to permanent full-time employment with benefits while ensuring that they meet the work participation requirements under The 1996 Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act.

2. At least one pilot program shall be established with a community college and at least one with a vocational school. The pilot programs shall include activities in which will count towards the work participation rate such as:

(3) Internships where students obtain practical work experience in the occupational field in which they are training;

Section 27. The department of social services shall establish the parent's fair share program to work with the noncustodial parent to take responsibility for the financial and emotional support of the children of such parent. Participation in the parents fair share program shall qualify as an alternative work activity for the noncustodial pursuant to section 454.490, RSMo.

Section 28. 1. In any action challenging any rule promulgated pursuant to the provisions of this act, the agency as defined in section 536.010, RSMo, promulgating such rule shall be required to prove by a preponderance of the evidence that the rule or threatened application of the rule is valid, is authorized by law, is not in conflict with any law and is not arbitrary and capricious.

2. The court shall award reasonable fees and expenses as defined in section 536.085, RSMo, to any party who prevails in such action.

3. All rules promulgated pursuant to the provisions of this section shall expire on August twenty-eighth of the year after the year in which the rule became effective unless the general assembly extends by statute the rule or set of rules beyond that date to a date specified by the general assembly.

contained in chapter 536, RSMo, including any subsequent amendments to chapter 536, RSMo.

89th General Assembly of the State of Missouri

First Extraordinary Session

First Day, Friday, May 16, 1997

Prayer by Representative Pat Kelley.

Gracious Loving God,

When the time is so dark that we cannot see and we don't know what to do, we come to You and ask for Your presence. We ask for Your love and care. We especially ask for Your love and care for Steve Stoll and his family in the hours and days ahead. We thank You for the life of his daughter, Emily, and for the gift of eternal life that comes through You.

And we ask You to help us remember how precious life is. We thank You for each and every life in this chamber and their families. We thank You for the gift of life, for life is Your gift to us. Help us make our lives be a precious gift to You by serving You.

In Your name we pray. Amen.

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR

The following Proclamation was received from His Excellency, Governor Mel Carnahan:

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, Article III, Section 25 of the Constitution of the State of Missouri prohibits the General Assembly during its Regular Session from taking up for consideration any appropriation bill after 6:00 p.m., on the first Friday following the first Monday in May of each year; and

WHEREAS, May 9, 1997, was the first Friday following the first Monday in May of this year during the First Regular Session of this 89th General Assembly; and

WHEREAS, the General Assembly failed to complete the appropriations process for the 1998 fiscal year by 6:00 p.m., on May 9, 1997; and

WHEREAS, the 1998 fiscal year begins on July 1, 1997; and

WHEREAS, appropriations are still necessary for the budgets of the departments of Health and Mental Health, the Judiciary, all statewide elected officials, the General Assembly and the other governmental entities as specifically designated and limited below in paragraphs numbered as 1 and 2; and

WHEREAS, the failure to appropriate funds for the continued operations of the departments of Health and Mental Health, the Judiciary, all statewide elected officials, the General Assembly and the other governmental entities as specifically designated and limited below in paragraphs numbered as 1 and 2 would cause a serious disruption in the delivery of state governmental services to Missouri citizens, as the state would have no funds to operate after June 30, 1997; and

WHEREAS, such a disruption in the delivery of state governmental services would constitute a serious threat to the health, safety and welfare of the citizens of Missouri; and

WHEREAS, such a disruption in the delivery of state governmental services would impede the Governor from carrying out his duties pursuant to Article IV, Section 2, of the Constitution of Missouri to "take care that the laws are distributed and faithfully executed;" and

WHEREAS, Article IV, Section 9, authorizes the Governor to "On extraordinary occasions . . . convene the General Assembly by proclamation, wherein he shall state specifically each matter on which action is deemed necessary;" and

WHEREAS, such failure to appropriate funds as required by the Constitution of the State of Missouri is an extraordinary occasion as envisioned by Article IV, Section 9, of the Constitution of the State of Missouri.

NOW THEREFORE, on the extraordinary occasion that exists in the State of Missouri:

I, MEL CARNAHAN, GOVERNOR OF THE STATE OF MISSOURI, pursuant to the authority vested in me as Governor by the Constitution of the State of Missouri, do, by this Proclamation, convene the Eighty-Ninth General Assembly of the State of Missouri in the First Extra Session of the First Regular Session; and

I HEREBY call upon the Senators and Representatives of said General Assembly to meet in their respective chambers in the State Capitol in the City of Jefferson at the hour of 6:30 p.m., Central Daylight Time, May 16, 1997; and

I HEREBY state that the action of said General Assembly is deemed necessary concerning each matter specially designated and limited hereinafter as follows:

1. To appropriate money for the expenses, grants, refunds, and distributions of the Department of Mental Health and the Department of Health, and the several divisions and programs thereof, and the Missouri Health Facilities Review Committee, to be expended only as provided in Article IV, Section 28, of the Constitution of Missouri, for the period beginning July 1, 1997 and ending June 30, 1998; and

2. To appropriate money for the expenses, grants, refunds, and distributions of the Chief Executive's Office and Mansion, Lieutenant Governor, Secretary of State, State Auditor, State Treasurer, Attorney General, Office of Administration, Missouri Prosecuting Attorneys and Circuit Attorneys Retirement System, and the Judiciary and the Office of the State Public Defender, and the several divisions and programs thereof, and for the payment of salaries and mileage of members of the State Senate and the House of Representatives and contingent expenses of the General Assembly, including salaries and expenses of elective and appointive officers and necessary capital improvements expenditures; for salaries and expenses of members and employees and other necessary operating expenses of the Missouri Commission on Interstate Cooperation, the Committee on Legislative Research, the Committee on Public Employee Retirement, the Committee on Administrative Rules, the Joint Committee on Capital Improvements Oversight and the Joint Committee on Economic Development; and for the expenses of the interim committees established by the General Assembly, to be expended only as provided in Article IV, Section 28, of the Constitution of Missouri, for the period beginning July 1, 1997, and ending June 30, 1998.

3. To allow the Senate to consider appointments to boards, commissions, departments and divisions that require the advice and consent of the Senate.

First Extraordinary Session, 89th General Assembly

THIRD DAY, TUESDAY, MAY 20 , 1997

Prayer by Father Hugh Behan.

"As we have opportunity, let us do good to all." (Gal. 6:10).

We begin the prayer which opens this special session as we begin each regular session with a reminder of the basics. All power comes from you, our God, and is vested in the people who elect us to represent them. We are stewards of your gifts as we exercise goverance. Constitutional principles which are not always easily interpreted, moral convictions which are not universally accepted, competing ideologies, including differing views of how much or how little government is involved in the social contract, are part of this mix. Then there is party loyalty, the influence of PAC money, personal antagonisms, our own and others' ambitions, the intervention of constituents and various groups who organize them to lobby, news reporting and editorials. Gracious God, we name these different forces that act upon us. May we include prayer, combined with seeking wise counsel and study of the prayer, combined with seeking wise counsel and study of the issues, in trying to deal with the highly charged emotional issues that are the subject of this special session.

Our hearts go out today in a special way to Representative Steve Stoll and the family on the tragic death of Emily in an accident over the weekend. May peace be hers and with them. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as an Honorary Page for the Day, to serve without compensation: Stephanie Kilby.

The Journal of the first day was approved as corrected, and the Journal of the second day was approved as printed by the following vote:

House Journal

First Extraordinary Session, 89th General Assembly

FOURTH DAY, THURSDAY, MAY 22 , 1997

Prayer by Reverend Cheryl L. Tatham.

We find these chambers filled again today, compassionate Lord, with those who debate issues - life, choice, money, responsibility, health, the welfare of women, children and families and many others. Wisdom is needed, O Lord. Guidance, prayer, conscience, knowledge - all factors that need to be present to make the decisions that have to be made.

We ask your presence with each representative as they struggle within themselves to answer difficult questions. We ask your presence with them as they struggle to speak the true voice of their constituents - male, female, young and old. We ask your presence as they make their decisions. Help them base those decisions on compassion not judgment. Do not let fear keep them from taking the stand they feel they must take. Do not let selfishness stop them from rendering the service they are called to render. Do not let a lack of foresight cause them to make decisions which bring nothing but regret.

Your presence is needed, O God, and we pray that today that presence may be felt mightily throughout these halls. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the third day was approved as printed.

Second Extraordinary Session, 89th General Assembly

FIRST DAY, Monday, September 8, 1997

Prayer by Father Hugh Behan.

"Through love be servants of one another." (Gal. 5:13)

As we begin this session, our minds are full of images in recent days of the death and funeral services of Diana, Princess of Wales, and mourning for Mother Teresa of Calcutta. We also carry the memory of our former Speaker's fall from grace, Missouri's three executions in August with a fourth halted, embarrassing news of the charges of mistreatment of Missouri prisoners in Texas and a renewed debate about partial birth abortions for the upcoming veto session on Wednesday.

Gracious God, as we mourn Diana and Teresa, we see two people, one coming from wealth and glamour to help the poor and abandoned, the other coming from the poor and abandoned to the wealthy asking for help; both challenged our hearts to openness.

We pray for all these memories, these mixed emotions and complex ethical issues which face us constantly in our work here and personally. Guide us with Your love and what ever discernment it takes to address the issues facing us this week. Bless our two new members as we welcome them today. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 4

Whereas, the members of the Missouri House of Representatives proudly but solemnly pause to commemorate one of the lesser-known episodes of the Second World War; and

Whereas, on Christmas Eve, 1944, there occurred a catastrophe that had remained virtually unknown for more than a half century; and

Whereas, wartime censorship prohibited any official report of this historic event which came to light only recently with the July, 1997, publication of Allan Andrade's book, S.S. Leopoldville Disaster, December 24, 1944; and

Whereas, on December 24, 1944, a Belgian troopship, the S.S. Leopoldville, met disaster as the target of a torpedo attack by a German submarine; and

Whereas, at the time of this tragic incident, the S.S. Leopoldville was transporting members of the 66th (Black Panther) Infantry Division to fight in the Battle of the Bulge; and

Whereas, the S.S. Leopoldville, which was carrying 2,235 American soldiers, sank, and official records claim 802 of those brave warriors perished; and

Whereas, thirty-one soldiers from the great state of Missouri were among the 802 Americans who lost their lives for the cause of freedom on that infamous day; and

Whereas, on November 7, 1997, a special monument commemorating the Leopoldville Disaster will be dedicated during a solemn ceremony to take place at Fort Benning, Georgia:

Now, therefore, be it resolved that we, the members of the Missouri House of Representatives, Eighty-ninth General Assembly, join unanimously in expressing our heartfelt gratitude to all those courageous, young Americans, including those who perished and those who survived, for the enormous sacrifice they had made and the unparalleled bravery they had displayed as soldiers committed to pride, honor, loyalty, and duty despite the horrors of war; and

Be it further resolved that the Chief Clerk of the Missouri House of Representatives be instructed to prepare a properly inscribed copy of this resolution for presentation during the forthcoming dedication ceremony.

On motion of Representative Backer, Rule 63 was suspended and House Resolution No. 4 was adopted.

LETTER OF RESIGNATION

August 11, 1997

The Honorable Steve Gaw, Speaker

Missouri House of Representatives

Jefferson City, MO 65101

Dear Speaker Gaw:

Please be informed that I hereby resign my position as State Representative of the 3rd Legislative District of the Missouri House of Representatives to be official on August 11, 1997 at 12:00 midnight. I will be assuming a new position with the Missouri Department of Economic Development.

I am deeply honored to have served with you and the many present and past members of the Missouri General Assembly. My tenure in the House has been a wonderful experience.

I take with me from the past eleven years many marvelous experiences and friendships. I believe with all my heart that the Missouri House of Representatives is the "peoples legislative body." We are a 163-member microcosm of this state. We reflect the opinions and positions of the 32,000 people we represent in our respective legislative districts. Running for office every two years continues to keep us in constant touch with the opinions, feelings, and thoughts of our constituents. The two-year term and the fact that we are always running for office is not a detriment. It makes us more politically reflective of the people we represent. It is the reason that we are the lower body and truly the "peoples house." We must always work to protect that.

We must all continue to work tirelessly to bring government closer to the people. In doing so, it is our responsibility to make government and public service something of which to be proud. I know that I certainly am.

I appreciate all that you and your staff have done for me and if I can ever by of any assistance in my new position, please don't hesitate to call upon me.

Respectfully submitted,

/s/ Phil Tate

HB 4 - Local Government and Related Matters

On motion of Representative Gratz, the House recessed until 1:00 p.m.

AFTERNOON SESSION

The hour of recess having expired, the House was called to order by Representative Scheve.

Prayer by Father Hugh Behan.

"Pleasant words are like a honeycomb, sweetness to the soul, and health to the body." (Proverbs 16:24).

Today we continue the reflection on the deaths of Diana, Princess of Wales and Mother Teresa of India. The one who was 87 years of age, cheated death often and had completed more than her life's work, the other, who was only 36 was cheated by death when it looked like she might finally be allowed to be herself. Ironically, the one, a foreign missionary in a non-Christian country will be given a state funeral with military honors, and is being treated as a queen, the other a princess, the probable mother of a future king, was treated to an awkward reluctance to break with protocol. Gracious God, may this worldwide lesson help us in our daily lives, to do what is best, to follow our hearts, to be surprised by your mysterious ways of bringing good out of evil and of teaching us lessons about your ultimate authority over our lives and that final accounting of our stewardship over the loan you give us of our days, our talents and energy. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

Speaker Gaw assumed the Chair.

The Journal of the first day was approved as corrected by the following vote:

THIRD DAY, Wednesday, September 10, 1997

Prayer by Reverend Cheryl L. Tatham.

"O God of forgiveness, as the work of this House continues this week, may these Representatives sense your presence in a profound way. Each heart here feels the need of reassurance and affirmation in stands taken on difficult issues. When the needs and welfare of people are at stake, let each one here consider prayerfully what their conscience leads them to do.

Even as our world faces daily the struggle of war, hatred, greed and divisiveness, lend to these proceedings your guidance so that loving choices might be made.

In all things, O Lord, let us consider the real people whose lives our decisions affect and let us act with love and compassion for all your people, young and old, male and female, of all races, economic status, religious belief or political convictions, hear our prayers, O God, justice and mercy. Amen."

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the second day was approved as corrected.

FIFTH DAY, Friday, September 12, 1997

Prayer by Father Hugh Behan.

"Where your treasure is, there will your heart be also." (Lk. 12:34)

I spotted this T shirt message last week "Unless you practice, you have no right to the dream." That challenging message can apply to our lives, to our work here, to the nation, to our religious communities.

Too often, Eternal Father, we forget that we are locked in time, one day at a time, and we need patience with ourselves, and with others until we get it right. Some of the cynicism about politics and about organized religion, and about our other institutions is from our not understanding that the practice is not over, and the dream is coming.

Press us forward, with your gentle but persistent prodding, gracious God, with more and better practice, but give us that patient understanding with ourselves and others who are still working at it. When the underbelly of our personal and institutional lives may be ugly at times, inspire us to suit up and get out there to practice, focusing our eyes, and lifting our hearts, up to the dream, the ideal that is set before us. Amen."

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the fourth day was approved as corrected.

SIXTH DAY, Wednesday, September 17, 1997

Prayer by Reverend Cheryl L. Tatham.

"Lord, the smell and the feel and the appearance of Your creation around us heralds the approach of Fall. As we enter into these waning days of this year, let us seek Your counsel in all that we do.

We are beginning to understand that the things that are wrong with our world are the sum total of all the things that are wrong with us as individuals. O God, we know perfectly well the things we SHOULD do; our trouble is that we do not want to do them. Our only hope is in You.

We ask Your presence with those whose loved ones lives have been taken in the crashes of planes and helicopters this week. Tragedy never seems very far away. Keep us mindful of and prayerful for those who grieve.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

LETTER OF OBJECTION

September 15, 1997

Ms. Anne Walker

Chief Clerk

Jefferson City, Missouri 65101

Dear Chief Clerk:

I am filing a constitutional objection on this day, Monday, September 15, 1997, regarding Senate Bill 7 as introduced by Senator John Schneider for the following reasons:

The Governor of the State of Missouri called the Missouri General Assembly into Special Session on Monday, September 8, 1997, with specific issues to be addressed. Those issues were limited to the Branson sales tax and the legislation addressing the economic development bill vetoed by the Governor this summer.

On Monday, September 8, 1997, Senator John Schneider introduced Senate Bill 7, relating to the Joint Committee on Administrative Rules. On this same day, the bill was first read. On Tuesday, September 9, 1997, Senate Bill 7 was second read and assigned to the Judiciary Committee. A committee meeting was held on Wednesday, September 10, 1997, at 10:00 a.m. Senate Bill 7 was voted out of the Judiciary Committee on Thursday, September 11, 1997, and both perfected and third read on Thursday, September 11, 1997. The House of Representatives received the message on Thursday, September 11, 1997.

The Governor of the State of Missouri did not expand the call to include the issue of the Joint Committee on Administrative Rules for the Special Session until Wednesday, September 10, 1997, at 8:10 p.m.

Therefore, Senate Bill 7 is not valid, as Article III, Section 39(7) says the General Assembly does not have power "to act, when convened in extra session by the Governor, upon subjects other than those specially designed in the proclamation calling said session or recommended by special message to the General Assembly after the convening of an extra session." As explained in the above paragraphs, Senate Bill 7 was clearly not within the call of the Governor when it was first read on September 8, 1997, and second read on September 9, 1997.

Missouri cases establish that the General Assembly cannot, at an extra session, transcend the limits of the subject submitted to it by the Governor's special message. This is mandatory, not discretionary.

The action by the Missouri Senate in acting outside the Special Session call by first reading, second reading, assigning to committee and reporting out of committee Senate Bill 7 clearly is prohibited by the Constitution of the State of Missouri. The revised call made by the Governor of Missouri on Wednesday, September 10, at 8:10 p.m. makes the aforementioned actions by the Missouri Senate invalid. There is no provision in the Constitution of the State of Missouri which allows the legislative process to be retroactive in regard to a Special Session.

The legislative actions on Senate Bill 7 occurred before the bill's subject was within the scope of the call of the Special Session. Therefore, the actions are invalid, and Senate Bill 7 must not be considered by the House of Representatives.

Sincerely,

/s/ Gracia Yancey Backer

---

SEVENTH DAY, Thursday, September 18, 1997

Prayer by Father Hugh Behan.

"Some put their trust in chariots, some in horses, but we boast of God's name." (Ps. 20:8)

One of the amusing stories of our Missouri History is about the huge official Seal of the State of Missouri which is on display in the Secretary of State's office. The story goes that it was made so large to prevent it from being hauled off in a saddle bag so some usurper could not ride out of town on his horse, as was done during some troubled days of the last century.

There is nothing new gracious God, about constitutional crises, and political disagreements. It was ever thus and will be at least for another one hundred years, but even that statement will cause me some trouble with those who think that it will be all over by the year 2000.

As we go home today, or whenever, may we have the perspective that comes from taking the long view, and a memory of someone trying to load the State Seal for a wild Bronco ride through the Ozarks. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Ben Wood and Kevin Coombs.

The Journal of the sixth day was approved as corrected by the following vote:

Prayer by Father Hugh Behan.

"You God reign for ever; you established your throne to rule the word with justice and judge all peoples rightly." (Ps. 9:8, ICEL test).

I got a whole different understanding of immigration when I visited the Ulster Folk Museum near my parental home in Northern Ireland a few years ago. They offer a tour of a replica of a boat which the exiles traveled into the United States and described the conditions. I since read about the conditions on the slave ships from Africa.

Eternal God who "judges all things rightly" as our Psalm verse says today, those ships are a metaphor for our own life. As we debate economic issues we ask for your wisdom, Lord God, to help us take care of our own citizens who travel in the lower decks, while too may of us go first class gold star. May we lift up the whole boat, lifting those below deck above water whose condition is sometimes caused by their own failures, but often caused by those who are greedy and drive them below from their rightful place above deck and keep them there or use them for their own profit as economic slaves.

We pray for a restful weekend at home after a harrowing special session here. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Jon Albert, Ashleigh Michelle Haslag, Timothy Joseph Struemph, Caitlin Hill and Robert Siedhoff.

The Journal of the seventh day was approved as printed.

VETO SESSION

FIRST DAY, Wednesday, September 10, 1997

Prayer by Reverend Cheryl L. Tatham.

"O God of forgiveness, as the work of this House continues this week, may these Representatives sense your presence in a profound way. Each heart here feels the need of reassurance and affirmation in stands taken on difficult issues. When the needs and welfare of people are at stake, let each one here consider prayerfully what their conscience leads them to do.

Even as our world faces daily the struggle of war, hatred, greed and divisiveness, lend to these proceedings your guidance so that loving choices might be made.

In all things, O Lord, let us consider the real people whose lives our decisions affect and let us act with love and compassion for all your people, young and old, male and female, of all races, economic status, religious belief or political convictions, hear our prayers, O God, justice and mercy. Amen."

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Page for the Day, to serve without compensation: Andrew Charles Bennett.

RESOLUTION

Representative Backer offered House Resolution No. 1.

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 1

BE IT RESOLVED, that the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives inform the Governor and the Senate that the House is duly convened and is now in session in the 1997 Constitutional Veto Session and ready for consideration of business.

On motion of Representative Backer, Rule 63 was suspended and House Resolution No. 1 was adopted by the following vote:

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR

OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR

State of Missouri

Jefferson City

TO THE SECRETARY OF STATE OF THE STATE OF MISSOURI

Herewith I return to you Conference Committee Substitute for House Bill No. 6 entitled:

"AN ACT"

To appropriate money for the expenses, grants, refunds, and distributions of the Department of Agriculture, Department of Natural Resources, Department of Conservation, and the several divisions and programs thereof and for the expenses, grants, refunds, distributions, and capital improvements projects involving the repair, replacement and maintenance of state buildings and facilities of the Department of Natural Resources and the several divisions and programs thereof to be expended only as provided in Article IV, Section 28 of the Constitution of Missouri, and to transfer money among certain funds, for the period beginning July 1, 1997 and ending June 30, 1998.

Section 6.078

I hereby veto $70,000 for the pivot irrigation system for the University of Missouri Delta Center Facility. The remaining $180,000 provided for a cotton picker is sufficient to carry out research on cotton, a major crop of the bootheel region. Recent progress in eradicating the boll weevil makes this an appropriate and timely investment. In the future, subsequent funding for this and all agriculture experiment stations of the University of Missouri system should be left to the discretion and priorities of the Board of Curators.

Said section is vetoed by $70,000 from $250,000 to $180,000 from General Revenue Fund. From $250,000 to $180,000 in total for the section.

Section 6.369

The words "contingent upon passage of HB 288, an act of the 89th General Assembly, First Regular Session" are deleted and not approved for the reason that they are null and void because the inclusion of legislation of a general character within an appropriations bill is prohibited by the Missouri Constitution in Article III, Section 23. Moreover, Article IV, Section 23 of the Missouri Constitution prohibits referencing other laws to fix the amount or purpose of an appropriation. This restrictive language could limit the ability of the Department of Natural Resources to receive $22 million in federal grants for Missouri drinking water systems.

On June 26, 1997, I approved said Conference Committee Substitute for House Bill No. 6, except for those items specifically vetoed and not approved.

Respectfully submitted,

/s/ Mel Carnahan

Governor

TO THE SECRETARY OF STATE OF THE STATE OF MISSOURI

Herewith I return to you Conference Committee Substitute for House Bill No. 7 entitled:

"AN ACT"

To appropriate money for the expenses, grants, refunds, and distributions of the Department of Economic Development, Department of Insurance, and the Department of Labor and Industrial Relations, and the several divisions and programs thereof to be expended only as provided in Article IV, Section 28 of the Constitution of Missouri, and to transfer money among certain funds for the period beginning July 1, 1997 and ending June 30, 1998.

Section 7.895

I hereby veto $2 E for the Missouri Commission on Human Rights and language which states that "Prior approval to exceed stated amounts of federal funds must be granted by the House Budget Committee Chair and Senate Appropriations Committee Chair." The approval language is null and void because such authority is reserved to the executive branch in accordance with Article IV, Section 28 of the Missouri Constitution. The Governor and the General Assembly can consider any additional funding needs in the Fiscal Year 1998 supplemental appropriations bill.

Personal Service by $1 E from $552,678 E to $552,677 Federal Funds.

Expense and Equipment by $1 E from $151,078 E to $151,077 Federal Funds.

From $703,756 E to $703,754 in total from Federal Funds.

From $2,086,287 to $2,086,285 in total for the section.

On June 26, 1997, I approved said Conference Committee Substitute for House Bill No. 7, except for those items specifically vetoed and not approved.

Respectfully submitted,

/s/ Mel Carnahan

Governor

TO THE SECRETARY OF STATE OF THE STATE OF MISSOURI

Herewith I return to you Conference Committee Substitute for House Bill No. 8 entitled:

"AN ACT"

To appropriate money for the expenses, grants, refunds, and distributions of the Department of Public Safety, and the several divisions and programs thereof to be expended only as provided in Article IV, Section 28 of the Constitution of Missouri, for the period beginning July 1, 1997 and ending June 30, 1998.

Section 8.130

I hereby veto $85,349 for additional clerks and equipment for the Highway Patrol Troop D satellite communication operation in Carthage. While numerous dispatch centers were required in the past to provide statewide coverage, new technology permits efficient and effective radio communication through consolidated facilities. Additional staff at the Carthage station are unnecessary when services can be provided as effectively through the Troop D Headquarters in Springfield.

From $12,988,453 to $12,903,104 in total from the State Highways and Transportation Department Fund.

From $15,873,072 to $15,787,723 in total for the section.

On June 26, 1997, I approved said Conference Committee Substitute for House Bill No. 8, except for the item specifically vetoed and not approved.

Respectfully submitted,

/s/ Mel Carnahan

Governor

TO THE SECRETARY OF STATE OF THE STATE OF MISSOURI

Herewith I return to you Conference Committee Substitute for House Bill No. 9 entitled:

"AN ACT"

To appropriate money for the expenses, grants, refunds, and distributions of the Department of Corrections and the several divisions and programs thereof to be expended only as provided in Article IV, Section 28 of the Constitution of Missouri, for the period beginning July 1, 1997 and ending June 30, 1998.

Section 9.500

I hereby veto $10,800 for a salary adjustment for Probation and Parole Officer II's. Fiscal Year 1998 will be the second year of a multi-year process of evaluating state employee pay and bringing it into line with the market. The Commission on Management and Productivity and the Ad Hoc Task Force on Total Compensation have comprehensively assessed state employee pay and benefits. A number of specific proposals for special Fiscal Year 1998 pay increases were evaluated and rejected by the Ad Hoc Task Force on Total Compensation. This proposal was not submitted in accordance with the process and would most likely have been rejected if it has been reviewed. The language included in the section references "reclassification." The funding provided is not sufficient to accomplish a reclassification and doing so would contribute to a dilution of the state's measured efforts to move towards equitable marketplace compensation for all employees.

Personal Service by $10,800 from $13,404,952 to $13,394,152.

From $23,670,135 to $23,659,335 in total for the section.

Section 9.505

I hereby veto $494,454 for a salary adjustment for Probation and Parole Officer I's. Fiscal Year 1998 will be the second year of a multi-year process of evaluating state employee pay and bringing it into line with the market. The Commission on Management and Productivity and the Ad Hoc Task Force on Total Compensation have comprehensively assessed state employee pay and benefits. A number of specific proposals for special Fiscal Year 1998 pay increases were evaluated and rejected by the Ad Hoc Task Force on Total Compensation. This proposal was not submitted in accordance with the process and would most likely have been rejected if it has been reviewed. The language included in the section references "reclassification." The funding provided is not sufficient to accomplish a reclassification and doing so would contribute to a dilution of the state's measured efforts to move towards equitable marketplace compensation for all employees.

Personal Service by $494,454 from $27,524,526 to $27,030,072.

From $27,524,526 to $27,030,072 in total for the section.

On June 26, 1997, I approved said Conference Committee Substitute for House Bill No. 9, except for those items specifically vetoed and not approved.

Respectfully submitted,

/s/ Mel Carnahan

Governor

TO THE SECRETARY OF STATE OF THE STATE OF MISSOURI

Herewith I return to you Conference Committee Substitute for House Bill No. 11 entitled:

"AN ACT"

To appropriate money for the expenses, grants, and distributions of the Department of Social Services and the several divisions and programs thereof to be expended only as provided in Article IV, Section 28 of the Constitution of Missouri, for the period beginning July 1, 1997, and ending June 30, 1998.

Section 11.008

I hereby veto $2,043,348, including $1,369,044 general revenue, for 60 caseworkers, 16.6 clerk typists and six income maintenance supervisors in the Division of Family Services (DFS). The purpose of expanding this DFS staff is to reduce the caseload size for caseworkers. Since 1993, the number of families receiving Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF), formerly Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC), has decreased by over 22 percent with the total number of recipients decreasing by over 27 percent. The Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act of 1996 requires TANF recipients to work, which should cause the welfare caseloads to drop even more. Without knowing what effects this new federal welfare reform law may have on caseloads, adding staff would be contrary to the current effort to allocate state resources in the most effective and efficient manner. In addition, state resources are being invested in the FAMIS computer system, which will assist DFS workers by streamlining their data input and output systems.

Program Specific Distribution by $1,369,044 from $19,369,044 to $18,000,000 in total from General Revenue Fund.

From $56,143,348 to $54,100,000 in total for the section.

Section 11.125

I hereby veto $610,947 including $491,588 general revenue for eight County Directors, 16.01 clerk typists and six income maintenance workers in the Division of Family Services (DFS). The purpose of providing these positions is to place a County Director in every DFS county office in the state, and to provide support for the caseworkers working in the DFS county offices. Since 1993, the number of families receiving TANF has decreased by over 22 percent, with the total number of recipients decreasing by over 27 percent. The Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act of 1996 requires TANF recipients to work, which should cause the welfare caseloads to drop even more. Without knowing what effects this new federal welfare reform law may have on caseloads, adding staff would be contrary to the current effort to allocate state resources in the most effective and efficient manner. In addition, state resources are being invested in the FAMIS computer system, which will assist DFS workers by streamlining their data input and output systems.

Personal Service by $469,908 from $8,779,191 to $8,309,283.

From $9,476,855 to $8,985,267, in total from General Revenue Fund.

Personal Service by $102,545 from $22,402,813 to $22,300,268.

Expense and Equipment by $16,814 from $1,286,921 to $1,270,107.

From $23,736,368 to $23,617,009 in total from Federal Funds.

From $33,433,328 to $32,822,381 in total for the section.

Section 11.126

I hereby veto $901,122 general revenue for 44.33 caseworkers in the Division of Family Services (DFS). The purpose of expanding this DFS staff is to reduce the caseload size for caseworkers. Since 1993, the number of families receiving Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF), formerly called AFDC, has decreased by over 22 percent with the total number of persons decreasing by over 27 percent. The Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act of 1996 requires TANF recipients to work, which should cause the welfare caseloads to drop even more. Without knowing what effects this new federal welfare reform law may have on caseloads, adding staff would be contrary to the current effort to allocate state resources in the most effective and efficient manner. In addition, state resources are being invested in the FAMIS computer system, which will assist DFS workers by streamlining their data input and output systems.

Personal Service by $901,122 from $20,315,822 to $19,414,700.

From $21,408,650 to $20,507,528 in total from General Revenue Fund.

From $75,110,071 to $74,208,949 in total for the section.

On June 26, 1997, I approved said Conference Committee Substitute for House Bill No. 11, except for those items specifically vetoed and not approved.

Respectfully submitted,

Section 13.115

I hereby veto $170,180, including $122,530 general revenue, for leased space for Division of Family Services' staff vetoed from House Bill 11.

Expense and Equipment by $122,530 from $8,464,903 to $8,342,373 in total from General Revenue Fund.

Expense and Equipment by $47,650 from $6,590,762 to $6,543,112 in total from Federal Funds.

From $15,828,608 to $15,658,428 in total for the section.

On June 26,1997, I approved said Senate Committee Substitute for House Bill No. 13, except for those items specifically vetoed and not approved.

To appropriate money for capital improvement projects involving the maintenance, repair, replacement, and improvement of state buildings and facilities, including installation, modification and renovation of facility components, equipment or systems, and to transfer money among certain funds.

Section 17.195

I hereby veto $348,739 for the appropriated transfer of funds from general revenue to the office of administration revolving administrative trust fund. The General Assembly eliminated funding from the office of administration revolving administrative trust fund for a specific project but the appropriated transfer from the general revenue fund was not decreased accordingly.

From $1,890,891 to $1,542,152 in total from General Revenue Fund.

From $1,890,891 to $1,542,152 in total for the section.

TO THE SECRETARY OF STATE OF THE STATE OF MISSOURI

Herewith I return to you Senate Committee Substitute for House Committee Substitute for House Bill No. 18 entitled.

"AN ACT"

To appropriate money for planning, expenses, and for capital improvements including but not limited to major additions and renovations, new structures, and land improvements

Section 18.035

I hereby veto $900,000 lottery proceeds fund for equipment purchases at Ozark Technical Community College. These funds were not part of my original budget and were not recommended by the Coordinating Board for Higher Education. A competitive process exists, which should be used, within the Department of Elementary and Secondary Education to prioritize such equipment needs. Individual projects may be a significant value but the array of projects with substantial future costs approved by the General Assembly is so great that the number must be reduced because I cannot ensure that revenues will be sufficient to support capital expenditures of this magnitude. The unfunded state request for this project is $1,080,000.

Said section is vetoed in its entirety from $900,000 to $0 in total from Lottery Proceeds Fund.

Section 18.040

I hereby veto $120,000 general revenue for planning, design, and construction of a child care center at Three Rivers Community College. These funds were not part of my original budget, were not recommended by the Coordinating Board of Higher Education, and the project has a substantial future cost. Individual projects may be of significant value but the array of projects with substantial future costs approved by the General Assembly is so great that the number must be reduced because I cannot ensure that revenues will be sufficient to support capital expenditures of this magnitude. The unfunded state request for this project is $27,200,000.

Said section is vetoed in its entirety from $350,000 to $0 in total from General Revenue Fund.

From $350,000 to $0 in total for the section.

On June 26, 1997, I approved said Senate Committee Substitute for House Committee Substitute for House Bill No. 18, except for those items specifically vetoed and not approved.

Respectfully submitted,

TO THE SECRETARY OF STATE OF THE STATE OF MISSOURI

Herewith I return to you Senate Committee Substitute for House Committee Substitute for House Bill No. 214 entitled:

"AN ACT"

Relating to certain merchandising practices.

The primary purposes of this bill are to provide procedures for hearing and decision of disputes between motorcycle franchisees and franchisors before the Administrative Hearing Commission, to establish standards of motorcycle franchise practice, and to require manufacturers and wholesalers of motorcycles and all-terrain vehicles to repurchase unused inventory from dealers in certain situations, as well as to adhere to other standards of franchise practice.

As the bill is drafted, technical errors exist within Section 4 and in the provisions of the bill referencing Section 4. The bill contains references to provisions in Section 4 which do not exist. While I am supportive of the policies this bill would enact, the technical flaws make this bill impossible to implement.

For the above and foregoing reasons, Senate Committee Substitute for House Committee Substitute for House Bill No. 214 is returned and not approved.

Respectfully submitted,

/s/ Mel Carnahan

TO THE SECRETARY OF STATE OF THE STATE OF MISSOURI

Herewith I return to you Conference Committee Substitute for Senate Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute for House Bill No. 259 entitled:

"AN ACT"

To repeal section 409.402, RSMo 1994, and section 409.401 as enacted by house committee substitute for senate bill no. 375 of the first regular session of the eighty-ninth general assembly, relating to settlement of life insurance policies, and to enact in lieu thereof thirty-seven new sections relating to the same subject, with penalty provisions.

I disapprove of Conference Committee Substitute for Senate Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute for House Bill No. 259. My reasons for disapproval are as follows: The bill mandates requirements that while intended to protect the consumer would actually create unwarranted fear on the part of the consumer and harm the reputation and business of companies who are in good standing and in compliance with the insurance laws of this state.

For the above and foregoing reasons, Conference Committee Substitute for Senate Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute for House Bill No. 259 is returned and not approved.

Respectfully submitted,

Herewith I return to you House Bill No. 301 entitled:

"AN ACT"

To repeal section 143.183, RSMo 1994, relating to state income tax revenues from certain nonresidents, and to enact in lieu thereof one new section relating to the same subject.

I disapprove House Bill 301. My reasons for disapproval are as follows: This bill would have the effect of spending the same general revenue dollars twice. The revenue that is designated to specific funds by this bill has already been allocated to other general revenue core appropriations.

For the above and foregoing reasons, House Bill No. 301 is returned and not approved.

Respectfully submitted,

Veto Session

SECOND DAY, Thursday, September 11, 1997

Prayer by Reverend Cheryl L. Tatham.

"It's hard, O Lord, to think about the worries of the world when we've got our own worries right here in Jefferson City. It's hard to think about the wars going on in foreign lands when we're fighting our own wars here on the floor of this House. It's hard to think about the poor when most of us never miss a meal or walk any farther than we desire to or ever wonder where we'll lay our heads to sleep. Humble us, O God, and remind us that the better part of the world is in much worse shape than we.

Give us compassion to see beyond our own agendas and concerns. Give us vision to seek justice for all. Grant us the wisdom to know when to speak and when to be silent; when to say no and when to say yes; help us know when to act and when to wait. Your plan for this world is so much grander than we can ever imagine so let us put aside pettiness, bitterness, angry words and harsh deeds. May our actions speak of respect for one another and love for you. May it be so, Amen."

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

Representative Backer offered House Resolution No. 3 (2064).

Whereas, for a decade the readers and listeners of Missouri have been informed and enlightened by the reporting of Carl Manning; and

Whereas, Carl Manning has spent more than two decades covering the globe for The Associated Press, the world's largest newsgathering organization; and

Whereas, Carl Manning's reporting experiences have ranged from the Mexico City earthquake to the quake that didn't happen despite Iben Browning's prediction in the New Madrid Fault Zone; and

Whereas, Carl Manning's knowledge of Spanish mingled with his Tennessee twang give him unique qualifications as a reporter in Latin America; and

Whereas, Carl Manning's particular expertise as an AP reporter has been specialized in covering statehouses in Tennessee, Pennsylvania, and Missouri, and taste-testing the free coffee in each Capitol; and

Whereas, Carl Manning's style is distinctive, from his cowboy boots unique among the Missouri press corps to his half glasses over which his unblinking gaze makes interview subjects shrink; and

Whereas, Carl Manning's six-year commuter marriage has made him Missouri's unrivaled expert on the back roads between Kansas City and Jefferson City; and

Whereas, Carl Manning's hard-hitting interview style is more than offset by his Southern gentleman's courtesy and manners; and

Whereas, Carl Manning is moving to a new assignment with the AP bureau in Topeka, Kansas, after a decade of plowing the journalistic fields of Missouri:

Now, therefore, be it resolved that we, the members of the Missouri House of Representatives, Eighty-ninth General Assembly, unanimously join in expressing sincere appreciation and deep gratitude to Carl Manning for the outstanding manner in which he has met his obligations to the people of Missouri over the years and in wishing him only the best as he looks forward to new challenges as a reporter assigned to Missouri's neighboring state; and

Be it further resolved that the Chief Clerk of the Missouri House of Representatives be instructed to prepare a properly inscribed copy of this resolution for Carl Manning.
